630 CHESTNUT STREET.

Philadelphia, March, 1876.

In presenting our New Fall Catalogue to the Trade, at this interesting period in the Nation's history, it is but natural that we should refer to our own record of nearly half the century, which we this year celebrate, and to the fact that our house was the Pioneer of the Bible and Album trade in America.

Having, by almost fifty years of the closest application, established the present extensive business, we can confidently assure our friends and customers that the good reputation gained by us in all these years shall continue to be deserved. Our aim will ever be to maintain for our publications the highest standard of excellence; and we shall give our friends the full benefit of our long experience in the business.

We would call especial attention to the New Editions of Pulpit and Family Bibles, and the New Lines of Photograph Albums, which we have brought out this season. They will be found very handsome and quite low in price.

The entire list has been revised and corrected to date, and appears in a new typographical dress of great beauty.

The OXFORD EDITIONS of the Bible have a world-wide reputation for excellence of typography, beauty of finish and superior quality throughout. Mr. HARDING, having made a special and large importation of sheets, is enabled to offer the above list of Bibles at much lower prices than have ever before been asked for these fine editions. Great confidence is felt that the Bindings will be found quite equal to anything issued by either the London or Oxford publishers.

HARDING'S

PATENT FLEXIBLE CHAIN-BACK ALBUMS.

The superiority of the "HARDING PATENT FLEXIBLE CHAIN-BACK ALBUM" over all others heretofore manufactured will, upon the slightest examination, be apparent to all.

The links will not break nor cut by opening and closing the book, as each link forms a half circle around the edge of an intervening leaf when the book is closed, and is nearly straight when the book is opened.

The leaves are interlocked in such manner that they are held firmly in their places, and cannot slip over each other, or move in any other direction than the way intended for opening and closing the book, and when opened will lay perfectly flat, without regard to the part of the book which is opened.

The back, although possessing greater strength, is more elastic and flexible than that of any other Album now offered to the public, and is constructed in such a manner that it will always keep its original shape.

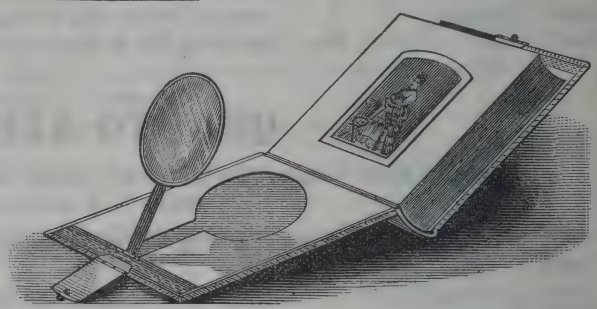
Novelties IN ALBUMS

Optical AND Photographic COMBINATIONS.

THE STEREOSCOPIC ALBUM.



This is an ALBUM FOR STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS, to which is attached a FIRST-CLASS STEREOSCOPE, made to fold up with the Album. It is a much more convenient arrangement than that afforded by the ordinary stereoscope, as the pictures are always in the right position, and do not have to be moved. When closed, the Stereoscopic Album presents the appearance of a handsome book. The engraving represents the Album open for use. By an ingenious sliding arrangement, the stereoscope can be adjusted to suit the eyes of the person using it.

THE GRAPHOSCOPIC ALBUM.

This is a Photograph Album with a powerful lens attached, to answer the same purpose as the more expensive Graphoscope. The lens is arranged to fold inside of the cover when not in use. Its great convenience, its attractive appearance, and its wonderful capacity in furnishing amusement and pleasure, combine to make it a very desirable article. The Graphoscopic Album is bound in Turkey Morocco, $6 00; and in Russia, extra, $7 00.

it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; [n]and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it [o]my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAP. XI.

2 The two witnesses prophesy. 6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not. 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them, &c.

AND there was given me [a]a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, [b]Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But [c]the court which is without the temple, †leave out, and measure it not; [d]for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they [e]tread under foot [f]forty and two months.

3 And ‖I will give power unto my two [g]witnesses, [h]and they shall prophesy [i]a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the [k]two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, [l]fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: [m]and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These [n]have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and [o]have power over waters to turn them into blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

CHAP. III.

1 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encourageth him.

MOREOVER he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; [a]eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I [b]eat it; and it was in my mouth [c]as honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

6 Not to many people † of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not

Christ, and the consideration of the general end that now approacheth: 12 and comforteth them against persecution. [ANNO DOMINI 60.]

FORASMUCH then [a] as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for [b] he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2 [c] That he no longer [d] should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, [e] but to the will of God.

3 [f] For the time past of our life may suffice us [g] to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lust, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, [h] speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready [i] to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For for this cause [k] was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

Christ, happy are ye; for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: [f] on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But [g] let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil-doer, [h] or as a busy-body in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; [i] but let him glorify God on this behalf.

18 [n] And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God [o] commit the keeping of their souls to him in well-doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

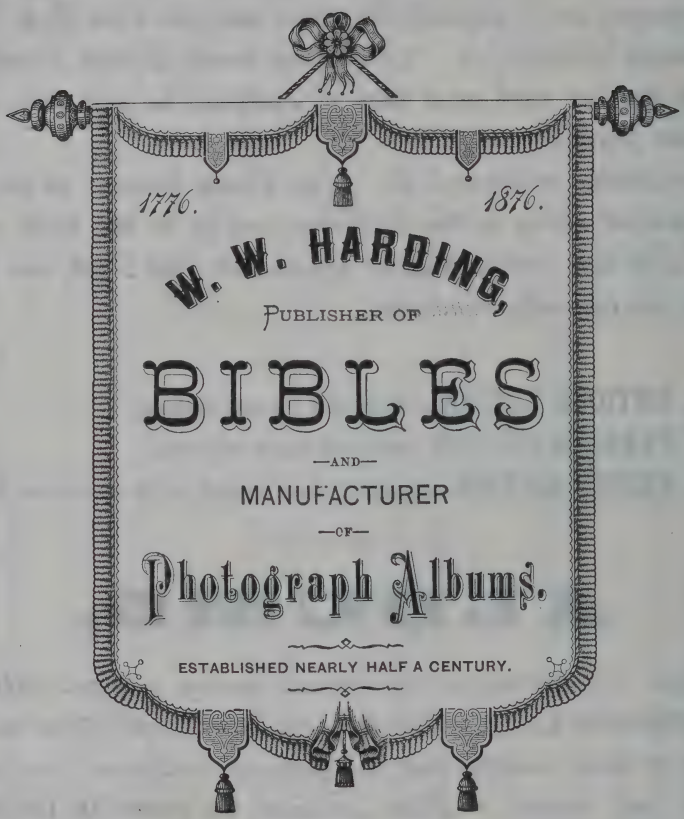
NEW SPRING PUBLICATIONS.

BIBLES.

We have this season added to our already large list the "NEW CROWN QUARTO" edition of the Bible. This beautiful Bible is printed on fine white paper, in a clear handsome type, (double-leaded pica,) with full marginal references, and is elegantly illustrated with fine Steel Plate Engravings, Bible Dictionary, History, &c. It contains nearly Fifteen Hundred Pages, being twenty-five per cent. more than is contained in any other Bibles ever sold at similar prices.

We confidently recommend the "New Crown Quarto" as the most complete and beautiful edition of the Bible ever offered to the trade at the price demanded. The new combinations of Blank and Gold Work, and the Inlaid Monograms, are especially handsome.

THE ANTIQUE EDITION.—PLAIN BUT ELEGANT BINDING.
THE PANELED EDITION.—RICH AND TASTY PATTERNS.
THE PULPIT EDITION.—ESPECIALLY ADAPTED FOR PULPIT OR READING DESK.



ALBUMS.

We have also introduced, the present season, several entirely new series of PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS, embracing Cloth, Velvet and Morocco Bindings, of the most beautiful and tasty patterns, in different sizes and shapes, both quarto and oblong. These Albums are made in the strongest manner out of the best materials, and are finished with Pure Gold Leaf. While they are made better than any other line of Domestic Albums, they compete in price with all others ever placed in the market.

They are manufactured in a great variety of styles, to hold 24, 40, 50 and 100 pictures. Superior in design, quality and finish, they are offered to the jobbing trade at extremely low prices.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY,

DEVOTED TO LITERATURE, SCIENCE, ART, AND POLITICS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1857. — PUBLISHED MONTHLY.

The corps of writers includes the foremost names in American Literature, LONGFELLOW, LOWELL, WHITTIER, HOLMES, HOWELLS, ALDRICH, JAMES, WARNER, BAYARD TAYLOR, MARK TWAIN, MRS. KEMBLE, MISS PRESTON, MISS PHELPS, MRS. THAXTER, and others.

The four departments of LITERATURE, MUSIC, ART, and EDUCATION are filled monthly by vigorous editorial articles and reviews.

THE LEADING CONTRIBUTORS OF THE ATLANTIC WRITE FOR NO OTHER MAGAZINE, and the Managers propose to keep it where it has always stood, at the head of American Literature.

TERMS. — Single or specimen numbers, 35 cents. Yearly subscription, $4.00, in advance.

THE AMERICAN NATURALIST;

A POPULAR ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY MAGAZINE OF NATURAL HISTORY AND TRAVEL.

ESTABLISHED IN 1867.

THIS journal of popular Natural Science is under the editorial management of Dr. A. S. PACKARD, Jr., with the assistance of eminent men of science.

While of a popular nature so as to interest the general reader as well as the young naturalist, it is a journal of science-education and for the use of science-teachers.

THE NATURALIST contains departments of GEOGRAPHY AND TRAVEL, and MICROSCOPY. Arrangements have been made to report the PROCEEDINGS OF SCIENTIFIC SOCIETIES with great promptness. A digest of the CONTENTS OF FOREIGN SCIENTIFIC JOURNALS AND TRANSACTIONS is also given each month, together with the LATEST HOME AND FOREIGN SCIENTIFIC NEWS.

TERMS: — Single numbers, 35 cents. Yearly subscription, $4.00, in advance. Bound volumes, $5.00; vols. I.–IX., $36.00; unbound, $27.00. Back numbers supplied.

THE UNITED STATES OFFICIAL POSTAL GUIDE.

ESTABLISHED IN 1874.

Revised and Published Quarterly by Authority of the Post Office Department.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29, 1874.

The United States Official Postal Guide, published by Messrs. H. O. Houghton & Co., is compiled and published under a contract made with them by the Postmaster General, in pursuance of an Act of Congress approved June 23, 1874, and is the only publication of the kind so authorized. MARSHALL JEWELL, Postmaster General.

Each number contains an Alphabetical List of Post Offices in the United States, with County, State, and Selary; Money-Order Offices, Domestic and International; Letter-Carrier Offices; Chief Regulations of the Post Office Dapartment; Instructions to the Public; Foreign and Domestic Postage Tables, and other valuable information.

TERMS. — Single numbers, 50 cents. Yearly subscription, $1.50, in advance.

THE AMERICAN LAW TIMES AND REPORTS.

ESTABLISHED IN 1868. — PUBLISHED MONTHLY.

THE object of the LAW TIMES AND REPORTS is to place within the reach of every lawyer the Leading Cases upon all questions of a novel character contained in the whole series of current American Reports, in advance of the regular publication. Each monthly part consists of sixty-four large royal octavo pages, divided in two portions, paged independently. The TIMES portion, of sixteen pages, contains RESCRIPTS OF ALL OPINIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES, and a DIGEST OF ALL CASES of value reported in contemporary American legal periodicals, during the preceding month, so arranged that it may be examined with the greatest facility. Also, IMPORTANT UNITED STATES STATUTES, CASES, etc.

The REPORTS occupy the remaining forty-eight pages of each number. These are made up of cases from the United States Supreme and Circuit Courts and courts of last resort of the States, published in advance of the regular series. They are TEST CASES, which decide points that are universally applicable, and they are printed as soon as possible after the decisions are delivered. Frequently more than an entire year is gained in this way.

TERMS. — Single numbers, 50 cents. Yearly subscription, $6.00, in advance. The bound volumes for 1868–1875, being volumes I., II., III., IV., V., and VI., and Vols. I. and II., New Series, will be furnished in law sheep at $6.00 per volume.

THE BOSTON MEDICAL AND SURGICAL JOURNAL.

ESTABLISHED 1828. — PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

The JOURNAL is with one exception the oldest existing Medical Journal, and is thoroughly independent of any local or professional interest. Special attention is paid to the Transactions of Societies, and the reports of Hospital Practice. Reviews of all the new medical books appear promptly. Regular correspondents are employed in various cities in this country and in Europe, and original articles or communications from all quarters are cordially welcomed.

TERMS. — Single numbers, 15 cents. Yearly subscription, $5.00, in advance.

☞ POSTAGE on all the above periodicals is paid by the Publishers. Remittances by mail should be by draft, money-order, or registered letter, to H. O. HOUGHTON AND COMPANY, Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass.

ORANGE JUDD, PRESIDENT. C.C. NORTH, VICE-PRESIDENT. SAMUEL BURNHAM, SECRETARY.

HOW TO REMIT MONEY.

Checks on New York Banks or Bankers are best for large sums, made payable to the order of the Orange Judd Company.

Post-Office Money-Orders may be obtained at nearly every county-seat, in all the cities, and in many of the large towns. We consider them perfectly safe, and the best means of remitting fifty dollars or less, as thousands have been sent to us without any loss.

Registered Letters are a very safe means of sending small sums of money where P. O. Money-Orders can not be easily obtained. Observe, the Registry Fee as well as postage must be paid in stamps at the office where the letter is mailed, or it will be liable to be sent to the Dead-Letter Office. Buy and affix the stamps both for postage and registry, put in the money, and seal the letter in the presence of the postmaster, and take his receipt for it. Letters thus sent to us are at our risk.

Write your letters plainly. Give the name of your Post-Office, County, and State. Write your own name at the bottom of your letters.

Address the letter plainly and correctly to Orange Judd Company, 245 Broadway, New York.

C. O. D.—Express Companies charge for the delivery of books and for returning the money, and both must be paid by the party who orders the books.

The Express charges, both ways, on low-priced books, to remote parts of the country are equal to, and sometimes double, the value of the books ordered; and the delay in returning money frequently extends over several months.

Where parties order books by Express C. O. D., five dollars must be remitted with the order, and the balance, with charges both ways, will be collected on delivery of the books.

IT WILL PAY.

A WORD TO FATHERS AND EMPLOYERS.

It Will Pay to supply yourself, your sons, and your workmen with good books and papers. $10 to $20, or more, expended in this way, will come back every year. Your sons and your workmen will be kept from idleness and mischievous company; they will understand and respect their work more; they will gain new ideas and learn to think and reason better; they will learn to make their heads help their hands; they will labor more intelligently and be happier, because their minds will be developed and they will have something to think about while at work.

Better sell an acre of land, if you have property in land, than not to have these mind-cultivators. Any intelligent man will make more from nine acres than the unintelligent one will from ten acres. Think of this in planning and providing for your sons in the future. Store their growing minds with useful ideas. See to it that interesting and instructive books are always at hand in your home. They will prove of great value to everybody in the household.

It will pay every man, young or old, to provide himself with good books, even if economy has to be practiced in other directions to enable him to do this.

FARM IMPLEMENTS and FARM MACHINERY,

AND THE

Principles of their Construction and Use:

WITH SIMPLE AND PRACTICAL EXPLANATIONS OF THE LAWS OF MOTION AND FORCE AS APPLIED ON THE FARM.

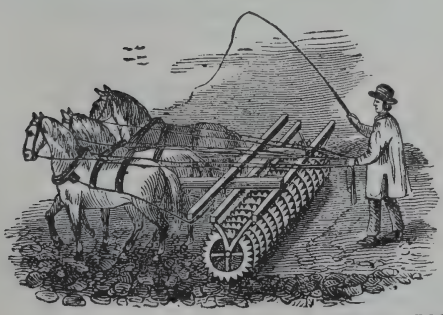
WITH 287 ILLUSTRATIONS.



By JOHN J. THOMAS.

The basis of this admirable work was an essay published in 1850, in the Transactions of the New York State Agricultural Society, which was enlarged, and in 1854 published by the Harpers. It has been, and remains, the only work in which the principles of Natural Philosophy, namely, the mechanical powers, and the powers of water, wind, and heat, are systematically discussed as applied to the operations of the farm.

The work has now been most carefully revised by the author. It is much enlarged, and a great part has been re-written, while the illustrations, before abundant, now number two hundred and eighty-seven. A large number of new implements are described, with the heavier farm machinery; and the use of steam, both in cooking and as power on the farm, is clearly discussed.

CONTENTS:

PART I.—MECHANICS.

CHAPTER I.—INTRODUCTION—Value of Farm Machinery—Importance of a Knowledge of Mechanical Principles.
CHAPTER II.—General Principles of Mechanics.
CHAPTER III.—Attraction.
CHAPTER IV.—Simple Machines.
CHAPTER V.—Application of Mechanical Principles in the Structure of Implements and Machines.
CHAPTER VI.—Friction.
CHAPTER VII.—Principles of Draught.
CHAPTER VIII.—Application of Labor.
CHAPTER IX.—Models of Machines.
CHAPTER X.—Construction and Use of Farm Implements and Machines—Implements of Tillage, Pulverizers.
CHAPTER XI.—Sowing Machines.
CHAPTER XII.—Machines for Haying and Harvesting.
CHAPTER XIII.—Thrashing, Grinding, etc.

PART II.—MACHINERY IN CONNECTION WITH WATER.

CHAPTER I.—Hydrostatics.
CHAPTER II.—Hydraulics.

PART III.—MACHINERY IN CONNECTION WITH AIR.

CHAPTER I.—Pressure of Air.
CHAPTER II.—Motion of Air.

PART IV.—HEAT.

CHAPTER I.—Conducting Power — Expansion, Great Force of — Experiments with — Steam-Engine — Steam-Plows—Latent Heat—Green and Dry Wood.
CHAPTER II.—Radiation.

APPENDIX.

Apparatus for Experiments. Discharge of Water through Pipes. Velocity of Water in Pipes. Rule for Discharge of Water. Velocity of Water in Tile Drains. Glossary.

DRAINING FOR PROFIT

AND

DRAINING FOR HEALTH.

By GEORGE E. WARING, Jr., Engineer of the Drainage of Central Park, New York.

WITH NEARLY FIFTY ILLUSTRATIONS.

CONTENTS: LAND TO BE DRAINED; HOW DRAINS ACT; HOW TO MAKE DRAINS; HOW TO TAKE CARE OF DRAINS; WHAT DRAINING COSTS; WILL IT PAY? HOW TO MAKE TILES; RECLAIMING SALT MARSHES; HOUSE AND TOWN DRAINAGE.

POSITION OF WORKMAN, AND USE OF FINISHING SCOOP.

SIGHTING BY THE BONING-RODS.

He (the author) describes the action of draining upon the soil, the construction of single drains and systems of drains, the cost and the profit of thorough drainage, the making of tiles, and the reclaiming of Salt Marshes, treats sensibly of malarial diseases, and closes with a chapter which should be widely read, on house drainage and town sewerage in their relations to the public health.—Portland (Me.) Press.

EARTH-CLOSETS:

How to Make them, and how to Use them.

By GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

It is sufficiently understood, by all who have given the least thought to the subject, that the waste of the most vital elements of the soil's fertility, through our present practice of treating human excrement as a thing that is to be hurried into the sea or buried in underground vaults, or in some other way put out of sight and out of reach, is full of danger to our future prosperity. Supported as the arguments in this little work are by the most imperative agricultural and sanitary considerations, it is believed that they will commend themselves to the approval of all, in both town and country, who have the well-being of society at heart.

PRICE, POST-PAID, PAPER COVERS, 50 CENTS.

ELEMENTS OF AGRICULTURE.

A BOOK FOR YOUNG FARMERS.

By GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

CAREFULLY REVISED.

CONTENTS: THE PLANT. THE SOIL. MANURES. MECHANICAL CULTIVATION. ANALYSIS.

HORACE GREELEY says of this book: "Though dealing with facts unfamiliar to many, there is no obscure sentence and scarcely a hard word in the book; its 254 fair, open pages may be read in the course of two evenings and thoroughly studied in the leisure hours of a week; and we pity the man or boy, however old or young, who can find it dull reading. Hardly any one is so wise that he will not learn something of value from its perusal; no one is so ignorant or undeveloped that he can not generally understand it; and no farmer or farmer's son can study it thoughtfully without being a better and more successful cultivator than before."

PRICE, POST-PAID $1.00.

NEW AMERICAN FARM BOOK.

ORIGINALLY BY R. L. ALLEN,

Author of "Diseases of Domestic Animals," and formerly Editor of the "American Agriculturist."

REVISED AND ENLARGED BY LEWIS F. ALLEN,

Author of "American Cattle," Editor of the "American Shorthorn Herd-Book," etc

CONTENTS:

INTRODUCTION.—Tillage Husbandry—Grazing—Feeding—Breeding—Planting, etc.

CHAPTER I.—Soils—Classification—Description—Management—Properties.

CHAPTER II.—Inorganic Manures—Mineral—Stone—Earth—Phosphatic.

CHAPTER III.—Organic Manures—Their Composition—Animal—Vegetable.

CHAPTER IV.—Irrigation and Draining.

CHAPTER V.—Mechanical Divisions of Soils—Spading—Plowing—Implements.

CHAPTER VI.—The Grasses—Clovers—Meadows—Pastures—Comparative Values of Grasses—Implements for their Cultivation.

CHAPTER VII.—Grain, and its Cultivation—Varieties—Growth—Harvesting.

CHAPTER VIII.—Leguminous Plants—The Pea—Bean—English Field Bean—Tare or Vetch—Cultivation—Harvesting.

CHAPTER IX.—Roots and Esculents—Varieties—Growth—Cultivation—Securing the Crops—Uses—Nutritive Equivalents of Different Kinds of Forage.

CHAPTER X.—Fruits—Apples—Cider—Vinegar—Pears—Quinces—Peaches—Plums—Apricots—Nectarines—Smaller Fruits—Planting—Cultivation—Gathering—Preserving.

CHAPTER XI.—Miscellaneous Objects of Cultivation, aside from the Ordinary Farm Crops—Broom-corn—Flax—Cotton—Hemp—Sugar-cane—Sorghum—Maple-Sugar—Tobacco—Indigo—Madder—Wood—Sumach—Teasel—Mustard—Hops—Castor Bean.

CHAPTER XII.—Aids and Objects of Agriculture—Rotation of Crops, and their Effects—Weeds—Restoration of Worn-out Soils—Fertilizing Barren Lands—Utility of Birds—Fences—Hedges—Farm Roads—Shade-Trees—Wood Lands—Time of Cutting Timber—Tools—Agricultural Education of the Farmer.

CHAPTER XIII.—Farm Buildings—House—Barn—Sheds—Cisterns—Various other Out-Buildings—Steaming Apparatus.

CHAPTER XIV.—Domestic Animals—Breeding—Anatomy—Respiration—Consumption of Food.

CHAPTER XV.—Neat or Horned Cattle—Devons—Herefords—Ayrshires—Galloways—Shorthorns—Alderneys, or Jerseys—Dutch or Holstein—Management from Birth to Milking, Labor, or Slaughter.

CHAPTER XVI.—The Dairy—Milk—Butter—Cheese—Different Kinds—Manner of Working.

CHAPTER XVII.—Sheep—Merino—Saxon—South-Down—The Long-wooled Breeds—Cotswold—Lincoln—Breeding—Management—Shepherd Dogs.

CHAPTER XVIII.—The Horse—Description of Different Breeds—Their Various Uses—Breeding—Management.

CHAPTER XIX.—The Ass—Mule—Comparative Labor of Working Animals.

CHAPTER XX.—Swine—Different Breeds—Breeding—Rearing—Fattening—Curing Pork and Hams.

CHAPTER XXI.—Poultry—Hens, or Barn-door Fowls—Turkey—Peacock—Guinea Hen—Goose—Duck—Honey-Bees.

CHAPTER XXII.—Diseases of Animals—What Authority shall we Adopt?—Sheep—Swine—Treatment and Breeding of Horses.

CHAPTER XXIII.—Conclusion—General Remarks—The Farmer who Lives by his Occupation—The Amateur Farmer—Sundry Useful Tables.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

It is a volume of over five hundred pages, and in its present shape comprises all that can well be condensed into an available volume of its kind.
Hartford Daily Times.

It has a very wide range of subjects, taking up nearly all matters that are most important to farmers. Comprising the combined wisdom and experience of two eminent agriculturists, it must prove of great value to the class for whom it is prepared.—New York Observer.

It is crammed full of just the information that is wanted, which it is a pleasure to recommend. We know of no better encyclopedia of farming.
New York Independent.

It is something in favor of this work that it has been before the public for many years. The original work was prepared with extraordinary care, and contained a vast amount of general truth that is as applicable now as it was then; it has therefore been made the basis of the present work, which, to all intents and purposes, is new, since it is adapted to the present improved state of agricultural knowledge. Every department is prepared with conscientious care, and with a view of making the work a reliable source of agricultural information. Chicago Republican.

Comprehensive and careful, telling, and telling specifically, just what the tillers of the soil need to know, it will prove of great advantage to all who faithfully follow its counsels in the spirit in which they are given.
Congregationalist and Recorder.

It intelligently and quite fully discusses the various operations of farm life, and is invaluable to all engaged in agriculture. Farmer's Cabinet.

For the young man of rural tastes, but without a training at the plow-handles, who asks for a general guide and instructor that shall be to agriculture what the map of the world is to geography, it is the best manual to print. For the working farmer, who in summer noonings and by the winter fireside would refresh his convictions and reassure his knowledge by old definitions and well-considered summaries, it is the most convenient hand-book. From its double authorship one might expect some show of patch-work, the original statement of the author of 1846 annotated and qualified by the writer of this year. But this has been wisely avoided. The book is a unit, and shows no disparity of style nor contradiction in statement. Practically, it is altogether a recent and timely volume. Only so much of the original Book of the Farm, by R. L Allen, as time could not change, has been adopted by the reviser. New York Tribune

HOW CROPS GROW.

A TREATISE ON THE

Chemical Composition, Structure, and Life of the Plant,

FOR ALL STUDENTS OF AGRICULTURE.

With Numerous Illustrations and Tables of Analyses.

BY SAMUEL W. JOHNSON, M.A.,

Professor of Analytical and Agricultural Chemistry in Yale College; Chemist to the Conn. State Agricultural Society; Member of the National Academy of Sciences

CONTENTS:

The Chemical Composition of the Plant

Is discussed in three Chapters.

1st.—The Volatile Part.

2d.—The Ash—Its Ingredients, their Distribution, Variation, and Quantities. The Composition of the Ash of various Farm Crops, with full Tables, and the Functions of the Ash.

3d.—Composition of the Plant in various Stages of Growth, and the Relations subsisting among the Ingredients.

The Structure of the Plant and the Offices of its Organs

Is the subject of the Second Division, in which are discussed

The Primary Elements of Organic Structure.

The Vegetative Organs—Root, Stem, and Leaf, and their Functions, and

The Reproductive Organs, viz., Flowers and Fruit, and the Vitality of Seeds, with their Influence on the Plants they produce.

The Life of the Plant

Forms the Third Division, under which are discussed the Phenomena of Germination, and the conditions most favorable and unfavorable to it.

The Food of the Plant, when independent of the Seed.

Sap and its Motions, etc., etc.

THE APPENDIX, which consists of 12 Tables, exhibiting the Composition of a great number of Plants, viewed from many different stand-points, will be found of inestimable value to practical agriculturists, students, and theorists.

PRICE, POST-PAID, $2.00.

HOW CROPS FEED.

A TREATISE ON THE

Atmosphere and the Soil as related to the Nutrition of Agricultural Plants.

WITH ILLUSTRATIONS.

Professor of Analytical and Agricultural Chemistry in the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale College; Chemist to the Connecticut State Agricultural Society; Member of the National Academy of Sciences.

The work entitled "How Crops Grow" has been received with very great favor, not only in America, but in Europe. It has been republished in England under the joint editorship of Professors Church and Dyer, of the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencester, and a translation into German has appeared at the instigation of Professor Von Liebig. The author, therefore, puts forth this volume—the companion and complement to the former—with the hope that it also will be welcomed by those who appreciate the scientific aspects of Agriculture, and are persuaded that a true Theory is the surest guide to a successful Practice.

CONTENTS.

DIVISION I.—THE ATMOSPHERE AS RELATED TO VEGETATION.

CHAPTER I.—ATMOSPHERIC AIR AS FOOD OF PLANTS.
CHAPTER II.—THE ATMOSPHERE AS PHYSICALLY RELATED TO VEGETATION.

DIVISION II.—THE SOIL AS RELATED TO VEGETABLE PRODUCTION.

CHAPTER I.—INTRODUCTORY.
CHAPTER II.—ORIGIN AND FORMATION OF SOILS.
CHAPTER III.—KINDS OF SOILS, THEIR DEFINITION AND CLASSIFICATION.
CHAPTER IV.—PHYSICAL CHARACTERS OF THE SOIL.
CHAPTER V.—THE SOIL AS A SOURCE OF FOOD TO CROPS. INGREDIENTS WHOSE ELEMENTS ARE OF ATMOSPHERIC ORIGIN.
CHAPTER VI.—THE SOIL AS A SOURCE OF FOOD TO CROPS. INGREDIENTS WHOSE ELEMENTS ARE DERIVED FROM ROCKS.

Agricultural Qualitative and Quantitative CHEMICAL ANALYSIS.

EDITED BY

C. C. CALDWELL

Professor of Agricultural Chemistry in the Cornell University.

This work is very thorough, beginning with the preparation of reagents, and giving the most approved methods of manipulation. Professor Caldwell modestly calls himself the editor, but his book shows that he has not contented himself with editing the works of others, but has given much of his own experience.

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I.—THE REAGENTS.

Lists of the reagents needed, with directions for preparing them.

CHAPTER II.—ANALYTICAL MANIPULATION.

Determination of specific gravity, solution, evaporation, precipitation, filtration, etc.

CHAPTER III.—REACTIONS AND METHODS OF QUANTITATIVE ESTIMATION.

Potassium, sodium, ammonium, barium, calcium, magnesium, aluminium, iron, manganese, zinc, lead, copper, and arsenic; silicic, sulphuric, carbonic, phosphoric, nitric, hydrochloric, hydrocyanic, hydroferrocyanic, hydrosulphuric acids, etc.

CHAPTER IV.—SPECIAL METHODS OF ANALYSIS.

Course of Qualitative analysis, estimation of water, of organic matter, etc.

CHAPTER V.—ANALYSIS OF SOILS AND ROCKS.

Mechanical and chemical analysis, and examination of physical properties of soils.

CHAPTER VI.—FERTILIZERS.

Farm-yard manure, urine, solid excrements, bone-meal, bone-black, bone-ash, phosphorite, guano, etc.

CHAPTER VII.—ASHES.

Ashes of plants, of animal substances, and of fuel.

CHAPTER VIII.—FODDER AND FOOD.

CHAPTER IX—WOOL AND BARK.

CHAPTER X.—BEVERAGES.

CHAPTER XI.—TABLES.

Metric system of weights and measures, atomic weights of elements, factors for calculating analyses, etc.

Price, post-paid, $2.00.

JOHNSTON'S AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY.

Lectures on the Application of Chemistry and Geology to Agriculture.

By JAS. F. W. JOHNSTON, M.A., F. R. SS. L. & E.

With an appendix containing suggestions for experiments in practical agriculture.

CONTENTS.

PART I.

ON THE ORGANIC CONSTITUENTS OF PLANTS.

Lecture I—Importance of Agriculture.
II—Characteristic properties of organic substances.
III—Carbonic and oxalic acids, their properties and relations.
IV—Source of the organic elements of plants.
V—How does the food enter into the circulation of plants.
VI—Substances of which plants chiefly consist.
VII—Chemical Changes in Plants.
VIII—How the supply of food for Plants is kept up in the general vegetation of the globe.

PART II.

ON THE INORGANIC ELEMENTS OF PLANTS.

Lecture IX—Inorganic constituents of vegetable substances.
X—The same continued.
XI—Nature and origin of soils.
XII—Composition of the granitic rocks, and of their constituent minerals.
XIII—Exact chemical constitution of soils.

PART III.

ON THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE SOIL BY MECHANICAL AND CHEMICAL MEANS.

Lecture XIV—The qualities of the soil may be changed by art.
XV—Improvement of the soil by chemical means.
XVI—Of the use of lime as manure.
XVII—Of organic manures.
XVIII—Animal manures.

Price, post-paid, $1.75.

ELEMENTS OF AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY AND GEOLOGY.

GARDENING FOR PROFIT

IN THE MARKET AND FAMILY GARDEN.

By PETER HENDERSON.

FINELY ILLUSTRATED.

This is the first work on Market Gardening ever published in this country. Its author is well known as a market gardener of eighteen years' successful experience. In this work he has recorded this experience, and given, without reservation, the methods necessary to the profitable culture of the commercial or

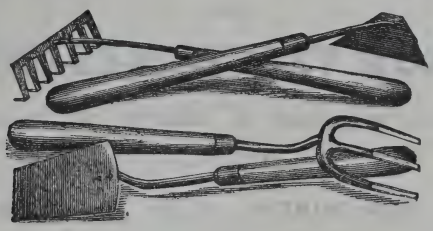
MARKET GARDEN.

It is a book which commends itself, not only to those who grow vegetables for sale, but to the cultivator of the

FAMILY GARDEN,

to whom it presents methods quite different from the old ones generally practiced. It is an ORIGINAL AND PURELY AMERICAN work, and not made up, as books on gardening too often are, by quotations from foreign authors.

Everything is made perfectly plain, and the subject treated in all its details, from the selection of the soil to preparing the products for market



CONTENTS:

Men fitted for the Business of Gardening.
The Amount of Capital required, and Working Force per Acre.
Profits of Market Gardening.
Location, Situation, and Laying-out.
Soils, Drainage, and Preparation.
Manures, Implements.
Uses and Management of Cold Frames.
Formation and Management of Hot-Beds.
Forcing Pits or Green-houses.
Seeds and Seed-Raising.

GARDENING FOR PLEASURE.

A GUIDE TO THE AMATEUR IN THE Fruit, Vegetable, and Flower Garden,

WITH FULL DIRECTIONS FOR THE

GREENHOUSE, CONSERVATORY AND Window Garden.

By PETER HENDERSON.

AUTHOR OF "GARDENING FOR PROFIT," AND "PRACTICAL FLORICULTURE."

ILLUSTRATED.

EDITORIAL NOTICES.

It is one of the best guides to window-gardening we know of. The fact is, that the number of plants that can be successfully grown in window-gardening is very limited, and though it is possible to make a very large list of those which may be grown, if unusual pains be taken, the general cultivator wishes only to undertake those which promise to be successful with a moderate expenditure of time and attention. The rules to be observed in order to succeed with window plants, are very few, and the whole story is plainly told.—Christian Advocate, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It gives in a clear intelligible form just the information that novices and even experienced cultivators wish to have always accessible, and will be specially valuable to those who keep house plants.—The Observer, N.Y. City.

Mr. Peter Henderson has followed up Gardening for Profit with Gardening for Pleasure, into which is packed much useful information about window-gardens, the management of flower-beds, etc.—The Independent, N. Y. City.

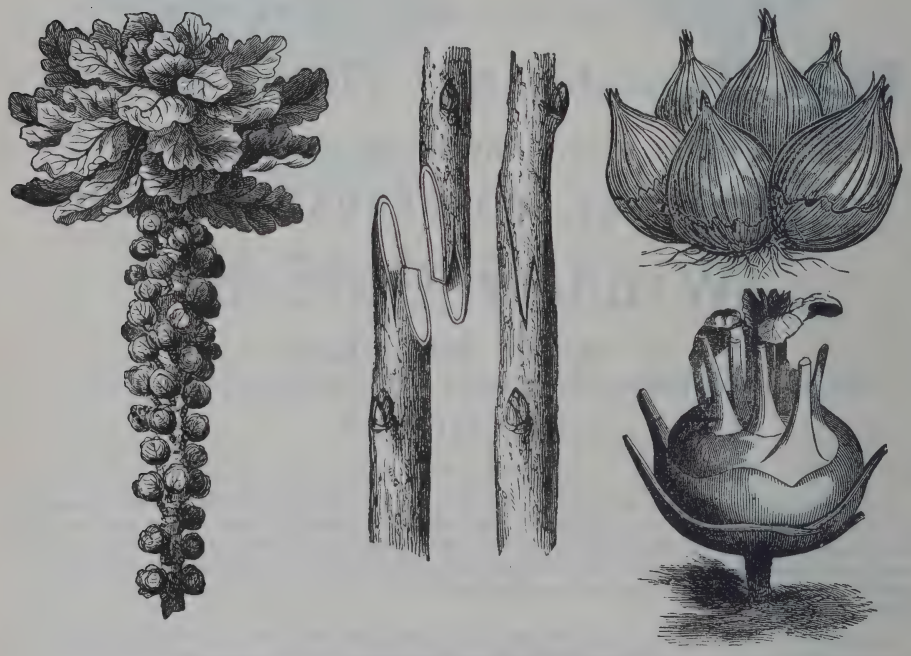
GARDENING FOR THE SOUTH;



OR,

HOW TO GROW VEGETABLES AND FRUITS.

By the Late WILLIAM N. WHITE, of Athens, Ga.

WITH ADDITIONS BY

Mr. J. VAN BUREN and Dr. JAS. CAMAK.

Illustrated. Revised and Newly Stereotyped.

Though entitled "Gardening for the South," the work is one the utility of which is not restricted to the South. It is an admirable treatise on gardening in general, and will rank among the most useful horticultural works of the present day. Horticultural operations are clearly explained, and more in detail than is usual in works of this kind. To those living in the warmer portions of the Union, the work will be especially valuable, as it gives the varieties of vegetables and fruits adapted to the climate and the modes of culture which it is necessary to follow.

Play and Profit IN MY GARDEN.

By E. P. ROE, Author of "Barriers Burned Away," etc.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

The author takes us to his garden on the rocky hill-sides in the vicinity of West Point, and shows us how out of it, after four years' experience, he evoked a profit of $1,000, and this while carrying on pastoral and literary labors. . . . It is very rare that so much literary taste and skill are mated to so much agricultural experience and practical good sense.—Harper's Magazine.

His little garden he confesses is nothing to boast of, not one of the miraculously fertile spots which, if you tickle with a plow, they laugh into a harvest, but still he managed to make it produce the value of $2,000 in a single summer, and it might have been more but for sundry mishaps and mistakes which he found out when it was too late.—New York Tribune.

PEAR CULTURE FOR PROFIT.

By P. T. QUINN, Practical Horticulturist.

ILLUSTRATED.

If one wishes to raise pears intelligently, and with the best results, he must know first the character of his soil, the best mode of preparing it, the best varieties to select under existing conditions, the best mode of planting, pruning, fertilizing, grafting, and utilizing the ground before the trees come into bearing, and finally, of gathering and packing for market.

The hope of furnishing practical information on all these points has induced the author to endeavor to draw for others the same lessons which years of practical experience have afforded him.

THE PERCHERON HORSE,

Translated from the French of CHARLES DU HAŸS,

Author of the "Dictionary of the Pure Race," "Trotters," "The Horse-Breeder's Guide," etc.

FINELY ILLUSTRATED.

This work is a report made to the French Government upon the breeding and rearing of this admirable breed of draft-horses. Interest in the Percherons has greatly increased in the United States, as the breed has become better known, and every new importation adds to that interest and to the firm friends of the breed. The book is arranged in three parts, namely: 1. The excellencies of the Percherons and their decline. 2. The means of bringing up the breed. 3. Information to strangers visiting Perche.

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

Production, Rearing, and Improvement of the Percheron Horse.

PART FIRST.

Greatness and Decline of the Percherons.—Glance at Perche.—Sketch of the Percheron Race.—Origin of the Percheron.—Modifications of the Percheron Race.—His First Modification due to Contact with the Brittany Race.—Conditions under which they are Bred.—Causes of the Degeneracy of the Percheron Horse.—Starting Point of this Degeneration.

PART SECOND.

Of the means of Regenerating the Percheron Horse.—Regeneration of the Percheron Breed.—Regeneration of the Breed through Itself or by Selection.—Consanguinity.—Ought the Gray Coat of the Percheron to be Inflexibly Maintained?—Preserve Pure and without Intermixture, the Three Types of the Percheron Race—the Light Horse, the Draft Horse, the Intermediate Horse.—Improvement of the Breed by Means of Foreign Crossings.—The Arab Cross.—The English Cross.—Improvement by Means of the Stud-Book.—Recapitulation.

PART THIRD.

Information to Strangers wishing to Buy Percheron Horses.—Food and Breeding.—Trade.—Glance at the Most Celebrated Breeding Districts.-Speed and Bottom of the Percheron Horse.—Tests of Speed of the Percheron Horse.—Tests of Endurance of the Percheron Horse.

HARRIS'S

Insects Injurious to Vegetation.

BY THE LATE THADDEUS WILLIAM HARRIS, M.D.

OCTAVO, 640 PAGES.

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED,

WITH ADDITIONS FROM THE AUTHOR'S MANUSCRIPTS AND ORIGINAL NOTES.

Illustrated by Engravings drawn from Nature under the Supervision of PROFESSOR AGASSIZ.

Edited by CHARLES L. FLINT, Secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of Agriculture.

The work is fully illustrated with two hundred and seventy-eight fine wood-cuts, and eight beautiful steel plates, full-page size, containing ninety-five figures.

CONTENTS:

CHAPTER I. — INTRODUCTION. — Insects defined. Brain and Nerves. Air-pipes and Breathing-holes. Heart and Blood. Metamorphoses or Transformations. Classification; Orders and Groups.

CHAPTER II. — COLEOPTERA.—Beetles. Scarabæians. Tree Beetles. Ground Beetles. Cockchafers. Flower, Stag, Spring, Timber, Capricorn, Leaf-mining, and Tortoise Beetles, Chrysomelians, Cantharides.

CHAPTER III. — ORTHOPTERA.—Earwigs. Cockroaches. Soothsayers. Walking-sticks or Specters. Mole, Field, Climbing, and Wingless Crickets. Grasshoppers. Katydid. Locusts.

CHAPTER IV.—HEMIPTERA.—Bugs. Squash-bug. Chinch-bug. Plant-bugs. Harvest-flies. Tree-hoppers. Fine-hoppers. Plant-lice. American Blight. Bark-lice.

CHAPTER V.—LEPIDOPTERA.—Caterpillars. Butterflies. Skippers. Hawk-moths. Ægerians or Boring Caterpillars. Moths. Cut-worms. Span-worms. Leaf-rollers. Fruit, Bee, Corn, Clothes, and Feather-winged Moths.

CHAPTER VI. — HYMENOPTERA. — Stingers and Piercers. Saw-flies and Slugs. Elm, Fir, and Vine Saw-fly. Rose-bush and Pear-tree Slugs. Horn-tailed Wood-wasps. Gall-flies. Barley-insect and Joint-worm.

CHAPTER VII.—DIPTERA.—Gnats and Flies. Maggots and their Transformations. Gall-gnats. Hessian, Wheat, and Radish Flies. Two-winged Gall-flies and Fruit-flies.

APPENDIX.—The Army-worm.

By a resolve of the Legislature of Massachusetts, Mr. Flint was directed to issue a new edition of Dr. Harris's admirable Treatise on Insects Injurious to Vegetation, with suitable additions and illustrations, and was also authorized to use the plates prepared for the edition for the Commonwealth, in the publication of one or more editions designed for wider circulation than that for the State could be expected to have. It was thought best to insert the additions contemplated in the resolve, in the form of foot-notes. No alterations have been made in the author's language, and the additional notes are inclosed in brackets, to distinguish them from those in the former editions. Large additions have been made in the text, however, from the author's own manuscript. These will be found exclusively in the chapter upon the butterflies. Professor Agassiz very kindly offered to supervise the drawings, comparing them with the original specimens before engraving. It is believed that very great scientific accuracy has thus been secured in the illustrations. Published in two beautiful editions; one plain, with steel engravings, extra cloth, price post-paid, $4.00; the other in extra cloth, beveled boards, red edges, engravings colored with great accuracy, price, post-paid, $6.50.

PEACH CULTURE.

By JAMES ALEXANDER FULTON, Dover, Del.

ILLUSTRATED.

Within the last few years, fruit culture, in all its varieties, has greatly increased in this country; so that, to-day, it is one of the leading interests. Among the fruits, the Peach, if not the most, is one of the most important of all. It is so easily raised, comes into bearing so soon, and is so delicious, as well as beautiful, it is impossible that it should not be a favorite. The consequence is that, in the sections specially conducive to its cultivation, almost every farm has an orchard, and some farms are but one continuous orchard; and sometimes farm after farm is devoted to peaches. Some planters have set as many as twenty thousand trees in a single season. Orchards of twenty, thirty, and fifty acres are not at all infrequent. Living in the very center of the peach-growing district; sharing the common interest felt in the subject; deeply impressed with its importance to the individual planters themselves, and also to the community at large; and believing that a lasting benefit could be done to both, the author has been induced to prepare, and has offered to the public, this work on peach culture.

MINIATURE FRUIT-GARDEN,

Or, The Culture of Pyramidal and Bush Fruit-Trees.

BY THOMAS RIVERS. Illustrated.

Nothing is more gratifying than the cultivation of dwarf fruit-trees, and this work tells how to do it successfully. Dwarf Apples and Pears are beautiful ornaments, besides being useful in giving abundant crops of fruit; they can be grown in Small Gardens and City Yards, and be readily removed. This book also gives the manner of training upon walls and trellises. Root Pruning is fully explained, and methods of protection from frosts are given. Dwarf Cherries and Plums are treated of as are other dwarf trees. Directions are also given for growing Figs and Filberts. This little work is full of suggestions to the cultivator, and like all the writings of its venerable author, bears the marks of long experience in the practice of fruit-growing.

CONTENTS.

Apple—American blight.
Apricot—Pyramidal.
Cherry—As bushes.
Compact pyramids.
Currant—Pyramidal.

BARRY'S FRUIT-GARDEN.

By P. BARRY.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

"Barry's Fruit Garden" is one of those practical, profusely illustrated, and comprehensive manuals which Orange Judd & Co. delight to publish. It seems to tell almost everything which one book can tell about the ins and outs and ways and means of fruit culture.—The Advance (Chicago).

This volume of 490 pages, as its title implies, is devoted to the culture of fruits of every variety in orchards and gardens. It describes the diseases incident to the various fruit trees, the kinds of insects that prey upon them, and the remedies for ridding trees of the evil.—Scientific American.

The author writes from his own practical experience; and that experience is of no ordinary character, being the result of more than thirty years' work at the head of the largest nursery in America, where every operation is conducted with eminent skill.—The Country Gentleman.

It explains all the minutiæ of fruit-gardening, even to the implements, copiously illustrated by engravings so that the merest novice need not err; gives descriptions of all the different kinds of fruit that can be raised in our climate in every stage of their lives, from the germ to the fruit-bearing period, with instructions in pruning and grafting, in a most satisfactory manner. The chapter on grapes alone is worth more than the price of the book.—Jersey City Times.

It is a rich mine of information upon fruits of all kinds and their proper culture.—Providence Press.

Mr. Barry has long been known as an authority upon fruit culture, and this volume of 490 pages, with a full and carefully prepared index, gives the latest results of his study and experience.—Springfield Republican.

This beautiful volume, of nearly five hundred pages, will be cordially welcomed by every lover of nature. It is the most perfect work we have seen on the whole subject, and well deserves a wide circulation.—United Presbyterian (Pittsburgh).

We have orchardists, strawberry books, grape books, small-fruit books, and all that; what we want is one book for them all. Here we have it. It is quite a scientific work, too, giving more than mere arbitrary directions; we have the grounds for them. May we rely on what it says? A sufficient answer is that it comes from the office of the American Agriculturist.—Zion's Herald.

FROM HON. MARSHALL P. WILDER,

PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

BOSTON, April, 1872.

GENTLEMEN: I have perused with great pleasure the new and improved edition of Mr. Barry's book. It is in every respect desirable, and will receive the approbation of our best pomologists. It is the result of a long life of experience, and admirably calculated to meet the demands of our age. I give it a hearty welcome. MARSHALL P. WILDER.

THE SMALL-FRUIT CULTURIST.

BY ANDREW S. FULLER.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

We have heretofore had no work especially devoted to small fruits, and certainly no treatises anywhere that give the information contained in this. It is to the advantage of special works that the author can say all that he has to say on any subject, and not be restricted as to space, as he must be in those works that cover the culture of all fruits—great and small.

This book covers the whole ground of Propagating Small Fruits, their Culture, Varieties, Packing for Market, etc. While very full on the other fruits, the Currants and Raspberries have been more carefully elaborated than ever before, and in this important part of his book the author has had the invaluable counsel of Charles Downing. The chapter on gathering and packing the fruit is a valuable one, and in it are figured all the baskets and boxes now in common use. The book is very finely and thoroughly illustrated, and makes an admirable companion to the Grape Culturist, by the same well-known author.

AMERICAN POMOLOGY.

APPLES.

By Doct. JOHN A. WARDER,

President of the Ohio Pomological Society; Vice-President of the American Pomological Society

293 ILLUSTRATIONS.

This volume has about 750 pages, the first 375 of which are devoted to the discussion of the general subjects of propagation, nursery culture, selection and planting, cultivation of orchards, care of fruit, insects, and the like; the remainder is occupied with descriptions of apples. With the richness of material at hand, the trouble was to decide what to leave out. It will be found that while the old and standard varieties are not neglected, the new and promising sorts, especially those of the South and West, have prominence. A list of selections for different localities, by eminent orchardists, is a valuable portion of the volume, while the Analytical Index or Catalogue Raisonné, as the French would say, is the most extended American fruit list ever published, and gives evidence of a very great amount of labor.

THE AMERICAN FRUIT CULTURIST.

Containing Practical Directions for the Propagation and Culture of all Fruits Adapted to the United States.

A THOROUGHLY REVISED EDITION.

ILLUSTRATED WITH 508 ACCURATE FIGURES.

By JOHN J. THOMAS.

The first edition of the Fruit Culturist, the basis of the present work, was written more than twenty years ago, and a year before the appearance of Downing's first edition of Fruits and Fruit Trees of America. It was subsequently much enlarged, and several revised editions afterwards appeared. Being intended as a guide to the practical cultivator, its object is to furnish useful directions in the management of the nursery, garden, and orchard, and to assist in the selection of the best varieties for cultivation. It does not claim to be a complete work on the pomology of the country, but aims to give full descriptions only of valuable or promising fruits suited to the country at large, or which may have been popular in certain districts—varieties which are very little known, whose position or value is undetermined, or which have been found unworthy of further attention, are consigned to the General Descriptive List and Index, where their leading characteristics are briefly noticed.

Manual on the Culture of Small Fruits.

By E. P. ROE.

Author of Play and Profit in My Garden, etc.

On the culture of Strawberries, Raspberries, Currants, Gooseberries, Blackberries, etc. Mr. E. P. Roe, of Cornwall on the Hudson, whose early success in general gardening is recounted in that interesting work, "Play and Profit in My Garden," has of late especially devoted himself to the cultivation of small fruit. He has gone into his work, not only with great enthusiasm, but with unusual intelligence, and has been remarkably successful. The methods of culture that have led to this success, and his experience with the leading varieties, are now presented in a handy pamphlet of over 80 large pages, in which instructive facts are told in a chatty manner, which makes them pleasant reading. The chapter on "Picking and Marketing," is eminently practical and sensible.

CRANBERRY CULTURE.

BY

JOSEPH J. WHITE, A Practical Grower.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices by the Press.

The book is profusely illustrated, contains minute directions for preparing the ground, setting and cultivating the plants, flowing the plantations, and picking and marketing the fruit.—Springfield Republican.

As the business of cranberry culture is largely and rapidly increasing, such a book as this will prove to many an efficient and profitable guide.—Detroit Advertiser and Tribune.

This is decidedly the best work out on the cranberry.—Practical Farmer (Phila.)

It is a practical, compact treatise, full of all necessary details, fully illustrated, and must satisfy all wishing a complete and thorough guide to cranberry-growing.—Maine Farmer.

The man who is growing cranberries, if he have enterprise and a good conscience, and eats his own cranberries, or expects other people to eat them, ought to get this little book.—Chicago Tribune.

We judge this to be the best book on cranberry culture yet published.—Prairie Farmer.

The work is very comprehensive in its details, and will be invaluable to those who have an interest in the subject.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

A thoroughly practical manual, and one apparently prepared to answer any and every question which any one may be moved to ask on the subject discussed.—Congregationalist and Recorder.

It seems to be a complete manual on a branch of horticulture which is of growing importance.—Lowell Daily Courier.

We consider it invaluable to the fruit-grower.—The Courier (N. J.)

The directions in regard to forming beds or plantations are so plain that any person could follow them. The various illustrations and diagrams aid much in conveying correct ideas in regard to the different subjects. —The State Republican (Mich.)

PARSONS ON THE ROSE.

A Treatise on the Propagation, Culture, and History of the Rose.

By SAMUEL B. PARSONS.

NEW AND REVISED EDITION. ILLUSTRATED.

The Rose is the only flower that can be said to have a history. It is popular now, and was so centuries ago. In his work upon the Rose, Mr. Parsons has gathered up the curious legends concerning the flower, and gives us an idea of the esteem in which it was held in former times. A simple garden classification has been adopted, and the leading varieties under each class enumerated and briefly described. The chapters on multiplication, cultivation, and training, are very full, and the work is altogether the most complete of any before the public.

CONTENTS:—Chapter 1. Botanical Classification. 2. Garden Classification. 3. General Culture of the Rose. 4. Soil, Situation and Planting. 5. Pruning, Training, and Bedding. 6. Potting and Forcing. 7. Propagation. 8. Multiplication by Seed and Hybridizing. 9. Diseases and Insects attacking the Rose. 10. Early History of the Rose, and Fables respecting its Origin. 11. Luxurious Use of the Rose. 12. The Rose in Ceremonies and Festivals, and in the Adornment of Burial Places. 13. The Rose in the Middle Ages. 14. Perfumes of the Rose. 15. Medical Properties of the Rose. 16. General Remarks.

NEW BOOK OF FLOWERS.

By JOSEPH BRECK, Practical Horticulturist.

BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

This work, while preserving scientific accuracy, is written in a familiar style, and with the enthusiasm of a life-long lover of flowers. Its teachings are eminently practical, and cover all branches of out-of-door gardening.

Bulbs.—The cultivation of bulbs, whether in-doors or in the open ground, is clearly described, and such instructions are given as will insure success with these favorite plants.

Annuals.—All the finer annuals are described, and the peculiar treatment necessary for each given in full.

Herbaceous Perennials.—This justly favorite class of plants is given here more at length than in any work with which we are acquainted.

Bedding Plants.—The treatment of the popular kinds of bedding plants is given, together with that of Dahlias, Chrysanthemums, and such as usually fall under the head of florists' flowers.

Flowering Shrubs.—A separate section is devoted to the hardy flowering shrubs, including a very full chapter upon the Rose.

We have no work which is a safer guide to the novice in gardening, or that imparts the necessary information in a style more free from technicalities. Not the least interesting part of the work is the author's personal experience, as he tells not only how he succeeded, but the mistakes he committed.

THE BOOK OF EVERGREENS.

By JOSIAH HOOPES, West Chester, Pa.,

INCLUDING

Propagation, Cultivation, Description of Varieties, and their Adaptability to Different Situations.

This is a long-needed work, as in it the present state of our knowledge upon the cone-bearing plants, or Coniferæ of the botanist, is posted up. Mr. Hoopes is one of those persons rarely met with—a practical cultivator and a man of science at the same time. While his work gives us all the Coniferæ arranged in the classification of the botanist, it at the same time treats of the experience, not only of the author, but of American cultivators generally, with this large and important family of plants.

Evergreens play so interesting a part, not only in ornamental planting, but in what may be termed economical planting (i. e., hedges, screens, wind-breaks, etc.), that we are sure a work which treats of their propagation and culture, describes in both popular and scientific language the many species, and, what is of not the least importance, gives a list of the tender and unreliable ones, will be warmly welcomed by every lover of these beautiful trees.

Mr. Hoopes brings to his work a perfect enthusiasm for his subject, and is as free to condemn a plant as if he were not a nurseryman. All the latest novelties from Japan, the North-west, etc., are noticed, and their success or failure, both in this country and in England, is recorded.

The work is abundantly illustrated with most carefully executed engravings, for the greater part from living specimens.

We must commend the conscientious care the author has shown in striving to arrive at the proper names; and doubtless much of the confusion that at present exists in respect to names among both dealers and growers, will be corrected, now that they have a standard work to refer to.

Not the least interesting portion of the book is an account of the principal collections of evergreens in the country. The work contains 435 pages, 12mo, on fine paper.

AMERICAN CATTLE:

THEIR HISTORY, BREEDING, AND MANAGEMENT.

By LEWIS F. ALLEN,

Late President of the New York State Agricultural Society, editor "American Short-Horn Herd-Book," author "Rural Architecture," etc., etc.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

We consider this the most valuable work that has recently been issued from the American press. It embraces all branches of the important subject, and fills a vacancy in our agricultural literature for which work the author by his many years' experience and observation was eminently fitted....It ought to be in the hands of every owner of cattle, and the country, as well as individuals, would soon be much richer for its teachings.—Journal of Agriculture (St. Louis).

This will rank among the standard works of the country, and will be considered indispensable by every breeder of live-stock.—Practical Farmer (Philadelphia).

The large experience of the author in improving the character of American herds, adds to the weight of his observations, and has enabled him to produce a work which will at once make good its claims as a standard authority on the subject. An excellent feature of this volume is its orderly, methodical arrangement, condensing a great variety of information into a comparatively small compass, and enabling the reader to find the point on which he is seeking light, without wasting his time in turning over the leaves.—N. Y. Tribune.

Whatever works the stock farmer may already have, he cannot afford to do without this.—Ohio Farmer.

His history of cattle in general and of the individual breeds in particular, which occupies the first 180 pages of the volume, is written with much of the grace and charm of an Allison or a Macauley. His description of the leading breeds is illustrated by cuts of a bull, a cow and a fat ox, of each race. The next one hundred pages are devoted to the subject of Breeding. This is followed by chapters on Beef Cattle, Working Oxen, Milch-Cows, Cattle Food, Diseases, etc. The arrangement, illustrations, analytical index, etc., of the work are in the best style of modern book-making.—New England Farmer.

THE AMERICAN CATTLE DOCTOR;

Containing the Necessary Information for Preserving the Health and Curing the Diseases of Oxen, Cows, Sheep, and Swine. With a Great Variety of Original Recipes, and Valuable Information in Reference to Farm and Dairy Management. Whereby Every Man can be his own Cattle Doctor.

The principles taught in this work are, that all medication shall be subservient to nature; that all medicinal agents must be sanative in their operation and administered with a view of aiding the vital powers, instead of depressing, as heretofore, with the lancet and poison.

THE SOILING OF CATTLE, Illustrated from Experience,

AND AN ADDRESS, CONTAINING SUGGESTIONS WHICH MAY BE USEFUL TO FARMERS.

By JOSIAH QUINCY, WITH A MEMOIR OF THE AUTHOR, BY EDWARD QUINCY.

By a mistaken notion, that a considerable extent of land is requisite to enable a farmer to keep many head of cattle, a most wasteful proportion of it is sometimes retained for the sole purpose of pasturage; and thus, compared with its inherent productive power, made useless. This little book cannot fail to be read with interest by many a farmer.

The American Cattle Doctor.

[OCTAVO.]

A COMPLETE WORK ON ALL THE DISEASES OF

CATTLE, SHEEP, AND SWINE,

Including every Disease peculiar to America, and embracing all the latest Information on the Cattle Plague and Trichina; containing also a Guide to Symptoms, a Table of Weights and Measures, and a List of Valuable Medicines.

By GEO. H. DADD, V. S.,

Twenty-five years a Leading Veterinary Surgeon in England and the United States, and Author of the "American Reformed Horse Book."

The Work is comprised in Three Grand Divisions, each one full and complete.

I.—Diseases and Management of Cattle.

Showing how, by means of the remedies found to be so useful in the author's practice, to overcome the many troublesome and usually fatal diseases of cattle.

The proper care and management of cattle during calving are plainly set forth.

The relative value of different breeds is fully discussed.

In this division will be found, in full, the History, Causes, Symptoms, and Treatment of RINDERPEST or CATTLE PLAGUE.

II.—Diseases and Management of Sheep.

Beginning with a most valuable chapter on the Improvements of our Breeds of Sheep. Such diseases as Rot, Yellows, Foot-rot, Grubs, etc., are fully treated.

III.—Diseases and Management of Hogs.

Commencing with an able article on the importance of Cleanliness and Pure Air for Hogs. The various diseases of this valuable animal, with their Prevention, Causes, and Cure, receive full attention. The great majority of American farmers are largely interested in the most reliable treatment of that scourge among hogs—HOG CHOLERA. After years of practice in Illinois, the author confidently presents his Remedy for this destructive malady, as the most successful one yet discovered, and it is so simple as to be within easy reach of all.

THE AMERICAN REFORMED HORSE BOOK.

[OCTAVO.]

A Treatise on the Causes, Symptoms, and Cure of every Disease incident to the Horse, including all Diseases peculiar to America, and which are not treated of in works based upon the English works of Youatt, Mason, and others. Embracing also full details of Breeding, Rearing, and Management on the REFORMED SYSTEM OF PRACTICE.

By Prof. GEO. H. DADD,

Veterinary Surgeon, "Author of Anatomy and Physiology of the Horse," and late Professor of Anatomy and Physiology in the Veterinary Institute of Chicago, and for over 25 years a Regular Practicing Veterinarian.

This is a fresh book, the result of a lifetime of labor and research on the part of one of the foremost Veterinarians of the age. Years ago Dr. Dadd perceived that incalculable loss was being entailed upon stock owners every year by the reckless, unnatural, unscientific, and cruel modes of treatment which were so generally practiced upon the Horse. Burning, Blistering, Bleeding by the gallon, and the giving of Poisonous Drugs were the order of the day, (and we are sorry to say such practices still find learned (?) advocates even in our day), and the result was that they killed more than they cured. Actuated by a laudable desire to rescue so noble an animal from such "heroic practice," Dr. Dadd adopted and strenuously advocated the REFORMED SYSTEM OF PRACTICE, which, under the guidance of such men as Wooster Beach, John C. Gunn, and others, rose rapidly into popular favor in human practice, and demonstrated beyond a doubt that nature's remedies are the most uniformly successful. Such was Dadd's success that he became widely known, and it was no unusual thing for him to be sent for, hundreds of miles, to attend valuable horses. His career as a practicing Veterinary Surgeon has been one of rare success, and deeming it his duty to spread abroad among his countrymen a knowledge of Reform Principles, as applied to the Horse, he has prepared this work, and asks that it be candidly examined. Being a thoroughly American Work, it quotes foreign authors but very little. It aims to treat fully and plainly, on rational principles, every ill that Horseflesh is heir to, including those complaints peculiar to this country, and which have hitherto been but very imperfectly treated of by authors aspiring to be educators of the public on Veterinary Science.

ON THE

CAUSES, NATURE, AND TREATMENT

OF

DISEASES AND LAMENESS IN HORSES.

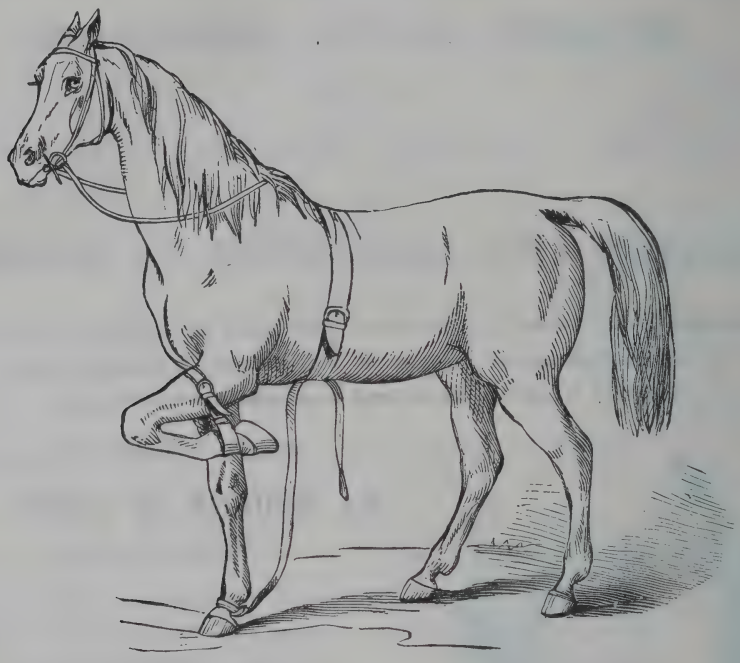
Embracing the most recent and approved methods, according to an enlightened system of Veterinary Therapeutics, for the preservation and restoration of health.

With Illustrations.

By GEORGE H. DADD, M.D.,

Veterinary Surgeon,

AUTHOR OF "ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY OF THE HORSE," AND THE "REFORMED CATTLE DOCTOR."



The writer of this work has endeavored to give the reader correct ideas of the nature and treatment of diseases occurring in that faithful servant and noble animal, the horse. It is intended to supply the wants of that class of agriculturists and horsemen—and their name is legion—who are in favor of a more sanative and rational system of medication than that recommended in many works on farriery. Such individuals, in consequence of the scarcity of competent Veterinary Surgeons, are compelled to treat their own horses; and this work is intended to be to them, in the hour of need, one that will enable them to restore the sick and cure the lame.

HARRIS ON THE PIG.

BREEDING, REARING, MANAGEMENT, AND IMPROVEMENT.

With Numerous Illustrations.

BY

JOSEPH HARRIS,

OF MORETON FARM, ROCHESTER, N. Y.

This most instructive treatise upon the breeding, rearing, and management of swine is by one thoroughly familiar with the whole subject. The points of the various English and American breeds are thoroughly discussed, and the great advantage of using thorough-bred males clearly shown. The work is equally valuable to the farmer who keeps but a few pigs, and to the breeder on an extensive scale.

QUINBY'S BEE-KEEPING.

By M. QUINBY, Practical Bee-keeper.

FULLY ILLUSTRATED.

This book gives the result of 35 years of successful experience—with directions for all contingencies that can ordinarily occur; treating of Breeding, Movable-Comb and other Hives, Pasturage, Robbing, Feeding, Swarming, Queens, Diseases, Anger, Enemies, Wax, Transferring, Sagacity, Wintering, Care of Honey, Italian Bees, Purchasing, etc. Bee-keepers will find this new work of Mr. Quinby's fully up to the times in all practical matter.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

Quinby's work is the very best. It has long been regarded as of the highest authority in the matters concerning which it treats.—Christian Intelligencer.

This is a newly written and illustrated edition of Mr. Q.'s former work. That has proved of value to thousands of bee-keepers, and this, with its riper experience and added knowledge, can not fail of giving better satisfaction. Thirty-five years' experience! What beginner in bee-keeping will not bring this to his aid? We notice the author has no Patent Hive to introduce, and expresses his opinions freely on the merits and demerits of the various hives seeking popular favor.—Moore's Rural New Yorker.

The book is written in familiar style, with the endeavor to be practical rather than scientific, thereby making it a guide to the tyro in Apiarian knowledge, as well as a standard work of reference for the more experienced bee-keepers.—Vermont Farmer.

All bee-keepers should have this manual, and others may read it as a book of wonders.—N. Y. Christian Advocate.

NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

Mr. Thrasher is an old hunter, and he gives the results of his experience in hunting and trapping in a plain, unpretending way. He not only gives many useful hints to the hunter, but intersperses his work with notes on the habits of our wild animals and ancedotes of hunting. The book is illustrated, and will be found of interest to the naturalist, as well as the trapper.—Boston Transcript.

It contains hints about trapping all sorts of game, from a honey-bee to a bear, with a chapter on fishing, and another on dressing and tanning skins and furs. The book is written by an experienced hunter and is readable.—Portland Advertiser.

American Wild-Fowl Shooting.

By JOSEPH W. LONG.

The book treats fully and in detail of Guns—muzzle and breech loading—their proper make, selection, care, charges, and use; Blinds, how to build and use them; Decoys, the various kinds, mode of making, best models (shown by illustration), manner of placing, etc.; Boats, and boat-building, with illustrations, measurements, and specific directions; Dogs, how to train, treat, and shoot over them—hints as to the best breeds, needed qualities, etc.; plain and detailed instructions on Camping Out, with illustrations of divers simple and useful contrivances for cooking, sleeping, tent-pitching, and general matters of comfort and efficiency for the hunter. Then, after a chapter of Miscellaneous Hints—on Clothing, Powder, Shot, and divers indispensable requisites for the pursuit of game, the author plunges into the absolute sport of Duck Shooting, each bird being carefully described in regard to its outward appearance, characteristics, usual haunts, habits of feeding, flying, etc., and specific modes of successful pursuit. 12mo, Cloth, beveled boards. PRICE, POST-PAID, $2.00.

Field, Cover, and Trap Shooting.

By CAPT. A. H. BOGARDUS.

A Practical Book of information and instructions concerning Game Birds, their haunts and habits, and the most effective methods of their pursuit, with the correct system of using the dog and gun. This book contains the knowledge acquired by Captain A. H. Bogardus, the best and surest wing-shot in the world, during a period of twenty-five years, all spent in the field, on the prairie, in the cover, and by the margin of the stream, in the shooting seasons. The book is also rich in sporting experiences, and anecdotes touching the habits of game, the most effective means of finding the birds, and the right way to bring them to the bag in a sportsmanlike manner. Much information concerning the practical natural history of the game birds and migratory water-fowl of America, is also embraced in its pages, and it will be of absorbing interest to the young reader, as well as of large value to the sportsman of mature age. Volume, 12mo, Fancy Stamped Cloth, with Steel Portrait of the Author, and an Engraving of his Champion Medal. PRICE, POST-PAID, $2.00.

AN EGG FARM.

THE MANAGEMENT OF POULTRY IN LARGE NUMBERS.

By H. H. STODDARD.

Being a Series of Articles Written for the American Agriculturist. With other Articles.

ILLUSTRATED.

In the last half of 1871, and the first half of 1872, there appeared in the columns of the American Agriculturist, a series of articles upon the raising of poultry on a large scale. As eggs, rather than chickens were aimed at, the articles were called: "An Egg Farm," a title both novel and descriptive. As the author, Mr. H. H. Stoddard. of Hartford, Conn., presented his plans so clearly, and without making any extravagant claims, the articles at once attracted general attention. Since they appeared the calls for sets or volumes of the American Agriculturist which contained them, have been regular and numerous, showing that the articles had a permanent value, and they are now brought together in the more convenient form of a book, to meet a regular demand. In revising the articles for re-printing, no changes have been made, other than to make the corrections suggested by the author in the last article of the series, and such unimportant verbal alterations as were peculiar to the serial form in which they first appeared. The subject of the production of eggs upon a large scale is one to which the author has evidently given not only close personal attention, but careful thought, and no difficulty to be avoided, or point in which labor may be saved, seems to be left unprovided for, and the book will be found a valuable addition to our poultry literature.

CONTENTS.

Introduction. Plan of Farm. Manner of Feeding. Location of Farm. Kind of Soil. Crops on the Farm. Supplying Water and Food. Collecting and Storing Dry Earth. Houses for Layers. Feeding House for Winter. Houses for Sitters. Arrangements for Breeding Stock. Fowls for Layers. Fowls for Sitters. Management of Breeding Stock. Coops for Chickens. Feeding Chickens. THE FARMER'S ACCOUNTANT.

A Comprehensive and Systematic Application of Accounts, adapted to the wants of the Practical Farmer, embracing Commendations for the Honor of his Calling, Reasons for Keeping Farm Accounts, Suggestions and Information, Blank for Plan of Farm, Farming Inventory, General Inventory, Cost, Farm, Family and Incidental Accounts, Memoranda, Accounts with Stock and Crops, Butter, Meats, and Deteriorations, Account with Individuals, Bills Payable and Bills Receivable, Agreement and Account with Hired Help, Abstract of Labor Expense, Competition Register of Agricultural Fairs, Summary of Crops and Stock Details, Gestation Account, Profit and Loss, Errors and Resolves, Tax List Furnished Assessors, United States Excise. By C. O. & F. PERKINS. No doubt that the reason why so few farmers keep regular accounts, is the varied character of the business, and the supposed difficulty attending the necessary book-keeping. Several books have been devised especially for farmers, one of the most complete of which is "The Farmer's Accountant," by C. O. & F. Perkins. This provides for the recording of the expenses of the family, and the outgoes and receipts of the farm; allows accounts to be kept with particular fields, with breeding and other stock, with help, etc. Indeed it would seem as if every possible want in the way of a farm account was met.

HOW TO MAKE CANDY.

A Manual of Plain Directions for the manufacture of the more popular forms of Confectionery. This is not a compilation of recipes and directions from unreliable sources, but an entirely new work, written by a gentleman thoroughly proficient in the art of which he treats, assisted in the preparation of the paragraphs relating to flavors, fruits, syrups, and medicated candies, by a practical pharmacist of large experience. The object which has continually been kept in view, has been to present a series of reliable formulas, and instructions for the manufacture of those kinds of confectionery which are in greatest demand, and which may easily be prepared by persons possessing little or no experience in this direction, and without the use of expensive machinery or appliances.

CHEMICAL MANURES.

Agricultural Lectures Delivered at the Experimental Farm at Vincennes, in 1867, by George Ville. Translated by Miss E. L. Howard.

When once the farmer has arrived at a knowledge of the natural fertility of his farm by the aid of experimental fields, as explained in this work, he will be able to compound his manures for each desired crop, without expending money for what is already in the soil, or omitting what is wanting. How much more desirable to do so, and to work with certainty, than to buy already mixed manures from the manufacturer, who, supposing that he is honest, can certainly know little, if anything, about the natural fertility of the soil, the previous manuring, or the rotation of crops on the farm of the purchaser.

PRICE, POST-PAID, 50 CTS.

PRACTICAL HINTS

ON THE

SELECTION AND USE OF THE MICROSCOPE.

Intended for Beginners. By JOHN PHIN, editor of The Technologist. Fully Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Explains in the simplest and clearest language the best methods of using the Microscope, and of preparing, examining, and mounting objects.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"It is intended as a manual for beginners, and will be found thorough, precise, clear, and every way satisfactory and reliable."—Cultivator and Country Gentleman.

"Contains so much information clearly given, and advice wisely conceived, as to make us mourn that it is not a larger work."—Christian Union.

"It describes the various kinds of microscopes, shows how to select an instrument for practical and special purposes, how to collect objects and prepare them for examination—in short everything that the amateur needs to know."—Bookseller's Guide.

"There are many microscopes which are now comparatively useless to their owners for the need of such simple instructions as Mr. Phin here makes available to them."—Illustrated Weekly.

"Much disappointment and discouragement will be avoided by the study of this little work."—Baptist Union.

"We regard this as a very successful treatise. It is the work of a teacher who gives evidence of his capacity for instruction on every page. His prevision is keen to anticipate difficulties and to provide for them."—American Artisan.

PLAIN DIRECTIONS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION AND ERECTION

OF

LIGHTNING RODS.

By JOHN PHIN, C. E.

This is a simple and practical little work, intended to convey just such information as will enable every property owner to decide whether or not his buildings are thoroughly protected. It is not written in the interest of any patent or particular article of manufacture, and by following its directions, any ordinarily skillful mechanic can put up a rod that will afford perfect protection, and that will not infringe any patent. Every owner of a house and barn ought to procure a copy.

OF THE VARIOUS PARTS NEEDED IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE, BOTH FOR THE CITY AND COUNTRY.

ALSO, PLANS AND ELEVATIONS OF HOUSES, STORES, COTTAGES, AND OTHER BUILDINGS.

BY M. F. CUMMINGS, A.M., ARCHITECT.

Associate Author of "Architecture, by Cummings & Miller," and "Modern American Architecture, by Cummings & Miller."

Nearly eight years ago the author of this work, in connection with Mr. C. C. Miller, architect, published a work on architectural details, which, as soon as it was presented to the architects, carpenters, and builders of the country, met with a rapid sale; and, judging from the number of editions through which it has passed, and the great circulation reached, it must have met the approval of those most interested in practical architectural works, and must have filled, in a measure, a want before unsupplied. The success of that book has induced the author to publish a second one, which is now presented to the public, and in it will be found an extensive collection of designs, illustrating the features which go to make up structures such as are needed to meet the wants of the American people.

ROYAL QUARTO. PRICE, POST-PAID, TEN DOLLARS.

PROGRESSIVE AMERICAN ARCHITECTURE.

By C. B. CROFF, Architect.

Author of "Model Suburban Architecture," and "Original Designs for Front-Entrance Doors."

Store Fronts, School, Bank, and Church Buildings, beautiful Perspectives in color and black, giving designs of elaborate and charming Floral Decorations; Horticultural Plans, Fountains, Shrubbery, Offices, Arbors, Cupolas, Cemetery Vaults in Stone, Stables, etc. EXTERIOR DETAILS of Verandas, Bay Windows, Porches, Balconies, main, deck, and belting Cornices for wood, iron, and stone; Gable finish, Balconies, Angle finish for body of buildings and roofs; Step Buttresses, Canopies, Trusses; Window and Door Frames and Hoods, Dormer Windows, double and single, stone and iron Chimney Caps, Fences and Gates, Scrolls, Urns, Ornamental Lattice Grating, etc. INTERIOR DETAILS of Wainscoting, Newels, Balusters, and Rails, Mantels, regular and irregular plain and ornamental finish; Book Cases; Fancy Cases for Stores, Counters and Shelving for drug and dry goods stores. Interior Bank Finish, Library Finish, Cornices for Lambrequins; Street Doors, double and single, in rare variety; Reading Desks for Churches; elaborate and beautiful studies for engraving, to be laid in black and gilt, for the decoration of rich hard wood work; Plaster Cornices and Ceilings, each and every feature thoroughly illustrated, given to an intelligible scale.

PRICE, POST-PAID, $10.00.

Lakey's Village and Country Houses.

Containing 84 Quarto Pages of Designs suited to the wants of all who wish to build tasteful and beautiful houses economically in village or country.

Throughout the country there is a demand for cheap houses, built after approved methods, and containing, so far as possible, modern improvements. There has long been a want expressed for a work like this—one containing a great number and great variety of styles of medium priced houses. It was equally important that the book should be issued at a low price, in order that it might be put into the hands of every man who desires to build a house, be it ever so small, for the sheltering of his family. This work is almost wholly devoted to such designs as are required by people in moderate circumstances. Many of the leading architects of the country have contributed to this volume, and it expresses their best thoughts on the subject of cheap houses.

PRICE, POST-PAID, $6.00.

CRANDALL'S ILLUMINATED PICTORIAL ALPHABET CUBES.

These Cubes are gorgeously colored, and will make over 500 beautiful combinations or figures. They are water-proof, odorless, and durable; put up in handsome black walnut boxes; and are most attractive to both young and old—an elegant present for the little ones.

Price per Dozen Boxes, $18.00 (2 Dozen Boxes in a Case).

CRANDALL'S "LITTLE ALL-RIGHT."

One of the funniest and jolliest of the low-priced toys. The lively little "All-right" throws himself into a great variety of positions as he whirls around the "wheel."

Price per Dozen Boxes, $2.00 (12 Dozen Boxes in a Case).

Orders from the trade will be supplied on liberal terms.

A Trochar for Cattle-Men.

In June of 1872 we gave illustrations of a Trochar and Cannula to be used in ringing a bull, and on page 13 (January) and page 97 (March) of this Journal for 1873 we described the use of this apparatus in relieving hoven in cattle. These articles have brought out a large demand for Trochars, and failing to find just the right kind among the makers of surgical implements, we have induced an establishment to undertake their manufacture. We give herewith a small engraving of the Trochar. These articles are now in the trade, and may be had of most dealers in agricultural implements. Price, post-paid, $1.00.

A COPPER BULL-RING,

2¼ inches in diameter, of the most approved pattern, with screw-driver for putting it together, will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of $1.00.

PERIODICALS.

THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES,

EDITED BY ISAAC HAYS, M.D.,

Is published quarterly, on the first of January, April, July, and October. Each number contains about two hundred and eighty large octavo pages, appropriately illustrated, wherever necessary. It has now been issued regularly for over fifty years, during almost the whole of which time it has been under the control of the present editor. Throughout this long period it has maintained its position in the highest rank of medical periodicals, both at home and abroad, and has received the cordial support of the entire profession in this country.

Price Five Dollars ($5) per annum, in advance.

THE MEDICAL NEWS AND LIBRARY

Is published monthly; each number contains thirty-two large octavo pages. The "NEWS DEPARTMENT" contains the current information of the day, while the "LIBRARY DEPARTMENT" is devoted to publishing standard works on the various branches of medical science, paged separately, so they can be removed and bound on completion.

Price One Dollar ($1) per annum, in advance.

☞ Furnished gratuitously as a premium to advance-paying Subscribers to the American Journal of the Medical Sciences.

THE MONTHLY ABSTRACT OF MEDICAL SCIENCE

Is published monthly, each number containing forty-eight large octavo pages. The aim of the "ABSTRACT" will be to present a careful revision of all that is new and important in the medical journalism of the world, and all the prominent professional periodicals of both hemispheres will be at the disposal of the editors.

Price Two Dollars and Fifty Cents ($2 50) per annum, in advance.

Guide to Penmanship. A full and exhaustive treatise on the subject of PRACTICAL PENMANSHIP, with ample illustrations in the form of copy-lines and off-hand flourishing; being the most artistic and beautiful work ever produced, This book was intended, primarily, as an accompaniment to Williams & Packard's Copy Books, and affords to teachers a most invaluable hand-book. Aside from the engraved pages, which are full and complete, some seventy-five pages of letter-press matter are given, with thorough analysis of Writing, and ample criticisms on the common faults of learners. Not less than 375 imperfect letters and figures are given, with hints as to their departure from the proper models, and the best methods of guarding against errors. Aside from this, are instructions as to class-drills, and hints upon all the various duties of the teacher. It is a book that every teacher and lover of good writing should possess, and is a beautiful and appropriate present as a reward for improvement in penmanship.

FOLLOW COLOR AND YOU FOLLOW SUIT!

A Round Card,

In Four Colors.

The Globe Playing Card.

OUR Circular Playing Cards possess many advantages over the cards in common use, and are in no respect inferior. Use them enough to become familiar with them, and you will never use any other. It will require but little time to do this, and you will be a hundred fold repaid by greater ease, rapidity, and certainty in playing.

ADVANTAGES OF THE GLOBE CARD.

Great Durability; Wear Twice as Long as the Old Style. The old cards soon turn up at the corners, split, wear off, and become ragged and uneven, and in consequence handle badly, and are thrown aside and replaced by new ones; but circular cards wear equally on the edges, and last twice as long as the common cards.

More Ease in Shuffling, Dealing, and Playing. The old cards get crossed on the table, and this causes delay in arranging them relatively to their length and breadth, which retards the game; but circular cards are always right relatively to each other, and are ready for use as soon as in the hand. No vexatious delays in arranging them ready to shuffle or play. Moreover, they shuffle better than the old cards; but this cannot be demonstrated on paper; use them and see. Further, the circular cards lie more easily and naturally in the hollow of the hand.

Rapid Playing without Mistakes. We use a characteristic color to each suit. This is an important advantage; it enables a player to assort his cards, and select, at a glance, the cards of the same suit by the color alone. No need of looking at the shape of the emblem, or spot, so called, for the color indicates the suit, and the numeral, or figure, the size. This enables persons to play with rapidity and ease, and few mistakes. In fact, after a little practice, one will play by color and figure, instead of by shape and number of spots, as at present.

Using Numerals, or Figures, in Four Colors, on the Edges, to show the Size and Suit. These figures are placed at convenient distances around the edge, and are printed in the same color as the spots. The color of the figure shows the suit, and the figure itself shows the size. This enables you to hold a very large hand in a compact shape, to see your whole hand at once, and recognize every card without moving, it only being necessary to let one card overlap another enough to display the figure on the margin, and you can play with perfect ease, with rapidity, and without danger of any one seeing your hand. Prying eyes, whether innocent or dishonest, will be baffled.

Notices of the Press.

READING CLUB No. 1.

"We have many readers and books that purport to furnish pieces for the use of amateur speakers and juvenile orators. But the great defect in nearly all of them is, that their selections are made from the same series of authors. We are surfeited ad nauseam with 'The boy stood on the burning deck,' 'On Linden, when the sun was low,' 'My name is Norval!' or, 'My voice is still for war.' But in this volume, the first of a series, Mr. Baker deviates from the beaten track, and furnishes some fifty selections which have not been published before in any collection of readings. Mr. Baker has himself written many pieces for the amateur stage, and achieved a reputation as a public reader, so that he is eminently qualified by his own experience for the task of teaching others."—Phil. Age.

"No. 1 contains some of the finest productions of our popular authors, and in the coming numbers there will be found scenes from standard plays suitable for Reading Clubs. This author is assisting in raising the standard of amateur performances, and we hope his works will meet with the favor that they deserve."—Worces. Palladium.

"Mr. Baker has used great judgment in his selections, which, in nearly all instances, show the various authors in their best and happiest vein."—Arcadian, N. Y.

"This little book and its successors, will be, after vacation, invaluable to schoolboy's sisters, who are continually teased about 'a piece to speak.'"—Advertiser.

"This little volume supplies a want often felt by those who have to get up exhibitions or public entertainments. Mr. Baker has had much experience in the matter, and he knows just what is needed. We hardly see how his choice of selections could be improved."—Press.

READING CLUB No. 2.

"The selections of this second part have been very judiciously made. They are by no means limited to any day and date, but range from Shakespeare's Trial Scene, taken from the 'Merchant of Venice,' and the 'Modest Cousins,' by Sheridan Knowles, down to the contemporary literature furnished by the 'Fat Contributor,' and taken from the pages of the Aldine, and the Atlantic Monthly. The efforts of any reading club to amuse and instruct the communities where they are located, must be materially aided by these selections of Mr. Baker."—Illus. Age.

"The selections appear to have been judiciously made, and embrace such favorites as Holmes's 'Opening of the Piano,' Ruskin's 'Workers and Thinkers,' Nora Perry's 'The Last Ride,' 'Thomas Corwin's 'Militia General,' Will Carleton's 'Goin' Home To-day,' Lover's 'Quaker Meeting,' Sheridan Knowles's 'The Modest Cousin,' Whittier's 'The Sisters,' the Trial Scene from 'The Merchant of Venice,' R. H. Stoddard's 'Two Anchors,' and the experiences of the Pickwick Club on ice, from Dickens."—Portland (Me.) Press.

"Mr. Baker deserves the thanks of the reading public for his indefatigable endeavors in the field of light and agreeable literature. The selections are made with good taste, and the book will be of great value for its indicated purpose."—New Haven Courier.

"In its adaptation to day schools, seminaries, colleges, and home reading, the work will be found very superior in its variety and adaptability of contents."—Dayton (Ohio) Press.

READING CLUB No. 3.

"This is one of those books that our teachers ought to have at hand to spice up with now and then. This is No. 3 of the series, and they are all brim full of short articles, serious, humorous, pathetic, patriotic, and dramatic. Send and get one, and you will be sure to get the rest."—St. Louis Journal of Education, Jan. 1876.

"These selections are well made, and provide a class of pieces in frequent demand, but by some misfortune no one seems to know where to find it in the exigent season. Better make a note of this, or, wiser still, buy it and keep it on hand."—Methodist Protestant, Baltimore, Md., Jan. 1, 1876.

"The young elocutionist will find it a convenient pocket companion, and the general reader derive much amusement at odd moments from its perusal."—Forest and Stream, N. Y., Jan. 6, 1876.

"All kinds of sentiments find expression here. The happy fancies of Dickens, the mirthful sketches of Mark Twain, the melodies of Charles Sprague, the drolleries of Dr. Holmes and Tom Hood, find place with the historical and didactic extracts from Story, Phillips, Curtis, Clay, Sumner, and Horace Mann. The disquisitions of 'Josiah Allen's Wife' vie with those of Charles Francis Adams to entertain, amuse and instruct."—The Liberal Christian, N. Y., Jan. 15, 1876.

"Just now, where there is so much reading in public clubs and societies, reading in drawing-rooms and parlors, as well as upon the stage, a small volume like this is very welcome. The selections are choice. Each number covers but a few pages, and is prepared in an acceptable form."—N. Y. Express, Dec. 22, 1875.

MANUAL FOR RAILROAD ENGINEERS

AND

Engineering Students,

CONTAINING

THE RULES AND TABLES NEEDED FOR THE LOCATION, CONSTRUCTION, AND EQUIPMENT OF RAILROADS AS BUILT IN THE UNITED STATES.

By GEORGE L. VOSE,

Professor of Civil Engineering in Bowdoin College.

THIS complete work, which has now passed to its third edition, owes its success mainly to its practical character, the greater part of the matter being drawn from the actual practice of American engineers. Scientific discussions of engineering problems have purposely been avoided. Very little of mathematics has been introduced, — for even accomplished mathematicians have little time to stop in the midst of engineering practice to deduce a required rule from first principles, — but a large part of the work is devoted to those technical details upon the correct execution of which so much of the success of engineering depends, the actual dimensions figured upon the large plates being the result of the experience of our best engineers. The plates accompanying the work, thirty one in number, of the dimensions of 8 × 12 inches, are engraved on wood, from working drawings; and the whole work has received the warmest commendations from renowned and skilled engineers.

The work is a complete instructor in the several engineering departments to which it is devoted, viz.: —

Reconnoissance.
Survey.
Location.
Laying out Work.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

"After reading this book, and comparing it with the school histories to whose perusal American youth have been heretofore condemned, we can no longer wonder that Americans have been reproached with an ignorance of history. For the first time a man of genius has undertaken to tell the story of our country's growth — not a professional book-maker, thinking only of his copyright, but a man of culture, who knows not only history, but human nature, too, knows what is the pleasant side of learning and how to hold it up to eager gazers. We trust that this admirable History — admirable not only as a literary composition, but as a pleasant and safe guide for the young to a knowledge of our national career — will open the eyes of educationists and the public to the fact that the preparation of textbooks for the instruction of the young is too weighty and solemn a task to be intrusted to mere compilers, who put neither heart nor brains into their work." — Literary World.

"The book is so written that every child old enough to read history at all will understand and like it, and persons of the fullest information and purest taste will admire it." — Boston Daily Advertiser.

"It is marvellous to note how happily Mr. Higginson, in securing an amazing compactness by his condensation, has avoided alike superficiality and dullness." — Boston Transcript.

THE BATTLE OF LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN.

"Mr. Higginson was well qualified to write such a work; he has long been occupied with studies in American history, and he is a genial, painstaking, accurate, and picturesque writer, with a high conception of the work he had to do." — Springfield Republican.

"The theory of the book can be briefly stated: It is, that American history is one of the most attractive of all subjects, and can be made interesting to old and young by being presented in a simple, clear, and graphic way." — Pub. Preface.

"Compact, clear, and accurate. . . . This unpretending little book is the best general history of the United States we have seen." — Nation.

"The style is admirable. The facts are related in precise, perspicuous language; it sets an example to its young readers which such books often fail to do." — N. Y. Eve. Post.

NOW COMPLETE.

THE BEST OF ALL THE EDITIONS

OF THE

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS.

THE STANDARD ILLUSTRATED LIBRARY EDITION.

Complete in 30 Volumes, Demy 8vo. Price $3.00 per volume. In fine cloth.
(English price, 10s.)

This edition is printed on a finer paper and in larger type than has been employed in any other edition. The type has been cast especially for it, and the page is of a size to admit of the introduction of all the original illustrations. These are printed from the steels and blocks on which the original artists themselves were engaged.

No such attractive issue has been made of the writings of Mr. Dickens, which, various as have been the forms of publication adapted to the demands of an ever widely-increasing popularity, have never yet been worthily presented in a really handsome library form.

The want has been extensively felt, and was so often brought under the notice of the publishers, that the present enterprise was undertaken to satisfy it.

The collection comprises all the minor writings it was Mr. Dickens's wish to preserve.

MANUFACTURED BY

Lockwood, Brooks & Company,

381 WASHINGTON STREET AND 10 BROMFIELD STREET,

BOSTON, MASS.

This Engraving represents "The Congress Office Mucilage Stand," designed expressly for us, and made in our own mould. It is especially adapted, from its shape, for a substantial and convenient Mucilage Stand, for Office and Family use. It lies flat to the table, and is much less exposed to accidents of any kind than stands of the ordinary form. From the beauty of its design, and general adaptedness to the purpose for which it is intended, it far exceeds all others now in use.

THE CONGRESS MUCILAGE.

Devotional Books, Tracts, etc., for Popular Use.

THESE little books embody plain and concise applications of Christian truth, on numerous important subjects of faith and duty. They are fresh, pointed, and earnest; and are, in the best sense, up to the times. From the pens, for the most part, of American authors, they are especially adapted to American use in revivals, and all the methods of Christian work among our own people. They are particularly recommended to churches, missionary societies, Y. M. C. Associations, &c.; to which they may be furnished, when desired, at largely reduced rates.

☞ Packages amounting to twenty-five cents or over will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of the price. For less than that sum, a two-cent postage-stamp should be inclosed in the order.

CATALOGUE OF PUBLICATIONS.

D. Lothrop & Co.'s New Bookstore, corner Franklin and Hawley Sts.

D. LOTHROP & CO., BOSTON.

Alphabetical Catalogue.

ANDY LUTTRELL. By Clara Vance. 16mo. ($500 Prize Series.) Illustrated. $1 50

Andy Luttrell is an infidel, fierce, independent, almost desperate; a character of great power and no little genius, and handled so as to make a vivid and yet a healthful impression. This is a book for young men and young women.

AUNT MATTY. By Mabel Hazelton. 16mo. ($500 Prize Series.) Illustrated, ... 1 50

Is a quiet story of domestic life and experiences, in which true Christian sentiments, biblical knowledge, and the working of religious influences upon various types of mind, are pleasantly and impressively set forth.

ARCHIBALD HAMILTON. By E. W. B. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

By the author of the prize tract, "The Captain and his Orderly." A story of lively incident and thrilling interest for boys.

ANECDOTES OF ANIMALS; or, Two Great Families of the Animal Kingdom. By Mrs. Hugh Miller. 12mo. Illustrated. 1 50

The book is handsomely printed in large, clear type, its illustrations are numerous and excellent, its text is of that peculiar anecdotal interest which is always acceptable to the young, and through which a high moral influence is happily exerted.

ADVENTURES OF JAMIE AND JENNIE. By Mrs. L. M. Child. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

Full of tender sentiment, wise lessons, and good counsels.

ALICE BENSON'S TRIALS. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

Alice Benson's trials supply not a little in the way of illustrating the experience of young girls who earnestly endeavor to follow Christ, and who find that faithfulness costs much prayer and patience. Her fidelity brings her a noble victory at last.

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

AGNES AND HER NEIGHBORS. By Frances Lee Pratt. 16mo. 1 50

The character of Agnes is simply charming, and admirably drawn; the whole influence of the book is elevating, and no one can read it without benefit. — DR. LINCOLN.

ANNA MAYLIE. By Ella Farman. 16mo. . . . 1 50

It gives us the story of faithful, patient, trustful, resolute work in the Sunday School, the home, and in the field of the western religious pioneer. The variety of characters and incidents is large. On its literary side it is more than a creditable, it is a superior product. But the excellence and the charm lie chiefly in the pure, high-toned, gracious, and stimulating religious spirit that pervades the entire work.

AULD SCOTCH MITHER (The), and other Poems, in the Dialect of Burns. By Rev. J. E. Rankin, D. D. Finely illustrated by Herrick and others. 1 25

A beautiful volume of poems, many of which are already familiar to readers of our religious and other papers. Geo. McDonald, LL. D., Dr. Waddell, and others commend them highly.

"The author," writes Rev. Ray Palmer, "seems to have caught the true spirit — the naivette and pathos of the Northern muse."

ARCHITECT OF COLOGNE, and other Poems. By Mary E. Atkinson, author of "Ivy Leaves," &c., &c. Illustrated. 1 00

AFRICAN ADVENTURE AND ADVENTURERS. Edited by Rev. G. T. Day, D. D. 16mo. Very fully Illustrated. $1 50

An epitome of the elaborate works of Bruce, Speke and Grant, Baker and Livingstone. The salient points in the works of each are presented in a clear, comprehensive, and attractive manner.

ANNALS OF A QUIET NEIGHBORHOOD. By Geo. Macdonald, LL. D. Large 16mo. Illustrated. . 1 75

Much of what is especially Scottish, as well as what is widely and profoundly human, comes out in the author's vivid sketchings, and we should be sorry for the heart that remained dull or the eyes that failed to grow moist as this panorama of life unrolled itself.

ACTIVE CHRISTIAN (The). From the Writings of John Harris, D. D. 24mo, plain. 25
24mo, gilt. 40
16mo, red line. 1 00

ALICE SUTHERLAND. By Mrs. Mary C. Bristol. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25
Individual influence for good impressively portrayed.

AMERICAN WOMAN IN CHINA (An), and her Missionary Work there. By Rev. J. B. Jeter, D. D. Large 16mo. 1 25
The style of the author is sedate and perspicuous, such as we might expect from his known piety and learning, his attachment to missions, and his esteem of the amiable lady — Mrs. Henrietta Shuck — whose memory he embalms.

ATTRACTIONS OF HEAVEN (The). Edited by Rev. H. A. Graves. Plain. 25
24mo, gilt. 40

BRIGHT DAYS. By Mary Howitt. 16mo. Four Full-page Illustrations. 1 25
Looking at things from the child's point of view.

BIBLE PICTURES. By George B. Ide, D. D. 12mo. 2 00
Large edition, tinted paper, illustrated. 4 00
Portrayed with that richness of thought, and that clearness and strength of style, in which Dr. Ide so remarkably excelled.

BRITISH NOVELISTS AND THEIR STYLES. By David Masson. 16mo. New Edition. 1 25
A critical sketch of the history of prose fiction. It is a keen and searching critique, and will be read with interest by all who can appreciate genuine literary merit.

BARBARA. By the author of "Silent Tom." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
It is of superior merit, with characters of high order, and finely drawn. A popular book, one of the author's best. — H. LINCOLN, D. D.

BOLD AS A LION. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 30
Shows how sin "makes cowards of us all."

BROWN PONY. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 25
Shows the sin of covetousness, and the wickedness of breaking the Sabbath Day.

THE BLACKSMITH. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 25
A man used to hard work; he feared nothing, but could not stand against his child's faith in God.

BEAUTY BENSON. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 25
A story of the pet of the family, spoiled by indulgence.

BUTLER'S COMMENTARY. By Rev Dr. Butler. 12mo. Cloth binding, clear type (letter press). 495 pp. Illustrated. 2 00
The notes are brief, pithy, always direct, definite in aim, and excellent in spirit.

BLUE-EYED JIMMY; or, The Good Boy. By Sophia Homespun. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00
A pleasant story from real life, which puts proper honor upon the qualities that grow up from vigorous boyhood into true manliness.

BILL RIGGS, JR. By Olive A. Wadsworth. 18mo. Illustrated. 75
A touching story of the efforts of a motherless boy to care for his little brothers and his intemperate father.

BUILDING STONES. New $500 Prize Series. 16mo. Illustrated, ... 1 25
A successful attempt to teach Bible truths in a manner both interesting and instructive. The curiosity is excited, and the mind kept on the alert, while important lessons are enforced. It is an admirable book for Sunday School Libraries. — REV. DR. LINCOLN.

BLIND JAKEY. By Clara Dotey. 18mo. Illustrated. 60
A little orphan blind boy's story.

BOAT-BUILDER'S FAMILY (The). By Rev. Z. A. Mudge. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25
A story of the sea, for boys.

BURIED CITIES OF CAMPANIA. By W. H. Davenport Adams. 12mo. Fully illustrated. 1 50
A book of great interest and value, in which the story of Pompeii and Herculaneum is concisely, but ably and most interestingly, told.

BUD AND BLOSSOM. By Mrs. M. L. Clark. To which is added "BLUE VIOLET." 16mo. Profusely illustrated. 50
A new story book for young children.

BATTLES LOST AND WON. By George E. Merrill. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
The characters show themselves in words and life; the style is good and full of elasticity; the story is full of interest. A liberal mixture of fun does not blunt at all the moral tone of the book, which is pure and high.

BOYS AND BOYS. To which is added "KINDNESS." 18mo. Illustrated. 50

BRANCHES OF PALM. By the author of "Evening Rest." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
It is a continuation of "Evening Rest," and, like that, is excellent in spirit, original in style, admirable in tone, and peculiarly interesting.

BLOUNT FAMILY (The); or, A Widow's Toil, Trust, and Triumph. By Rev. Theron Brown. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
Good every way. The story is instructive and well sustained, increasing in interest to the end.

BOOK-STALL BOY OF BATHERTON (The). By Edwin Hodder. 16mo. Illustrated. 75
A story which will interest lads of ambitious tendencies, for it shows how, by his own exertions, and by a faithful discharge of the duties set before him, a poor boy may rise to honor and credit.

BEN'S BOYHOOD. By Mrs. C. E. Bowen. To which is added "TRUSTED AND TRIED." 16mo. . . . . 7[illegible]
Industry leads to content and happiness. Six full-page illustrations.

D. LOTHROP & CO'S PUBLICATIONS.

BRAVE BOY (A). 18mo. 25
Bright stories with beautiful pictures.

BIRTHDAY PRESENT. By Mary Latham Clark. 18mo. Illustrated. 75
Embraces twenty distinct tales, each of which has a good moral — not at the end, but all the way through.

BOY'S HEAVEN. By Mrs. L. M. Child. 18mo. Illustrated. 75
Containing Martin Luther's explanation to his son, Hansigen, of a boy's heaven. It is full of beautiful thoughts and fancies, of pathos and poetry, of seriousness and sunshine.

BROTHER AND SISTER. 18mo. Illustrated. . 75
"Brother and Sister" exhibits the struggles, trials, and triumphs of an orphaned boy and girl, who battled bravely with hardship, kept their faith in God, and gained wisdom and strength through their trials. The little volume will do good.

BUNYAN'S HOLY WAR. 24mo. Muslin binding. 30

BLOOMFIELD. By Elizabeth Warren, author of "The Story of Martin Luther," &c. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
An interesting story, exhibiting piety in its unobtrusive aspects, as "steady, calm, meditative, and trustful," and which does not overlook home work in its devotion to that abroad.

BYE-PATH MEADOW. By E. Paxton Hood, author of "Lamps, Pitchers, and Trumpets." 16mo. . 1 50
"Bye-Path Meadow" is a book having abundance of character. It holds an interesting story of English life, but its great merit is found in the wise counsels and faithful warnings to the young, by one who is at once sympathetic, earnest, and wise.

BETTER THAN GOLD. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 30
The story of two little girls thrown out into the world to gain a living; one with the fear of God in her heart, the other with a love for show and gain. The contrast is well drawn.

BABES IN THE BASKET; or, Daph and her Charge. Quarto edition. Illustrated. 1 25
Library edition. Illustrated. 75

This story is gracefully told, and gives a touching picture of the love, fidelity, and patient bravery of Daph, a kind-hearted negress, in the rescue and support of two helpless children.

BROKEN FETTERS. By the author of "Evening Rest," and "Branches of Palm." 16mo. Illustrated. . 1 50

In style, clear; in sentiment, religious; in characters, varied; in incidents, full, and sometimes thrilling. An attractive and valuable book. — Chr. Era.

EDITH PRESCOT; or, Lessons of Love. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

One of our best stories for children is "Edith Prescot," a book written by Mrs. Marshall. It is very engagingly told, and superior in style and treatment to most of the juveniles of the day. There is a great deal of real sense and refinement in these fitly-styled "lessons of love." — DR. HOLLAND ("Timothy Titcomb"), in the Springfield Republican.

ELSIE WOOD. To which is added "FORGIVEN." 18mo. Illustrated. 50

EMIGRANT CHILDREN (The); or, Learning to Follow Jesus. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

EVERY MAN IN HIS PLACE. A Story for Boys. 16mo. Illustrated. 75

It affords a fine insight into German life, while inculcating lessons of true nobleness.

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

EVENING REST. By L. L. ($1000 Prize Series. Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

One of the most original stories in Sabbath School literature. It opens a new vein, and works it with singular success. The characters are novel in conception, and reveal a rare insight in the author, while curious incident and natural dialogue open a succession of surprises to the reader, and keep his interest at high tension. A more beautiful picture of a country pastor leading his flock by force of character, or of a Christian family making religion natural and magnetic, it would be difficult to find.

EVENINGS AT HOME; or, The Juvenile Budget Opened. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

An entertaining and instructive book for the home circle.

ESOP'S FABLES. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

EASTERN MANNERS AND CUSTOMS. Profusely illustrated. 50

ESTER RIED. By Pansy. 12mo. Illustrated. . . 1 50

We stand face to face with real every-day characters and situations, and are shown the actual struggles through which victorious souls must go to their successive and loftier heights, and to their final coronation.

EASY READING FOR LITTLE FOLKS. 16mo. Large print. Fully illustrated. 40

EFFIE'S FRIENDS, and other Stories. By Laurie Loring. 16mo. 30 full-page illustrations. 50

EXCELLENT WOMAN (The), as described in the Book of Proverbs. With an Introduction by the Rev. William B. Sprague, D. D. Embellished with numerous illustrations engraved by Baker. Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
Extra 8vo. 2 50

A beautiful commentary on Solomon's description of a virtuous woman, inculcating some of the soundest maxims of wisdom.

FIRESIDE ANGEL. By T. S. Arthur. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

"The Fireside Angel and other stories, a volume of two hundred pages, by T. S. Arthur, is one of the most charming little books we have seen. The stories take hold of the heart, and leave an excellent moral impression.

FAITHFUL PROMISER (The). By Mrs. J. R. Macduff. 18mo. 50

FOX'S BOOK OF MARTYRS. 32mo edition complete. Illustrated. 25

True heroes were the Martyrs for the Truth. Their sad but splendid memories will ever be cherished with interest and profit by the young and the old.

FALL OF JERUSALEM (The). 18mo. Thirty-four illustrations. 50

One of the most thrilling episodes in the history of the world, the siege and destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans, is, in this volume, very interestingly portrayed for youthful readers.

FAIR PLAY and other Stories. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 30

Exhibits the selfishness of Andy, who always wanted his own way, to the annoyance of his playfellows, but by the good example of his friend Joe, is led to see his error.

FLOWER BY THE PRISON. (New $500 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

A book of rare merit. The chief characters are most clearly drawn, the moral and religious lessons conveyed by the story are of the best sort, and they impress themselves strongly upon the mind and heart of the reader as he follows along the course of the story.

FROM NIGHT TO LIGHT. A beautiful and thrilling story of Bible times. 16mo. Illustrated. . . . 1 25

Reverent in spirit, and attractive in style; presents vivid pictures of oriental life, and happily reproduces for modern readers one of the most significant portions of Jewish history.

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

FINISHED OR NOT. By the author of "Fabrics." 12mo. Illustrated. 1 50

A first-class book, showing high power in drawing characters, and penetrating to the springs of life.

FAITHFUL, BUT NOT FAMOUS. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

The scenes and incidents are laid in France during the days of the Protestant persecutions, which culminated in the massacre of St. Bartholomew. It is not easy to write about a dreadful crime, and still to make some of its actors and sufferers take part in a simple narrative of domestic life. But this the author, who may be credited with at least two previous successes, "Soldier Fritz" and "Maggie's Message," has done, and done well.

FERN GLEN; or, Lilian's Prayer. By M. H. Holt. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

Lilian was what she prayed to be, "A good gift in her uncle's home."

FANNY'S BIBLE TEXT. 16mo. Illustrated. . . 75

Shows how much the truth, counsels, and promises of the Bible are worth, even to the young, who study and treasure them up, and apply them in daily life.

FAMOUS ISLANDS and Memorable Voyages. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

Entertaining and instructive facts replete with curious information.

FABRICS. By the author of "Finished, or Not." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It touches the finer sensibilities, appeals to our better nature, and inculcates the lesson of loving and living for others.

FAITHFUL MINISTRY (A). Edited by Geo. B. Bacon, D. D. 16mo. 1 50

Clear, sensible, effective presentations of religious truth, by the late Rev. John Milton Holmes. There flows through every page the strong current which can only proceed from the fountain of a great and genial nature.

FISHER BOY (The); or, Michael Penguyne. By W. H. G. Kingston. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

Impressive glimpses of fisher life on the Cornish coast, suggesting important lessons.

FIRST EXPLORERS OF NORTH AMERICA. By J. Banvard, D. D. With Introduction by G. T. Day, D.D. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

Interesting scenes and events in the New World are here brought together and invested with a charm that is irresistible by old as well as young. — Christian Intelligencer.

FANNY. By Mrs. Martha J. Lamb. 18mo. Ill. 60

One of the favorite "play school stories," of "real children."

FAMILY CIRCLE (The): its Affections and Pleasures. Edited by Rev. H. A. Graves. 24mo, plain. 25
24mo, gilt. 40

GRANDPA'S DARLINGS. By Pansy. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

Many a "darling" will be delighted with this charming and instructive book. It is not only a true story from life, but the names given of the real "darlings" are their real names.

GOSPEL LIFE OF JESUS (The). By L. A. Davis. 16mo. 1 00

The fruit of study and labor, carried on with great enthusiasm and fidelity, and the work is well done. — H. LINCOLN, D. D.

GOOD FIGHT (A); or, George Dana Boardman and the Burman Mission. By Rev. A. King. With an Introductory Essay by W. R. Williams, D.D. New edition. Large 16mo. 1 25

One of the brightest luminaries of Burmah. He fell gloriously at the head of his troops — in the arms of victory, — thirty-eight wild Karens having been brought into the camp of King Jesus since the beginning of the year. Disabled by wounds, he was obliged, through the whole of the last expedition, to be carried on a litter; but his presence was a host, and the Holy Spirit accompanied his dying whispers with almighty influence. — Rev. Dr. Judson.

GLAD TIDINGS; or, The Gospel of Peace. A Series of Daily Meditations for Christian Disciples. By Rev. W. K. Tweedie, D. D. With an elegant Illustrated Title-page. Large 16mo. 1 25

It is remarkable for condensation, for a deep evangelical tone, and for putting itself into direct contact with the conscience and the heart.—Alb'y Argus.

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

GOOD LITTLE MITTY. By Mrs. L. M. Child. 18mo. Illustrated. 75

A book that carries a rare charm on almost every page.

GLENCOE PARSONAGE. By Mrs. A. E. Porter. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

Is a book with a character and a purpose. It is made up of liberal extracts from the journal of a lady who begins her record as the happy wife of a minister, and the mother of a promising boy. The future before her looked inviting. Her husband was killed, and the boy grew to grieve in many ways the mother's heart. But her love, and patience, and prayers encompassed him ever, and she was rewarded in seeing him turn to pursue the steps of a noble manhood.

GRACE'S VISIT; or, The Wrong Way to cure a Fault. By Mrs. M. E. Bradley. 16mo. Illustrated. . 80

GREGORY GOLD. By Rev. J. D. Strong. 24mo. Illustrated. 25

Wealth, health, and friends had Gregory Gold, but he was without God. Richard Moreton was poor, but by his example leads his friend to be rich in faith.

GEORGE CLIFFORD'S LOSS AND GAIN. By the author of "Stories and Pictures from Church History." A splendid book for boys. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

It most impressively illustrates the important truth that religion is the first and chief concern, that to seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness brings the hundred fold in this life, and that strict integrity and fidelity in all the lesser matters of secular life ultimately shall receive their reward.

GARLAND OF POETRY AND PROSE (The). A companion volume to "The Treasury of Literature and Art." Quarto. Elegantly illustrated 4 50

A delightful volume, tasteful, elegant, and refined. Extracts to suit all tastes, "from grave to gay, from lively to severe."

GOLDEN LINES. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It is the journal of a minister's wife, abounding in living incident, and remarkable for truthfulness to life and Christian experience. To any one who loves the Lord Jesus, and wishes to be more like him, this will prove a book of rare interest.

GRACE AVERY'S INFLUENCE. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning. ($1000 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. . 1 50

It is written with a high aim, and with skill and taste. It follows the career of a young girl, developing a very lovely and sterling Christian character, gaining great victories for herself, and making her fidelity a power to lift many worldly souls about her to a better and truer position. It strongly impresses the always-needed lesson that Christian fidelity, tempered by a loving spirit, is a victorious force wherever it acts. It is a book that will strongly call the reader to a style of life that has both nobility and beauty in it.

GLIMPSES THROUGH. By the author of "Katharine's Experience." ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

With noble views of sickness, death, and the future world, it is tender and comforting, and rich in literary and religious allusions and quotations.

GOLDEN GEMS. From various authors. Compiled by Maria G. Bradley. 12mo. 1 25

A collection of gems in a beautiful casket. Certain it is that it is a work which one cannot open without finding many things that strengthen, please, and comfort.

GRANDMA CROSBY'S HOUSEHOLD. By Ella Farman, author of "Anna Maylie," &c. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

The pictures of Western life are pleasing, and the moral, that one of the best ways of getting good is by doing good to others, is instructive. Every reader will enjoy the vigorous life of "The Sunday School in the Woods," an many other scenes.

GOOD WORK. By Mary Dwinell Chellis. 16mo. 1 50

It is a story of earnest and very successful struggles against many obstacles; of Christian self-denial and brave personal services in behalf of the unhappy; of sin and its sad consequences; and of heavenly charity and forgiveness.

GIRL'S MONEY (A). By Ella Farman, author of "Anna Maylie," "A Little Woman," &c. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

This author never fails to interest and profit the reader.

GETHSEMANE; or, Meditations and Prayers on the Last Hours of the Sufferings and Death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Translated from the German of Charlotte Elizabeth Nebelin. Edited by Mrs. Colin Mackenzie. Large 16mo. 1 25

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

HAPS AND MISHAPS OF CHILDHOOD. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

Short stories, not one of which is prosy, or feeble, or aimless, or anything else than good.

HOURS OF CHRISTIAN DEVOTION. 16mo. By Dr. A. Tholuck. Tinted paper, extra binding. . . . 2 00
Bevelled boards, gilt sides. 1 50
Plain English cloth. 1 00

Rev. Horatius Bonar, D. D., says; "This new volume of Dr. Tholuck will prove that there is no necessity for being flat and monotonous in a work of devotion, and that even in this region there can be found richness of thought and beauty of expression, that tell us we are in the society of a poet, and a thinker, and a critic, as well as of a man of God, and that make us hesitate whether to designate these 'Hours of Devotion' a series of fine expositions, or an assemblage of lofty meditations, or a succession of noble hymns."

HESTER'S HAPPY SUMMER. (New $500 Prize Series.) By Mary E. Atkinson. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

It is rare to find a story of such sweetness and beauty. The pathos is tender and all pervading, and steals into the heart with a refining power. The tone of the book is most healthy, making the world seem a better place to live in, because good people are found where least expected, and happiness is found in any station by unselfish lives. The influence of religion on different natures, and its ennobling power on all, are finely drawn.

HINTS FOR LIVING. By Rev. O. A. Kingsbury. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

A book of plain talks and wise counsels to the young, by a man who understands both them and the living world which they inhabit.

HOME SUNSHINE; or, Bear and Forbear. 16mo. Illustrated. 75

A life-like picture of home experiences, helpful in enabling the young to bear what cannot be laid off, and do what duty requires should be done.

HOW AND WHY; or, Search the Scriptures. From the French of G. De Felice. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

A treatise on the authenticity and value of the Bible, written clearly and forcibly, illustrated with numerous incidents, and in a style sufficiently entertaining to attract the young.

D. LOTHROP & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

MARGARET WORTHINGTON. By Katharine Provost. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It is excellent. Its prominent feature is found in the account it gives of a young, intelligent, vivacious girl, manifesting a genuine and splendid girlhood, and a thoroughly human interest in the innocent pleasures and gayeties of life, a calm, intelligent, and earnest Christian purpose to make her life and influence tell favorably upon a cultivated and pleasant family, whose members truly love each other and admire her, but who seem to give her divine Master no place in home or heart. Her radiant piety, her rational but firm devotion to principle, and her fervent and trustful prayers, bring their reward.

MYTHS AND HEROES; or, The Childhood of the World. Edited by Rev. S. F. Smith, D. D. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 75

It abounds in carefully collected information, showing the progressive steps of the human race, and the progress of the mind in attaining ideas of God, of His government, and of the nature and offices of religion. The book is richly worth the attention of intelligent readers, young and old.

On a simple story is grafted description of places and events, anecdotes of animals, birds, &c., full of interest to the young.

THE PERFECT MAN; or, Jesus an Example of Godly Life. By Rev. Harry Jones. 1 00

The Christian teaching of a noble, cultured nature has rarely, if ever, been put into such sweet, pure English as runs like a pebbly book through this timely volume. In every chapter there is a wealth of clearly-defined and heart-searching suggestions, put in a natural, direct, and manly way, which is as different from official and technical utterance as a meadow from an album of dried grasses. We hope that the little volume which treats so tenderly and wisely of Jesus as an example of godly life, will win, as it deserves, a large and grateful audience. — Christian Union.

RUTHIE SHAW; or, The Good Girl. By Sophia Homespun. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00
A collection of well-drawn portraits, among which Ruthie, the little human and Christian heroine, has the deserved place of honor.

ROMNEYS OF RIDGEMONT (The). By Julia A. Eastman, author of the $1000 Prize Story, "Striking for the Right." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50
Just the book to carry home. It will make sunshine in the house. Readers will learn more about the heroine of this story in the volume entitled "The School Days of Beulah Romney." Dr. Lincoln says, "The Romneys of Ridgemont is one of the best works of its class, with a freshness like the morning air, and a sparkle like the dewdrop in the sun."

ROSE AND MILLIE. By the author of "Hester's Happy Summer." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

In Rose and Millie, by the author of that very exquisite and high-toned volume, "Hester's Happy Summer," the same unambitious and charming simplicity, naturalness, and sympathy with real life appear in the later volume that lent such a rare and quiet charm to the earlier.

ROBINSONS (The). By Mary L. Bissell. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

Is very fresh and sparkling, and perfectly natural. A great favorite with the younger children, for whom it is specially designed.

ROBIN THE RUNNER. 16mo. Illustrated. . . 60

An interesting record of temptations, strongly marshalled, but bravely met, and grandly mastered.

ROBBIE'S PETS. To which is added "NELLIE'S SUNBEAM." 18mo. Illustrated. 50

RUBIES. Stories for the Young. Illustrations of familiar Proverbs, with 62 Engravings. Large 18mo. . . 75

RALPH'S POSSESSION. By George Hopkins. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

There is some pleasant narrative, some lively managed colloquies, some skilful portraiture and happy character, some very charming pictures of home life, some beautiful glimpses of childhood, some brilliant jets of wit, some welcome gleams of humor. But it is chiefly a revelation of the deeper heart-life, especially of Ralph Cushing, as he gropes and fights his way from worldliness, and doubt, and resistance of heart, to submission, and faith, and peace.

RABAUT AND BRIDAINE. From the French of L. L. F. Bungener. 12mo. Illustrated. 1 50

A continuation of the fascinating narrative of "Louis XV. and his Times."

It is a volume at once curious, instructive, and fascinating. Its extensive sale in France is evidence enough of its extraordinary merit and its peculiarly attractive qualities. — Ch. Advocate.

RALPH AND DICK. By W. H. G. Kingston. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

A sea story.

SCHOOL LIFE. Tales and Pictures of School Life. 24mo. Illustrated. 30

SABRINA HACKET. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It is one of the freshest, cheeriest, oddest, tenderest, healthiest, sensiblest Sunday school books that we have seen for many a day. It describes school life as one ought to who knows all about it, and the girl or the boy who reads it will lay it down with wet eyelashes, and with new impulses to a better life. — N. Y. Independent.

SHINING HOURS. ($500 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

Is a work of much quiet beauty and artistic merit. Hooffs, the blacksmith, and John Burt, the hunter, are characters from ordinary life, full of freshness, humor, and common sense.

SUSIE'S WATCH. 24mo. Illustrated. 30

Encourages to be up and doing, watching for Jesus, guarding against the entrance of sin into the heart. A simple story for children.

SUNNY SKIES; or, Adventures in Italy. By Barbara H. Channing. 16mo. Six Full-page Illustrations. 1 25

A most instructive and interesting book of travels for young people.

SYBIL'S WAY. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

Sybil's Way is a book that, while underlain with a Christian purpose, overflows with animal spirits, as a soda bottle effervesces when it is shaken.

SHORT COMINGS AND LONG GOINGS. (New $500 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

Full of sparkle and glow, and throbbing in every paragraph with intense life, it teaches the highest lessons of duty and religion with equal quietude and effect.

STARLIGHT STORIES. 18mo. Illustrated. . . 75

Comprising half a dozen very pleasant, instructive, and well written tales, painting its subjects as they are found in actual life, and teaching and impressing the best lessons. It is sure to be popular, as it deserves to be.

STRAWBERRY HILL. By the author of "Andy Luttrell." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

The story especially exalts the settled faith and the working beneficence of the gospel, making the possessor's life beautiful in itself, and the service redeeming to others. The characters are admirably drawn and developed.

SUSIE'S SPECTACLES. ($500 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

The spectacles which it tells of are meant for the eyes of the mind instead of the body, and they help in discovering faults in one's self, and virtues in others, in making duty plain, and in showing how unlovely is selfishness, and how beautiful is a loving heart and a useful life. — The Advance.

STORY OF FOUR LIVES (A). By Mrs. A. K. Dunning. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

The heroines are four young ladies just leaving school. A valuable moral is pointed by their experience in actual life. A very elegant volume.

STORIES FROM THE MOORLAND. By Elizabeth Bates. A Story of the Scotch Covenanters. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

STORY OF A SUMMER (The); or, What do Ye More than Others? By Mrs. Mary E. Bradley. 18mo. Illustrated. 60

Illustrating Christian faithfulness in a fashionable summer boarding-house.

SHELL COVE. A Story of the Seashore and of the Sea. By Rev. Z. A. Mudge. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

Shell Cove gives both interesting and valuable information about life on the seashore and on the sea. Its moral tone is healthy and invigorating.

SCHOOL DAYS OF BEULAH ROMNEY. By Julia A. Eastman. A companion volume to "The Romneys of Ridgemont." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

Is a book of superior excellence in plan, development, style, and moral; the characters are drawn to the life; it has scenes of intense power, both in passion and pathos; its religious tone is as healthy and as all-pervading as the sunlight.

STANIFORDS OF STANIFORD'S FOLLY (The). By Mrs. E. D. Kendall, author of "Judge's Son," "Master and Pupil," &c. 16mo. Illustrated. . . 1 50

Full of fine feeling and sound teaching. The incidents are interesting, and many of them extremely touching. It will be welcomed by a large class of readers, old and young. It is worthy of an honorable place in literature.

SISTER ELEANOR'S BROOD. By Mrs. S. B. Phelps. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

This is a splendid story for the young people, and will be enjoyed by adults. Eleanor's brood consisted of nine children, and the strength of the story lies in the tact displayed on the part of the mother in protecting and sustaining her brood while having to share the adverse fortunes of her husband. There is enough incident to make the story fascinating, and at the same time it has a fascination in its purity of tone and high moral sentiment.

SURE; or, It Pays. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

Is especially meant to show how hard-hearted avarice overreaches itself, and that injustice is doomed to exposure and retribution, while, sooner or later, truth, and honor, and generosity find a vindication and reward. The book is every way wholesome in tendency, and ministers naturally and strongly to what is highest in social morals and vital in religion.

STRIKING FOR THE RIGHT. (For which the unequalled premium of $1000 was given.) By Julia A. Eastman. Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 75

Healthy in tone, rich in incident, abounding in humor, with characters drawn to the life, and with touches of truest pathos.

"A great favorite with the boys."

"Its special aim is to get justice and mercy exalted in the treatment of brutes, and beyond this it is a noble plea for a true domestic and moral training of the young."

Hon. George T. Angell writes: "It may do as much for our dumb servants and companions as 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' did for the slave. It is undoubtedly the best book of the kind in the world."

SILENT TOM. By N. I. Edson. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 75

The story is startling, and told with great power. Dealing with strong characters, and bringing into vivid contrast the unbelief and the piety of our age. It is a picture of the life of our time, and will hold readers with a magnetism they cannot resist.

STORY OF JOSEPH (The). By W. K. Tweedie, D. D. 18mo. Illustrated. 50

Happily showing the wisdom and goodness of Providence.

A captivating story of sea life.

TOMBS, TEMPLES, AND MONUMENTS of Ancient Greece and Rome. By W. H. Davenport Adams. (Wonder Library.) 12mo. Fully illustrated. . . . 1 50

The valuable information crowded into it is immense, and it is carefully selected, well arranged, and presented in an attractive way.

TRIED IN THE FIRE. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

An excellent story, treating of struggles with sceptics and sceptical tendencies; the logic and instruction admirably infused into the narrative improve to the end.

TALBURY GIRLS (The). By the author of "Andy Luttrell." 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It is a very sweet story, with a large variety of characters well drawn and well sustained. The range of the story is broader than usual, with greater fulness of incident and insight into different spheres of life. The moral is not forced, but unfolds itself naturally and with great power.

THIS ONE THING I DO. By Mrs. A. E. Porter. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

A very superior book. Its literary merit is of a high order, the story itself is well told, and the moral it teaches healthy. The main lesson of the book is suggested by its title, and is clearly brought out and set home with force and effect.

TRIFLES. By Mrs. A. K. Dunning. (New $500 Prize Series.) 16mo. Illustrated. 1 25

"Trifles" is the brief but significant title of a book, written by one of our well-known and popular authors of juvenile literature. She has here, under the guise of a pleasant and interesting story, set forth the influence exerted upon character by what are often deemed little and unimportant things.

WADSWORTH BOYS (The). By D. S. Erickson. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. . 1 50

The boys exhibit rare vigor and independence of character, and, through hard struggles and some mortifying experiences, reach positions of honor, trust, and usefulness, and do credit to the name which a noble father left them to guard and exalt. The sister, Agnes, who subordinated a strong literary ambition to domestic and moral claims, is a fine character, nobly and beautifully human. The book is not sensational, but thoughtful, pleasant, and wholesome, — truly exalting what is noble, and putting under ban whatever is mean, even though clothed with seeming respectability.

WALTER MACDONALD; or, Aunt Kitty's Legacy. By D. O. T. ($1000 Prize Series.) Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

It traces the career of the principal personage from the time of his rescue from shipwreck, at an early age, till he settles down in London, to study for his chosen profession. Not a few strange and striking events are wrought into the narrative, and quite a variety of characters are grouped around the boy whose life unfolds so providentially. His home life at good Dr. Eaton's, the good fortune which came to him through the quaint and original woman known as Aunt Kitty, the plots of the Catholics to obtain possession of his supposed fortune, his abduction and escape from a Romish institution, — all these have a bit of the marvellous and romantic in them. But the motive underlying all is high and Christian.

WILL PHILLIPS. By C. H. R. Large 16mo. Illustrated. 1 50

A thoroughly good book, full of manly life and the highest good sense, with a fine development of a robust, genuine Christianity for boys. It has character, skill, literary art, and real magnetism.

WONDERS NEAR HOME. By Rev. W. Houghton. 16mo. Illustrated. 1 00

A helper to teachers and to young people. It shows that one need not go far from home in search of natural wonders, but that they are abundant everywhere, if the eyes are open to see.

WORD PICTURES. Thoughts and Descriptions from Popular Authors. Boston: D. Lothrop & Co. Illustrated, Price $1.75.--Gilt edges, $2.00.

This volume is inscribed by the author to "the Memory of My Beloved Mother, Margaret Guthrie Strohm, and of the happy days when we read together." A note of acknowledgment to the authors and the publishers represented, answers as a preface to this compilation. One hundred authors are quoted, among whom many are well-known to all, as Grace Aguilar, Louisa M. Alcott, Charlotte Bronte, Bulwer, Dickens, Disraeli, Amanda M. Douglass, Edward Everett Hale, Hawthorne, Victor Hugo, Jean Ingelow, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Charles Reade, Mrs. Stowe, and Bayard Taylor. There is no lack of deep meanings in this collection, and of course all the popular authors could not be represented in a small volume. Forty-two pages of the three hundred and fifteen are devoted to various subjects under the title "Thoughts." The remaining pages are classed "Descriptions and Scenes."

Some selections seem to be chosen to illustrate certain styles of picturesque narrative and are allotted several pages, while others are terse enough to be contained in a few lines. Dickens is awarded the first place, and the opening thoughts are concerning "children." "I love these little people; and it is not a slight thing when they who are so fresh from God love us."

Here is something for the educators of women, by George MacDonald: "Men like women to reflect them; but the woman who can only reflect a man and is nothing in herself will never be of much service to him."

This is a picture, sure enough, from Mrs. Whitney: "She was like a breeze that set everything fluttering, and left the whole house freshened after she had passed on."

Here some "Words of Truth," by Miss Alcott, bear profound philosophy. "It is an excellent plan to have some place where we can go to be quiet when things vex or grieve us. There are a good many hard times in this life of ours, but we can always bear them if we ask help in the right way."

One more selection from the short speeches must suffice: "No life is all sunshine, nor was it so intended. And yet I think God doesn't mean us to fear the future. We are to take up daily events with hopeful hrarts and shape them into a higher form than crude fragments."

Such a book is invaluable in its influence on young people who are just forming their ideas of life. Many of the longer sketches are convenient to take up when one feels like reading, but cannot endure a continuous effort of the mind. A sick person, on recovering enough to be entertained with short readings, would be greatly delighted by judicious use of this attractive kind of medicine for the mind.—The Liberal Christian.

NOTICES FROM PROMINENT PAPERS.

WIDE AWAKE is the most wide awake of any of the current periodicals, and full of good things. Our only objection to this publication is that our boys are always asking if it has come; and when they get it they cannot sleep till it is read through.—Christian Advocate.

WIDE AWAKE is bright and fresh. It is full of good things in print and pictures, and a vein of cheery humor runs through it which its young readers will find particularly agreeable. The Magazine is a thoroughly good and a thoroughly wholesome one. —WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT'S PAPER, The New York Evening Post.

Under the admirable editorship of Miss Farman, WIDE AWAKE is growing better and better with each succeeding number.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, publish the best and most delightful books for Home Libraries. Their list includes every style and grade, from the Large Print Picture Book for the Nursery, to the Student's octavo volume.

CHARMING STORIES, BIOGRAPHY, SKETCHES, HISTORY,
and RELIGIOUS WORKS.

Their books being approved by a Committee of Eminent Literators, selections may be made with the utmost confidence that none but good books are on their catalogue.—The Contributor.

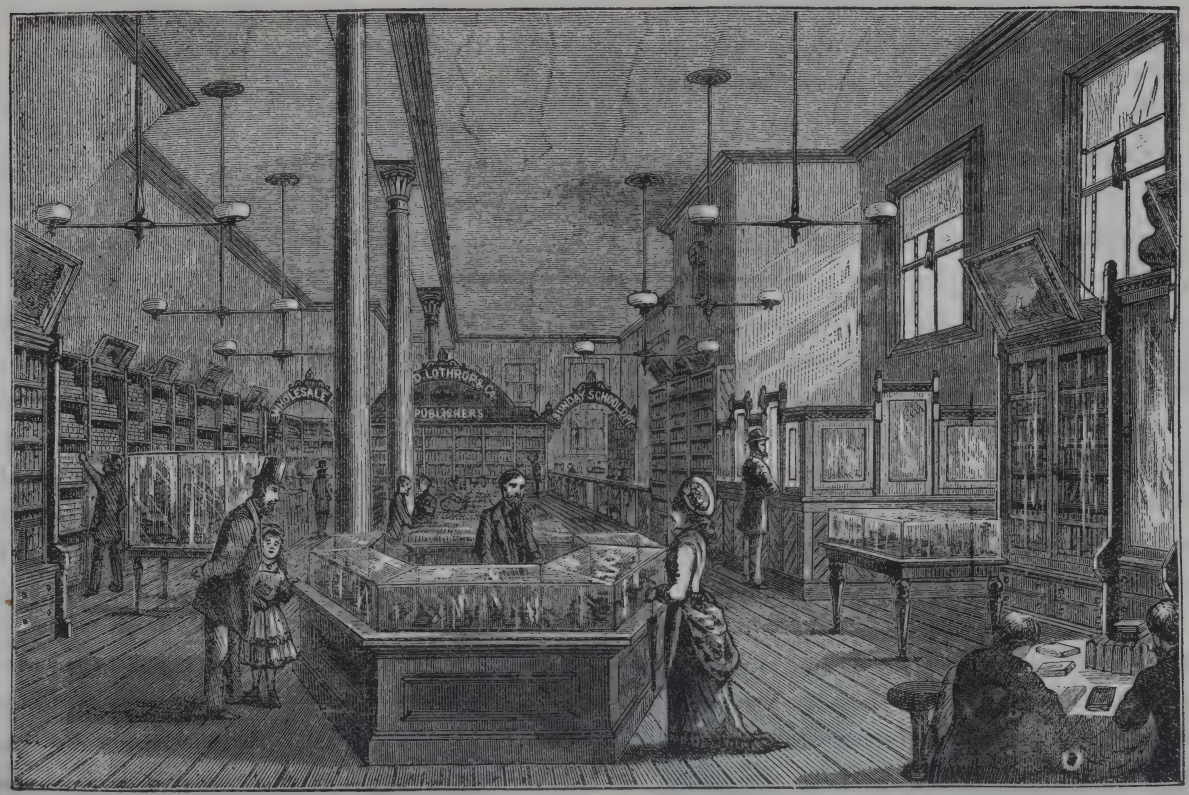
WIDE AWAKE. It is, as usual, handsomely illustrated. A charming magazine for the young. One of the best Boston notions we know of.—The Christian Advocate.

Every number commends it more and more to public patronage; indeed, it is very emphatically the children's book of the period.—The Farmer's Cabinet.

That charming new magazine for girls and boys, the WIDE AWAKE for January is full of facinating pictures and reading matter. Among the articles are, "Piano Fortes," "The Cooking Club of Tu-Whit Hollow," "My Lady's Christmas," "Grim Grendel," "The True Cinderella," "Little Wooden Two Shoes," and a host of other good things. Talk about the youth-giving springs to which Ponce de Leon devoted his life in finding! If he had lived in these days, he would have found them in the boys' and girls' magazines, like the WIDE AWAKE.—The Green Bay Advocate.

WIDE AWAKE is well-named, for it is certainly all attention to the needs of its readers. There is a brilliant list of contributors, and an equally brilliant line of engravings. Is very bewitching in its manifold appeals to eye and sentiment. Messrs. Lothrop & Co., Boston, the publishers, have hit the young taste exactly in their judicious arrangements for issuing this serial.—The Commonwealth.

The WIDE AWAKE, the new illustrated magazine for young people, published by D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, is the very best publication in our country, as well as the cheapest.



WIDE AWAKE NOTICES.

During the next year the readers are promised an entertainment of wit, and wisdom, and song, and poem, and picture, and story, illustrated by the best artists. The contributors to the WIDE AWAKE are some of the most popular writers of the day. We know of no way parents could expend two dollars more profitably than by subscribing for this first-class magazine; and we think that they will be surprised at the amount of reading received for their money.—The Evangelist.

The WIDE AWAKE has entered on its second year with ever-brightening prospects. Its success has proved our theory correct, that children like better to read of something like real life—of boys and girls like themselves—than about fairies and prodigies such as never had an existence on this earth. The list of contributors to the WIDE AWAKE numbers many names among authors best loved by children, and the contents of each number evidence in editor and writers a just estimate of the wants of young readers, and remarkable skill in catering to them.—The Literary World.

WIDE AWAKE was a good name for it, and the children love it. All the other publications for children are too old. Now while WIDE AWAKE is pleasing in the highest degree to the four-year-old, it is read with just as much interest by the eight-year-old, and grandma insists that no other book was ever made like it, and grandma knows what she is saying.—The Journal.

We would particularly call the attention of the trade, and through them the Sunday School Teachers to these Beautiful Cards. They are the best and cheapest things of the kind published.

Packet A—48 Texts—viz:

If ye love me keep my Commandments.
Take heed to the thing that is right.
The Lord will not cast off, for ever.
The Lord is gracious and merciful.
Create in me a clean heart O God.
Cast thy burden upon the Lord.
Go not in the way of evil men.
Renew a right spirit within me.
Praise the name of the Lord.
Love is the fulfilling of the law.
Speak not evil one of another.
Ask and it shall be given you.
Serve the Lord with gladness.
Love thy neighbor as thyself.
Order my steps in thy word.
Lead us not into temptation.
God loveth a cheerful giver.
Be thou faithful unto death.
So run that ye may obtain.
The Lord is my Shepherd.
Seek peace and pursue it.
Abhor that which is evil.
Lord be thou my helper.
Lord teach us to pray.
Be ye holy.
God is love.
God is light.
Live in peace.
Walk honestly.
Honor all men.
Flee from Evil.
Be of one mind.
Rejoice evermore.
The day is thine.
Seek ye the Lord.
Great is Our Lord.
Thou God seest me.
Continue in prayer.
Rejoice in the Lord.
Examine yourselves
Consider your ways.
Give God the praise.
Teach me to do thy will.
Search the Scriptures.
Pray without ceasing.
The Lord is my helper.
Be kind one to another.
Be clothed with Humility.

Packet B—24 Texts—viz:

The Lord preserveth the faithful.
Love thy neighbor as thyself.
Lead us not into temptation.
Children obey your parents.
Be thou faithful unto death.
Put your trust in the Lord.
God loveth a cheerful giver.
In everything give thanks.
Follow peace with all men.
The Lord is my Shepherd.
Be ye kind one to another.
Before honor is humility.
Walk in love.
Be of one mind.
Rejoice evermore.
Draw nigh to God.
Be ye also patient.
Praise ye the Lord.
Lead me in thy truth.
Pray without ceasing.
Search the Scriptures.
Remember the Sabbath.
Charity thinketh no evil.
Overcome evil with good.

Packet C—24 Texts—viz:

For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.
Be kindly affectioned one to another.
Charity suffereth long and is kind.
My God shall supply all your need.
Set your affection on things above.
A soft answer turneth away wrath.
Worthy is the Lord that was slain.
Give us this day our daily bread.
Commit thy way unto the Lord.
Looking for that blessed hope.
The Lord loveth the righteous.
My grace is sufficient for thee.
Teach us to number our days.
He laid down His life for us.
Be thou faithful unto death.
None of us liveth to himself.
Let brotherly love continue.
My times are in thy hands.
Fear God.
Continue in prayer.
Love the brotherhood.
The Lord is thy keeper.
Peace I leave with you.
Be ye doers of the word.

Packet D—12 Texts—viz:

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge.
The Son of Man is come to save that which is lost.
The Good Shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.
My heart shall rejoice in thy salvation.
The Lord bless thee and keep thee.
Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.
I know that my Redeemer liveth.
Quicken thou me in thy way.
In God have I put my trust.
The Lord give thee peace.
Be filled with the spirit.
God is love.

Packet E—12 Texts—viz:

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?
Ebenezer; hitherto hath the Lord helped us.
The Lord is good to them that wait for Him.
Let the peace of God rule in your hearts.
Unto you which believe He is precious.
The Lord is my rock and my fortress.
Let us go into the house of the Lord.
Let us not be weary in well doing.
Blessed are the pure in heart.
In God I have put my trust.
The just shall live by faith.
Lord teach us to pray.

Packet F—12 Texts—viz:

Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith
Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom.
Show me thy ways O Lord, teach me thy paths.
Redeemed with the precious blood of Christ.
My Father thou art the guide of my youth.
Study to shew thyself approved unto God.
Those that seek Me early shall find Me.
Thy word have I hid in mine heart.
Create in me a clean heart, O God!
Grieve not the holy spirit of God.
Take ye heed, watch and pray.
What think ye of Christ?

Packet G—12 Texts—viz:

In my Father's house are many mansions.
The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want.
Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.
Suffer little children to come unto me.
Thy word is a lamp unto my feet.
Keep thy heart with all dilligence.
Put on the whole armour of God.
Not my will but Thine be done.
Fight the good fight of faith.
Submit yourselves to God.
I am the Good Shepherd.
I am the bread of life.

Packet H—12 Texts—viz:

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace.
Fear God and keep his Commandments.
We joy in God through Jesus Christ.
The Lord be gracious unto thee.
For your sakes he became poor.
Commit thy way unto the Lord.
My grace is sufficient for thee.
His mercy endureth for ever.
O Lord I will praise thee.
Watch and pray
Love one another
Lord remember me.

Packet I—12 Texts—viz:

The grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.
Now abideth Faith, Hope and Charity
The Lord bless thee and keep thee.
Hitherto hath the Lord helped us.
Whom having not seen ye love.
Blessed are the Peacemakers.
Christ died for the ungodly.
Christ shall give thee light.
Lord be thou my helper.
Search the Scriptures.
Let us love one another.
The Lord is my Shepherd.

Packet J—6 Texts—viz:

Cast thy burden upon the Lord and he shall sustain thee
Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.
Him that cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out.
I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer.
I will joy in the God of my salvation.
The fear of the Lord is to hate evil.

Abc, Puzzle,

AND

Architectural Blocks.

In the Department of Blocks we make a large and well-selected variety, and have made it a point in their manufacture to combine durability, beauty, and instruction.

We are turning out nearly every variety of Blocks found upon the market, and commend them to the careful inspection of the trade.

PICTURE A B C BLOCKS—(Cubes).

Set No. 1 contains 12 Cubes.....Per Gross, $ 96.00
Packed Half Gross in a Case.

Set No. 2 contains 20 Cubes.....Per Gross, 144.00
Packed Half Gross in a Case.

Set No. 3 contains 30 Cubes.....Per Gross, 216.00
Packed Quarter Gross in a Case.

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

The blocks in these sets are cubes, one and three-quarter inches square. They are varnished and have a good plain capital letter in black, on a red ground, on three sides, and a variety of animals and objects printed finely in colors on the other three sides. Put up in cherry boxes—handsome varnished label.

GOODY TWO SHOES SPELLING BLOCKS.

Set No. 1 contains 102 Blocks.....Per Gross, $ 96.00
With 10 numerals, 59 small letters, 27 caps, and 6 punctuation marks.

Set No. 2 contains 161 Blocks.....Per Gross, 162.00
With 10 numerals, 118 small letters, 27 caps, and 6 punctuation marks.

Set No. 3 contains 263 Blocks.....Per Gross, 216.00
With 20 numerals, 177 small letters, 54 caps, and 12 punctuation marks.

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

These are flat blocks, one and three-quarter inches long and one and a quarter inch wide. Groundwork red and white, with letters printed in black, and finely varnished upon both sides. Box has shifting cover, spaced for the reception of the letters used in making words. Sets Nos. 2 and 3 has box divided into compartments, like a printer's case, in order to separate the letters, and accompanied by book of directions.

NURSERY ALPHABET SPELLING BLOCKS.

Per Gross, $162.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

This set contains twenty-eight flat blocks, three inches wide and five inches long. Groundwork red and white. Red side has eight words, a capital and small letter. White side has handsome colored picture, illustrating letter. Put up in cherry boxes, with sliding covers, and handsome varnished label.

LITTLE PET'S SPELLING BLOCKS.

Per Gross, $162.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

Same as foregoing in number, size, and appearance, except the pictures, which are unlike those of the Alphabet Spelling Blocks. Put up in cherry boxes, with sliding covers, and handsome varnished label.

THE ALPHABET BLOCKS.

Per Gross, $21.00

Packed in dozen packages.

Contain eighteen flat blocks, one and three-quarter inches square, painted in oil, and finished with varnish. Groundwork white and red. They contain the large letters and numerals, printed in black. Put up in wooden boxes, book shape.

PRINTED CUBE BLOCKS—(New).

We have in preparation a series of Cube Alphabet Blocks, which will be printed upon all sides. They will be one and three-quarter inches square, and put up in the usual style of our other goods. Set No. 3 will differ from those heretofore introduced. We hope to have them ready early in the Fall. We shall probably put them up in three styles, corresponding with the Picture A B C Blocks in number and price.

SWIFT'S COMBINATION TOY BLOCKS.

(IRREGULAR SHAPES.)

Set No. 1 contains 36 Blocks.....Per Gross, $ 96.00
Set No. 2 contains 50 Blocks.....Per Gross, 144.00
Set No. 3 contains 80 Blocks.....Per Gross, 192.00
Set No. 4 contains 160 Blocks.....Per Gross, 384.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

These blocks are made up of geometrical figures, cut with mathematical precision from fine maple wood. They are very instructive, and are often used in schools for drawing exercises and geometrical illustrations. They will make finished architectural designs, such as churches, forts, monuments, boats, &c.; also every letter of the alphabet. Mode of using simple and easy. Put up in cherry boxes with sliding covers, fine label, and illustrated book of directions.

OBENDORF'S BUILDING BLOCKS. Per Gross, $144.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

These blocks are cylindrical in shape, and ornamental in appearance. Well adapted for building furniture, fancy work, and that class of designs. Accompanied by a book with twenty-five illustrations, and a complete alphabet that can be made with the blocks. Put up in cherry boxes, with sliding covers, and handsome varnished label.

BUILDING LUMBER.

Per Gross, $108.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

A new article of manufacture in the Toy Line, intended as an accompaniment to "Boys' Tool Chests." The box contains five hundred pieces of moulding and small lumber, and twenty-three illustrations—models of houses, sheds, wind-mills, &c. Very acceptable to boys of a mechanical turn of mind. Put up in papered wooden boxes, with showy labels.

THE SPIDER AND THE FLY..... Per Gross, $36.00

A lively game for any number of persons, in which the web, spider, and the fly form an essential feature.

THE NEW OLD MAID GAME..... Per Gross, $36.00

Always settles the question as to who shall be the old maid. Has been received with great favor. Illustrations humorous.

SERIES No. 2.

These are large and showy games, new in plan and style. Played with an "Indicator," a substitute for dice and tectotums, admitting of larger variety in play than either of them. Put up in separate dozen packages. New style box—combination of wood and paper—very showy.

THE ORIENTAL COLOR GAME---(New)...Per Gross, $48.00

Contains fifty-four cards, printed in six colors. Designs odd and fanciful. Method of play based upon the colors and numbers. Full of interest and uncertainty. Employs all the methods of play introduced by the Indicator.

HENS AND CHICKENS---(New)..... Per Gross, $48.00

Printed in colors. Box furnished with counters, Indicator, and game keeper. The "account" with the latter makes the game very exciting, and the result doubtful. Arrangement of the game novel and ingenious.

THE CENTENNIAL PRESIDENTIAL GAME.
Per Gross, $48.00

Contains fifty-six cards, giving the names of the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the United States, with other useful data. Color, numbers, and pairs the basis of the game. Essentially different from anything on our list. An instructive novelty.

JAPANESE ORACLE— .Per Gross, $42.00

This highly entertaining amusement consists of forty cards two and a half inches by four inches. Twenty of these contain pictures of the Japanese people in gold and bright colors, and the remainder, a series of questions and answers used in telling fortunes. The questions and answers are very complete.

AUTHORS.

THE most complete and varied line published. Full packs with elaborate ornamental backs. The only line with extra slip cards, made expressly for the games. The new games accompanied by simple and explicit directions for playing Authors by the usual standard method, for which purpose they are fully equal to the old. Also with full instructions for playing the new and improved games published by us, presenting greater innovations, and a higher degree of excellence and perfection, than have been offered to the public in the past history of the game.

DR. FUSBY.—New Edition..... Per Gross, $24.00

One of the old standard games from which Authors are derived. Similar in bases, but more simple in play, and highly comical. New edition in hand, with thirty-two spirited and very comical illustrations, and other improvements. Put up in cases.

FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS FROM POPULAR AUTHORS.
Per Gross, $24.00

The ordinary standard game, with the substitution of quotations for the works of Authors. These have been carefully selected, and consist of pungent and instructive aphorisms in common use. The game will instruct the players as to their origin. Put up in neat pasteboard boxes.

AUTHORS..... Per Gross, $36.00

Contains sixty cards. Designed for a popular edition. Printed in the usual form, with the addition of classified, or lettered books. Put up in fancy cases.

CRIBBAGE AUTHORS.—(New.)
Fancy Cases, Per Gross, $36.00 Wood Boxes, $42.00

Contains seventy-two cards, printed in colors. Novel embellished fronts, with ornamental backs. A game calling into active play, the memory, keen observation, skill, and tact of the player. Entirely unlike any Authors heretofore published. The cards are also arranged for playing Snip Snap, Tabular Authors, The Ins and Outs, and are superior to the ordinary ones for playing the regular standard game.

STAR AUTHORS.—(New.)
Fancy Cases, Per Gross, $36.00 Wood Boxes, $42.00

Sixty-four cards, with finely executed portraits of thirty-two prominent Authors. The books classified for convenience in play, and valued at the close of the game according to their relations to each other, which depend largely upon the memory of the player, and his shrewdness in "calling." Introduces the features of Star Books, Sequences, and Star Sequences.

MUSICAL AUTHORS.—New.
In Cases, Per Gross. $36.00 Fine Wood Boxes, $48.00

Contains ninety-six cards, with the names of musical composers and their works, accompanied by short biographical sketches. Played like other Authors. Two different parties may play at the same time, by dividing the pack, which is one of the fullest made. People who have no time for the study of music, will find this game very desirable. It will give them a thorough insight into the musical world, which will be of permanent value to them in society.

DIAMOND SERIES.---Large Games.

Are illustrated, and in colors. Methods of play varied, lively, and often very laughable. Put in fine wood boxes, with sliding covers, and varnished label. Packed in assorted dozens, containing two each of the first two games, and one each of the others.

Per Assorted Gross, $36.00.

THE GOLDEN EGG.

Contains thirty-two cards and a golden egg. The uncertainty of retaining the golden egg, and the quick wit required to score the points made, gives excitement and vivacity to the game.

CHINESE PUZZLE.

Consists of seven little blocks, and sixty colored illustrations of puzzles that can be made with them. Accompanied also by a key to the puzzles. Very complete and desirable.

YANKEE PEDDLER.

A lively and laughable game, introducing the various trades and occupations, in combination with a story.

THE HAPPY FAMILY.

After the style of Authors. Comically illustrated. Simple and amusing.

THE SIX NATIONS.

Six cards show the character of the peoples of the six nations. The others the animals and articles common with them. New in its main features.

HOCUS POCUS CONJUROCUS.

A pocket edition of the Antiques and Horribles, with their rough edges polished down, transformed into a varied and sprightly game.

VISIT TO CAMP.

An Inspector relates the incidents of his visit to camp, omitting parts of his story, which the players supply, producing absurd statements and uproarious laughter.

THE CITY TRAVELER.

Similar in arrangement to the foregoing. Instead of dealing with military characters, it introduces the motley collection of people to be found in any large city.

THE MERRY GOOSE GAME.

The characters of this game are taken from Mother Goose. The design of the game is similar to that of Old Maids.

THE BUGLE HORN.

Based upon the legends of Robin Hood, the English outlaw. Equally interesting with them. The game is original and exciting.

JUVENILE SERIES.

These games are a happy hit for children. Their author has woven the old popular legends and ballads into the games. The directions and methods of play have been thoroughly revised and perfected this season. Put up in pasteboard boxes, with illustrated label in colors. The first six kinds are packed in assorted dozens, containing two of each.

Per Assorted Gross, $24.00.

CINDERELLA.

Based upon the fairy story of the same name. The cards are played in pairs and the slipper turns up on the last round. Partially illustrated in colors.

WHERE IS JOHNNY?

In reply, the players read from the cards. If the reply is not truthful, or expresses some command of Johnny, the player is punished by a forfeit, or must execute the command. Johnny turns up at the close of the game.

COCK ROBIN.

Is based upon the verses of Mother Goose, Who killed Cock Robin? &c. The various questions in those verses can be answered with the cards, and some very amusing ones have also been introduced. New features added this season.

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

The "Reader" of the story, accompanying the game, tries to get together the "Malt," "Sack," "Rat," "Cow with the Crumpled Horn," &c., and pays for them in counters. Those who contribute the wrong articles pay him in counters. The counters determine the winner.

MOTHER HUBBARD.

Based upon the story of Mother Hubbard and her Dog. This game as now arranged will be found very amusing to children.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD.

Revised and improved this season. A teetotum devised especially for this game has been added, enlivening the play in a large degree.

Gifts, Uses, and Consequences..... Per Gross, $24.00

An amusing and simple game for persons of all ages. It contains thirty-eight hundred laughable combinations. One set of cards contain the gifts, another their uses, and the third set gives the consequence of such use. Put up in dozen packages.

GRANDMA'S GAMES.

A valuable educational series, uniform in character. Replete with information, in the form of Questions and Answers, which are fully brought out in the play. Questions varied—Answers concise and clear. Each answer in the New and Old Testament games, accompanied by a reference to the chapter and verse in the Bible where found. Specially valuable for Sunday School children. Put up separately, in dozen packages.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SERIES.

NEW AND POPULAR GAMES.

These games are especially designed for young people. They are original, natural, and easy to play, and designed to suit a variety of tastes. The directions are simple and easily learned. Put up in neat pasteboard boxes, with bright colored labels. Packed in dozen packages.

FARMER TROT AND HIS FAMILY ..... Per Gross, $24.00

The player in this game depends as much upon his imagination and quick wit as upon the cards. Very amusing, both to the players and lookers on. Partially illustrated in colors.

BLACK CAT ..... Per Gross, $24.00

A novelty in games. Introduces the parts of a cat, which must be put together in the course of the play. The cry of the cat, also a part of the game, makes it merry and lively.

ONE, TWO, THREE ..... Per Gross, $24.00

Illustrated in colors. The cards are in sets of three each, which make into tricks. The method of doing so is new. For playing the wrong card, the players pay each other counters.

WHAT D'YE BUY? ..... Per Gross, $24.00

Each player represents a tradesman, and opens a stand. The conductor in the game gets material from them for a story which he relates.

SNIP SNAP SNORUM ..... Per Gross, $24.00

These cards are divided into families, whose members have droll names. These families are to be collected together by the players, under rules providing penalties, and calls designed to produce laughter. Illustrated in colors.

DR. FUSBY ..... Per Gross, $24.00

These cards are divided into families, with comical names, and comical illustrations in colors. Similar to authors in play.

SPECULATION ..... Per Gross, $24.00

An animated game of chance, with plenty of scope for the quick wit and shrewdness of the players. The cards are divided into four families. The game is accompanied by counters, for the payment of penalties arising in the play.

OLD MAID GAME ..... Per Gross, $18.00

This is played upon the basis of all Old Maid games, and is a popular cheap edition.

CONVERSATION CARDS.

Are among the oldest and most popular of parlor amusements. The immense variety of combinations that can be made with these cards necessarily gives rise to many funny and amusing conversations. Put up in pasteboard cases. Packed in three-dozen package boxes, containing one and one-half dozen of each kind.

Ladies' Age Cards. Gentlemen's Age Cards.

FOLDING GAME BOARDS.

(MADE SIMILAR TO BACKGAMMON BOARDS.)

YOUNG PEOPLE'S HOME GAMES.

Twelve Kinds. Per Assorted Gross, $48.00.

This series represents out-door amusements, sports, and occupations. As most of these belong to the Summer season, they will prove good rainy day games for Summer as for Winter evenings. Printed in colors. Size of folded boards, nine a quarter inches long by five and three-quarters wide. Put up in assorted dozens, containing one of each.

1. TIGHT-ROPE DANCING.—On a network of rope stretched across a river. "Blondins," in bright costumes, are crossing on the ropes—others falling from it. The object of the game is to cross on the rope by means of dice.

2. QUOITS.—A backwoods scene, where a party are engaged in the invigorating out-door game. Quoits are arranged around the "hubs," as though a game were in progress. These are numbered, and the players play for them by means of dice, counting according to their nearness to the hub.

3. LEAP FROG.—This board contains a circular row of spaces, with a comical frog picture in the centre. Played with dice and checkers. The moves correspond with the idea conveyed by the title.

4. DUCK SHOOTING.—In this board a party of hunters, occupying a boat in a river, are represented as shooting ducks. The ducks having discovered their enemy, are taking to flight. Each throw of the dice kills the duck having the corresponding number. Very entertaining.

5. NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.—A stirring scene between a fort and a fleet of vessels. The guns of the fort are belching forth fire and smoke, which the ships are returning with activity. The throws of the dice sink the vessels, or silence the guns of the fort, as the case may be. The side holding out longest wins.

6. FISHING.—Is carried out upon a board representing a bridge, filled with fishermen, who are watching their lines for a "bite." During the game the fish must not only be hooked, but must be drawn out of the water,—a very interesting and by no means certain operation.

7. SPIDER AND FLY.—A familiar scene in every country, though somewhat magnified upon the board. A huge spider's web, with numbered spaces, is stretched between two trees, and forms the basis of a very fine game.

8. CROQUET.—A representation of a fine lawn, with wickets laid out, and party of young people engaged in play. The wickets are numbered, and the directions provide for moves that are in harmony with the field game. A fine parlor substitute for out-door croquet.

9. FALCONRY.—Is based upon the popular amusement of the twelfth century. The board contains a picture, representing a party engaged in this sport. The move is different for each die, making the game both novel and entertaining.

10. THE PEARL DIVERS.—The board contains a representation of the method of gathering pearls in the East. The Divers' uncertainty of success is well exemplified throughout the game. Simple, and well calculated to please.

11. RABBIT HUNT.—A pretty landscape, having in its centre a rabbit warren, surrounded by a circular series of numbered spaces. One player represents the rabbit, and the rest of the players the hounds. Method of play different from either of the foregoing.

12. BEAR HUNT.—A comical idea, carried out in an unusually simple and interesting game. The design contains four large trees, with several bears and huntsmen. The object of the game is to climb the trees by the odd and even combinations of the dice.

STANDARD FOLDING GAMES.

In speaking of the marked excellence of this line of games, both in the style of the boards and in play, we can scarcely refrain from covering a page or more of our catalogue. As they cannot fail to be conspicuous among other lines of goods, we will let them speak for themselves, simply saying that each board contains three distinct games, each executed in the best style of art that we can command. The games themselves are simple, varied, and entirely new. Size of boards when opened, eighteen inches square. The implements are neat, substantial, and pleasing. Directions clear and explicit.

Per Gross, $180.00

THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS---(New.)

Three Games in one Board, viz.:

Pilgrim's Progress. Going to Sunday School. Tower of Babel.

Each Board separately wrapped and labeled.

THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

Is based upon the work of John Bunyan. The design is in the form of an eight-pointed star. The Celestial City, surrounded by the River of Death, occupies the centre of the board. At the angles and points of the star there are illustrations of the principal events in the Pilgrim's journey. The game is played with our new Indicator, and is based upon six different colors, which have been worked into it in a very pleasing manner. An illustrated synopsis of Bunyan's book accompanies the game.

GOING TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Occupies one-half of the inside of the board. In the centre of this game there is a large clock dial, entwined with an elaborate and graceful vine of ivy. The margin of the board is handsomely laid out, and contains a number of illustrated spaces. At the four corners there are four large and handsome churches. The players move around the margin of the board, and register upon the clock dial the time occupied in so doing.

THE TOWER OF BABEL

Occupies the remaining half of the inside. This is an elaborate design, and presents the appearance of an imposing structure, with the artisans busily at work, as they might have appeared just prior to the dispersion of its builders. The game is played with the Indicator, using both colors and numbers. At one stage of the game there is confusion among the players, corresponding to that which must have taken place upon the confounding of tongues. The players change men by means of the Indicator.

JOHN GILPIN---(New.) ..... Per Gross, $180.00

Three Games in one Board, viz:

John Gilpin. Rainbow Backgammon. The Bewildered Travelers.

Each Board separately wrapped and labeled.

JOHN GILPIN

Occupies the outside, and is the principal game. The design in outline resembles a wheel—very showy, and handsomely colored. Its border, or rim, is the London town road, and the parts corresponding to the spokes are cross-roads leading to the Islington Inn, which is in the centre of the board. The object of the game is to reach the Inn. No simple game of such varying and absorbing interest has before been made. Nearly all games of special merit are necessarily complex, but John Gilpin is a game that a child or an adult may play, and such is the fascination of this remarkable game that both will want to play "one more game" before they relinquish it.

RAINBOW BACKGAMMON

Occupies one-half of the inside of the board, and consists of a rainbow of points projecting inward from the outside. Every alternate third point reaches to a circular space in an ornamental centre in the middle of the board. There are twelve of these spaces. These are covered with counters, which are won by occupying the proper point. This game combines both chance and skill, is new, and very entertaining.

THE BEWILDERED TRAVELERS

Is a very unique game. It consists of a Checker Board having a large number of squares, the outside row being numbered, to indicate certain moves. At each corner of the board there are handsome houses—the "Homes" of the Travelers. The design of this game is very attractive. It is so arranged that the moves are based alternately upon chance and skill, while the judgment of the player must always be on the alert.

JEROME PARK STEEPLE CHASE GAME.

Per Gross, $216.00

Three Games in one Board, viz.:

The Steeple Chase Game. The Balky Horse. Pool.

THE STEEPLE CHASE GAME

Has been a popular amusement on the continent of Europe and in England for many years. Recently it has been imported into the United States in considerable quantities. This board differs from the others in style and size. When folded, it is fourteen inches long by twelve and a quarter inches wide. Printed in colors, after the style of the English boards. Furnished with horses in colors mounted upon standards, dice-cups, and dice.

THE GAME OF THE BALKY HORSE

Occupies one-half of the inside of the board, and is played upon the numbered spaces arranged in a circle. The centre of the board has a standard or button, upon which revolves a wooden cross. The horses are mounted upon this, and set in motion by the thumb and forefinger. The game is played with counters. Each player has a horse, and names a space upon which one of the horses will stop.

POOL

Occupies the other half of the inside of the board, and consists of two sets of playing cards, running from the ace to the ten spot, printed alternately in red and black. One set occupies one, and the other the opposite end of the board. The players use counters, horses, and the revolving cross-piece. If their horse stops upon a space whose number corresponds to a card, they make a point in the game.

DIAMOND FOLDING GAMES.

Resemble the foregoing in the size of the Boards, but the games are not quite as elaborate. When folded the size of the boards are seven inches wide by fourteen inches long. They are covered in imitation of morocco, and furnished with a substantial set of implements, including dice-cup and dice.

GAME OF LIFE'S MISHAPS---(New.)

Per Gross, $108.00

Two Games in one Board, viz.:

Life's Mishaps. Domino Rex..

Each Board separately wrapped and labeled.

THE GAME OF LIFE'S MISHAPS

Occupies the outside of this Board. It contains forty-eight spaces of various shapes and sizes, printed in colors. Twenty of these spaces contain the ludicrous adventures of a son of the Emerald Isle. The balance of the spaces are blanks. Each player is provided with counters, and the object of the game is to reach, by their aid, the space numbered forty-eight. The mishaps are the set-backs upon the road. The players first reaching forty-seven and forty-eight win.

THE GAME OF DOMINO REX

Occupies both spaces of the inside of this Board. In each half space there is a Checker Board, containing forty squares, sixteen of them having spots like those of a domino. In front of each checker board there are two semi-circular rows of spaces, numbered from seven to eleven. The game is played with checkers only. These are placed one each upon the domino squares, and one each upon the first row of spaces. The uncovering of a domino square by one player, determines in a measure the move of his opponent. In simplicity, originality, and scope of play, the game has but few equals.

THE CAPTIVE PRINCESS.....Per Gross, $108.00

Three Games in one Board, viz:

Captive Princess. Tournament. Zig-Zag.

Each Board separately wrapped and labeled.

THE CAPTIVE PRINCESS.

This game contains thirty-nine colored squares, arranged in a concentrating row, and terminating in a castle, at the centre of the board. A landscape pathway, containing several mounted knights in full armor, also leads to the castle. The game is played on colored cubes, and is so simple that its description occupies only ten lines. The object of the game is to rescue the Princess, and the player first reaching the castle wins.

TOURNAMENT.

Occupies one-half of the inside of the board, and in outline presents the form of a large circle between two triangles. These are divided into small circular spaces, which are occupied by the pieces. Each player has three knights, which he endeavors to get into the home or base of his opponent. The large circular part of the design is the battle-ground, and as it has but one point or space on each side, for ingress and egress, there is a fine opportunity for skillful play. The design and game are both original and unique.

ZIG-ZAG.

Occupies the other half of the interior of the board, and is laid out in triangular and diamond-shaped spaces. It is also played with three knights, who are moved forward to the opponent's end of the board, subject to set-backs and displacements. They are then doubled up, and from these return to their own bases as one man. Zig-Zag, in simplicity, is especially adapted for young people.

PANORAMAS.

In this department we are producing a very complete line of goods, and in price and quality we believe that we are without competition. Each style of panorama has a proscenium, and the larger ones are inclosed in pasteboard cases.

NURSERY A B C PANORAMA ..... Per Gross, $27.00

The Enchanted Table and Bewitched People.---(New.)

A scientific toy, illustrating the mysterious powers of electricity. It is simple, easily operated, entirely unobjectionable, and suited alike to adult and child. It consists of a glass table, mounted upon wooden legs, a small knob for exciting the electricity, and ten figures. These dance, jump, lay down, stand on their heads, and go through with all sorts of ridiculous performances. Put up in our elegant new style boxes, made of wood and paper.

OPTICAL SERIES.

PHANTOMS, OR DELUSIVE VISIONS---(New.)

Per Gross, $48.00

Consists of a series of twenty cards, five and one-half inches wide and seven inches long, containing illustrations in colors of spectral figures and fanciful shapes. By looking at them intently for the space of a minute, and then transferring the gaze to the ceiling or white wall, the figures will be distinctly seen very much enlarged upon the white surface looked upon.

MAGIC MIRRORS..... Per Gross, $144.00

Each box separately wrapped and labeled.

Each box contains twenty-four pictures, presenting grotesque and amusing shapes. By means of the cylindrical or magic mirror they are transformed into a pleasing variety of familiar objects. The mirror has been strengthened and improved by the addition of a black walnut standard and head-piece. Put up in neat cherry boxes, seven and three-quarter inches wide by ten and three-quarter inches long, with sliding covers, and compartments for the several parts.

GROTESQUE GIMCRACKS.....Per Gross, $144.00

An ingenious and useful invention, constructed upon optical principles. Invaluable for copying drawings, lithographs, photographs, &c. Exact copies of any small object, whose surface is not much raised, such as the leaves of plants, &c., &c., can be made with it without difficulty.

CHIROMAGICA.....Per Gross, $216.00

Each Box separately wrapped and labeled.

Is a scientific amusement, consisting of a magnetic hand, arranged in a cherry box, twelve inches square, and a series of rings and disks containing geographical, historical, and nonsensical questions and answers. When properly adjusted, the hand will move round with life-like intelligence, and point out the correct answer to the question asked.

DRESSED PAPER DOLLS.

These are a new feature in the Doll Line, and make attractive and salable gifts. In the different series, the figures vary in size, and in the style and beauty of the toilet. These are made of fine imported papers, in imitation of moire-antique and corded silks, elaborately trimmed in imitation with lace, and are only excelled by the original fabrics. The dresses have full plaited skirts with slight trains.

DOLLS WITH TISSUE DRESSES.

NOAH WEBSTER,

"THE SCHOOLMASTER OF THE REPUBLIC."

1.—SHOULDERED his musket,—then a youth of seventeen, and interrupting his College course—in 1775, in a company of which his father was Captain,—an "alarm corps," organized for pressing emergencies, as, to repel a then threatened invasion.

2.—In 1785, then twenty-seven years old, in a published Essay, presented by him to General Washington, advocated a New Constitution in place of the old Article of Confederation,—believed to have been the first distinct public proposal of that nature.

3.—Author of the first American School Text Book, in 1783,—the "First part of a Grammatical Institute of the English Language," and so the founder of American educational literature.

4.—His Spelling Book, first issued toward the close of the last century, has had an aggregate sale of over FIFTY MILLION copies,—a number considerably greater than the present entire population of the United States,—and thus given the elementary instruction, and early moral impressions, to that number of American youth. It still has an annual sale of nearly one million of copies. The sales for the eight years following the civil war, viz: 1866–1873, aggregated 8,196,028, or an average of 1,024,503 per annum.

5.—The sales of his large Dictionary (Webster Unabridged) and its several abridgments (ten in number) by carefully collected statistics from booksellers all over the United States, in 1873, were shown to aggregate nearly or quite twenty times (20 to 1) those of any other series of Dictionaries published in this country, and this sale still continues.

6.—Dr. Webster's educational works have thus done more than those of any other author to secure that uniformity of language, in the Meaning, Orthography, and Pronunciation, of words, so remarkable in the people of the United States, drawn from different nationalities, and spread over a territory 3,000 miles by 2,000 in extent.

"As to the Spelling-book, the astonishing statement is made, that twenty-four millions of it were sold up to 1847, [now increased to FIFTY MILLIONS,] the consequence of this comparative monopoly of Orthography and Orthoëpy being the present almost mechanical uniformity of American Spelling and Pronunciation."—London Quarterly Review, Oct., 1873.

"The acceptance of an American Dictionary in England has itself had immense effect in keeping up the community of speech, to break which would be a grievous harm, not to English-speaking nations alone, but to mankind. The result of this has been that the common Dictionary must suit both sides of the Atlantic."—London Quarterly Review, for October, 1873.

7.—The issues of the American press, periodical and in volumes, especially educational text books, in large preponderance, and increasingly so, adopt the essential features of Webster's system of Orthography, as now presented in his works. More than TEN MILLIONS of School Text Books are published in the United States annually, thus based, and the tendency in England is strongly in the same direction of simplicity, analogy and rule, whilst in Etymology, Definition, &c., it stands confessedly pre-eminent and unrivaled.

8.—More than ONE HUNDRED YEARS, it is carefully estimated, of severe literary labor have been given to the original preparation and subsequent revisions of WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY; thirty years, and by more than that number of able scholars, were bestowed upon the last revision alone, including five years upon the Etymology by an eminent European linguist.

9.—Of the English Dictionaries of any magnitude newly published in Great Britain within the last twenty-five or thirty years, most of them are either avowedly based on Webster, and largely a literal transcript of some one of Webster's, with additions, or draw so much from his works that they could not be imported into this country without a violation of copy-right. This sufficiently shows the estimation in which Webster is held in that country.

"Webster appeared at once in England, where successive re-editing has as yet kept it in the highest place as a practical Dictionary.

"On the whole, the Webster-Mahn Dictionary, as it stands, is most respectable, and certainly THE BEST PRACTICAL ENGLISH DICTIONARY EXTANT."—London Quarterly Review, October, 1873.

"The best and most useful Dictionary of the English language ever published."—London Times.

"Dr. Webster's great work is the best Dictionary of the English language."—London Morning Chronicle.

10.—Webster is the leading lexicographical authority of the English language, wherever that language is spoken, and has a wide sale amongst all English-speaking peoples, as well as those of other nations seeking to acquire that tongue.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY,

A NATIONAL STANDARD.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION.

STANDARD IN THE GOVERNM'T PRINTING OFFICE.

GOV'T PRINTING OFFICE, Washington, Apr 23, 1873.—"Webster's Dictionary is the Standard Authority for printing in this office, and has been for the last four years."

THE AUTHORITY OF THE U. S. MILITARY ACADEMY AT WEST POINT.—Supplied by the Government to every pupil at West Point. "Webster's Dictionary is still the Standard at the Military Academy at West Point. The copies supplied were furnished to the rooms, and the cadets are made responsible for them, and they are still in good condition."—Nov. 18, 1875.

EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENTS.

FROM THE LATE HON. HENRY WILSON, Vice President of the U. S. and President of the Senate.—Senate Chamber, June 27, 1875.—"Any words of mine are hardly needed to increase the public estimate of a work, always good, if not peerless, that grows better by age, and the sedulous industry of those who have its interests in charge."—HENRY WILSON.

FROM SPEAKER KERR, of the U. S. House of Representatives.—U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., Jan. 4, 1876.—"I regard it as the most praiseworthy triumph of enterprise and intelligence in its line that has ever been achieved in our language. I heartily commend it to all, and especially to persons engaged in the discharge of important public duties, requiring peculiar care and exactness in the use of words and terms."—M. C. KERR.

FROM EX-SPEAKER BLAINE, and Member of present House.—Augusta, Me., June 26, 1875.—"In its elegant dress, it may well be likened to a diamond set in gold and pearls. Webster has been my companion and my reliance for more than twenty-five years, and I cannot think it safe for any man who has occasion to speak or write the English tongue to be without the great 'Unabridged' for a single day. It should be cause of great pride to all Americans, that in Lexicography the children have illustrated the mother tongue better than the mother herself."—JAS. G. BLAINE.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

FROM CHIEF JUSTICE WAITE.—Department of Justice, Washington. D. C., Oct 25, 1875.—"As a specimen of mechanical skill, the copy of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, which I have just been permitted to examine, would do honor to the publishers of any country, and you may well be proud of it. Of the literary excellence of this great work, it is needless now to speak. The book has become indispensable to every student of the English language. A Law Library is not complete without it, and the Courts look to it as of the highest authority in all questions of definition."—MORRISON R. WAITE.

FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL PIERREPONT.—Department of Justice, Washington, Oct. 25, 1875.—"The last revision has added largely to the value of an invaluable work. The Appendix alone is worth all the cost of the entire volume. I do not believe that people generally know the immense amount of information which the book contains quite outside of the mere Dictionary; if they did, no family, and no scholar, no statesman or politician would be without it. In legislative assemblies, and in public speech, words and phrases are often used, about the meaning of which, not one man in fifty has the slightest knowledge. Out of many I might select, I name two:—'Nem. con.' and 'sic itur ad astra.' Not many legislators can tell what these words represent. Your Dictionary will inform any one who will examine it, and while it aids the scholar, it stands instead of scholarship to those who have not had the opportunity for scholastic training."—EDWARDS PIERREPONT.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

FROM SECRETARY FISH.—Dep't of State. Washington. April 14, 1875.—"I am in the habit of consulting several Dictionaries, if occasion requires. * * * * * * * It is regarded in this department among the authorities with respect to Orthography, Etymology, Definitions, &c., and we have frequent occasion to refer to it, and regard it as a valuable aid and authority."—HAMILTON FISH.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

FROM SECRETARY BRISTOW.—Treasury Department, Washington. Oct. 11, 1875.—"The accuracy of this work, in the matter of the definition and derivation of words, is so well known and appreciated by the enlightened public, as to need no commendation from me. Its value is known to every scholar, and no library is complete without it."—B. H. BRISTOW.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE GENERAL-IN-CHIEF, WM. T. SHERMAN.—Head Quarters Army. U. S., St. Louis. Nov. 12, 1875.—"It seems to me that such a Dictionary needs only to be seen to be appreciated by the public."—WM. T. SHERMAN.

NAVY DEPARTMENT.

FROM SECRETARY ROBESON.—Navy Department, Washington, Dec. 20, 1875.—"The literary merits of Webster's American Dictionary of the English Language, compiled and published many years ago, were sufficiently marked to promptly secure for it a place among the standard works of the English language. Each successive revision greatly added, of course, to its value; but the present edition, issued from your house, ought, both in point of literary accomplishment, and mechanical execution, to be gratifying, not only to your pride as publishers, but to the national pride as well, as a specimen of American handiwork. The illuminated pages, wherein are illustrated the Flags of different nations, Pilot Signals, &c., are peculiarly attractive, and appear to be accurate in design, as they are neat in execution. It seems to me that, as a whole, the work is really what every work of this character should be—entirely complete in all respects; for as the constant companion of the student, a Dictionary, in unabridged form, should be, as far as practicable, equal to every demand that is likely to be made upon it."—GEO. M. ROBESON.

FROM THE ARMY AND NAVY CHRONICLE, May 1, 1875.—"Webster's great UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY, with its three thousand illustrative engravings, eighteen hundred and forty closely-printed quarto pages, and the really unequaled clearness and precision of its definitions, is too well known to need commendation. Whatever difference of opinion as to other points, there can be none as to the high merit of this Dictionary in the matter of its definitions. The aid which the mind receives from the appeal to the eye of the pictorial representations of objects defined, is very great, and from this time forward, such illustrations must always be regarded as essential to the completeness of a lexicon. The definitions of the military, naval, and engineering terms, are the work of Maj. WM. P. CRAIGHILL, U. S. Engineers, and they are, where necessary, made clear to the eye as well as the intellect by original drawings. The competency of Maj. CRAIGHILL for this task, every one will recognize who is aware of the extent and exactness of his military studies and acquirements. In other departments of knowledge, the aid of the men best fitted for the duty of discriminating assistance to the editors of the new edition of the Dictionary was procured, and its fruits are shown in the thoroughness and scientific accuracy of the definitions of terms of special use and signfication."

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

FROM SECRETARY CHANDLER.—Department Interior, Washington, Dec. 29, 1875.—As a Dictionary of the English language, I regard it as unequaled, and it should be placed in every institution of learning; in the common schools, as well as in the universities. It is indispensable in all public and private offices, wherever the English language prevails."—Z. CHANDLER.

POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

FROM POSTMASTER GENERAL JEWELL.—P. O. Department, Washington, June 7, 1875.—"I wish to express my admiration of your edition of WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED DICTIONARY. It is gotten up in a style commensurate with its great merits. Full, accurate, and impartial, the work is one of the most valuable legacies ever bequeathed by the industry of a single mind."—MARSHALL JEWELL.

CENTENNIAL COMMISSION.

FROM GEN. JOS. R. HAWLEY, President Centennial Commission, and late of the United States Army, and U. S. House of Representatives.—U. S. House Rep's. Washington, Feb. 27, 1875.—"There are other Dictionaries in our public libraries, but Webster only can be found in our houses. The question concerning their comparative excellence, was closed a generation ago in Connecticut."—JOS. R. HAWLEY.

CENSUS BUREAU.

FROM GEN. FRANCIS A. WALKER, now Professor in Yale College, late of the U. S. Army, head of the Census Bureau, Bureau of Statistics, and U. S. Commissioner of Indian Affairs.—New Haven, June 29, 1875.—"I entertain the opinion that Webster's Dictionary has done a vast work in the education of our people, and I am confident that its usefulness is on the increase. In the three Government offices which I had occasion to administer, the Bureau of Statistics, the Census Office, and the Indian Office, the Dictionary you publish was used exclusively."—FRANCIS A. WALKER.

PUBLICATIONS

OF THE

National Temperance Society

AND

PUBLICATION HOUSE,

No. 58 Reade St., New York.

Hon. WM. E. DODGE, President. | T. T. SHEFFIELD, Treasurer. | J. N. STEARNS, Corresponding Sec'y & Publishing Agent

THE NATIONAL TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, organized in 1866 for the purpose of supplying a sound and able Temperance Literature, have already stereotyped and published over four hundred and fifty new publications of all sorts and sizes, from the one-page tract up to the bound volume of 500 pages. This list comprises Books, Tracts, and Pamphlets, containing Essays, Stories, Sermons, Arguments, Statistics, History, etc., upon every phase of the question. Special attention has been given to the department

FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL LIBRARIES.

Seventy-one volumes have already been issued, written by some of the best authors in the land. These have been carefully examined and unanimously approved by the Publication Committee of the Society, representing the various religious denominations and temperance organizations of the country, which consists of the following members:

PETER CARTER, REV. C. D. FOSS, A. A. ROBBINS, REV. RALSEY MOORE, T. A. BROUWER, REV. W. M. TAYLOR, REV. J. B. DUNN, REV. A. G. LAWSON, REV. ALFRED TAYLOR, REV. WILLIAM HOWELL TAYLOR, R. R. SINCLAIR, J. N. STEARNS, JAMES BLACK

These volumes have been cordially commended by leading clergymen of all denominations, and by various National and State bodies, all over the land.

The following is the list, which can be procured through the regular Sunday-school trade, or by sending direct to the rooms of the Society:

At Lion's Mouth. 12mo, 410 pp. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, author of "Temperance Doctor," "Out of the Fire," "Aunt Dinah's Pledge," etc., - - - - - - $1 25

This is one of the best books ever issued, written in a simple yet thrilling and interesting style. It speaks boldly for the entire suppression of the liquor traffic, depicting vividly the misery and wrongs resulting from it. The Christian tone is most excellent, showing the necessity of God's grace in the heart to overcome temptation and the power of appetite, and the influence which one zealous Christian can exert upon his companions and the community.

Adopted. 18mo, 236 pp. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, author of "The McAllisters," - 60

This book is written in an easy, pleasant style, seems to be true to nature, true to itself, and withal is full of the Gospel and Temperance.

Andrew Douglass. 18mo, 232 pp., - 75

A new temperance story for Sunday-schools, written in a lively, energetic, and popular style, adapted to th Sabbath-school and the family circle.

Aunt Dinah's Pledge. 12mo, 318 pp. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, author of "Temperance Doctor," "Out of the Fire," etc., 1 25

Aunt Dinah was an eminent Christian woman. Her pledge included swearing and smoking, as well as drinking. It saved her boys, who lived useful lives, and died happy; and by quiet, yet loving and persistent work, names of many others were added who seemed almost beyond hope of salvation.

Alice Grant; or, Faith and Temperance. 12mo, 352 pages. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, $1 25

The religious tone of this volume is most excellent, as well as the temperance lessons it conveys. The story relates more especially to woman's work in this great reform, showing that faith in God is essential to success in any great work, and that God's grace in the heart can keep even the weakest and most sorely tempted from falling.

All for Money. 12mo, 340 pages. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, author of "Aunt Dinah's Pledge," "Wealth and Wine," etc., 1 25

One of the best books ever written; its style vigorous and impressive, showing the deceptions practised in the liquor business—the unhappiness and ruin it produces—and that many will engage in it simply because its profits are large, and wealth gained easily. It warns the reader against engaging in anything that takes away peace of conscience, bartering soul and body "all for money."

Barford Mills. 12mo, 246 pages. By Miss M. E. Winslow, - - - - - - 1 00

A nafrative of facts simply told and full of interest, dealing with a settlement of Swedes in Mill Village, prosperous and thrifty until the opening of a liquor saloon in their midst, which was finally banished in answer to the prayers of a few faithful ones.

Best Fellow in the World, The. 12mo, 352 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright, author of "Jug-or-Not," "How Could he Escape?" 1 25

"The Best Fellow," whose course is here portrayed, is one of a very large class who are led astray and ruined, simply because they are such "good fellows." To all such the volume speaks in thrilling tones of warning; shows the inevitable consequences of indulging in strong drink, and the necessity of divine grace in the heart to interpose and save from ruin.

Broken Rock, The. 18mo, 139 pp. By Kruna, author of "Lift a Little," etc., - - $0 50

It beautifully illustrates the silent and holy influence of a meek and lowly spirit upon the heartless rumseller until the rocky heart was broken.

Brook, and the Tide Turning, The. 12mo, 220 pp., - - - - - - - - 1 00

These are two stories in one volume. The first, "The Brook," by Sarah K. Hunt, is charming in its simplicity, its tender pathos moving one to tears. Above all, it is deeply spiritual, and must lead the tempted reader to rest in God alone for victory over his besetting sin. "The Tide Turning," by Miss L. Bates, is full of the Gospel, showing the wonderful power of God's grace in the heart, and the results of a temperance and religious revival in a Western city, by which the most hardened were reclaimed.

Come Home, Mother. 18mo, 143 pp. By Nelsie Brook. Illustrated with six choice engravings, - - - - - - - - - 50

A most effective and interesting book, describing the downward course of the mother, and giving an account of the sad scenes, but effectual endeavors, of the little one in bringing her mother back to friends, and leading her to God. It should be read by everybody.

Drinking Fountain Stories, The. 12mo, 192 pp., - - - - - - - - 1 00

This book of illustrated stories for children contains articles from some of the best writers for children in America, and is beautifully illustrated with forty choice wood engravings.

Dumb Traitor, The. 12mo, 336 pp. By Margaret E. Wilmer, - - - - - 1 25

Intensely interesting, showing how the prospects of a well-to-do New England family were blighted through the introduction of a box of wine, given in friendship, used as a medicine, but proving a dumb traitor in the end.

Eva's Engagement Ring. 12mo, 189 pp. By Margaret E. Wilmer, author of "The Little Girl in Black," - - - - - 90

In this interesting volume is traced the career of the moderate drinker, who takes a glass in the name of friendship or courtesy.

Echo Bank. 18mo, 269 pp. By Ervie, 85

This is a well-written and deeply interesting narrative, in which is clearly shown the suffering and sorrow that too often follow, and the danger that attend boys and young men at school and at college who suppose they can easily take a glass or two occasionally without fear of ever being aught more than a moderate drinker.

Esther Maxwell's Mistake. 18mo, 236 pp. By Mrs. E. N. Janvier, - - - - 1 00

This book is full of Gospel truth, and written in a simple but earnest style, showing the utter absurdity of endeavoring to forget trouble by the use of strong drink, which Esther, like many others, found soon formed habits not easily broken.

Fanny Percy's Knight Errant. 12mo, 267 pp. By Mary Graham, - - - - 1 00

An admirably written story, illustrating the power of individual effort and the importance of early enlisting the young in Christian work and the cause of total abstinence.

Fatal Dower, The. 18mo, 220 pp. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, - - - - - - 60

It is truthful and convincing as well as interesting, showing the fatal effects of administering alcoholic poisons as medicines, and pointing out the snares and pitfalls which are so thickly strewn along the paths of the young and innocent.

Fire Fighters, The. 12mo, 294 pp. By Mrs. J. E. McConaughy, author of "The Hard Master," - - - - - - 1 25

An admirable story, showing how a number of young lads banded themselves into a society to fight against alcohol, and the good they did in the community.

Fred's Hard Fight. 12mo, 334 pp. By Miss Marion Howard, - - - - - - - $1 25

While it shows the trials which a young lad endured through the temptations and enticements offered him by those opposed to his firm temperance and religious principles, and warns the reader against the use of every kind of alcoholic stimulant, it points also to Jesus, the only true source of strength, urging all to accept the promises of strength and salvation offered to every one who will seek it.

Frank Spencer's Rule of Life. 18mo, 180 pp. By John W. Kirton, author of "Buy Your Own Cherries," "Four Pillars of Temperance," etc., - - - - - - 50

This is written in the author's best style, making an interesting and attractive story for children.

Frank Oldfield; or, Lost and Found. 12mo, 408 pp., - - - - - - - 1 50

This excellent story received the prize of £100 in England, out of eighty-three manuscripts submitted; and by an arrangement with the publishers we publish it in this country with all the original illustrations. It is admirably adapted to Sunday-school libraries.

Gertie's Sacrifice; or, Glimpses at Two Lives. 18mo, 189 pp. By Mrs. F. D. Gage, - - - - - - - - - 50

A story of great interest and power, giving a "glimpse at two lives," and showing how Gertie sacrificed herself as a victim of fashion, custom, and law.

Glass Cable, The. 12mo, 288 pp. By Margaret E. Wilmer, author of "The Little Girl in Black," "Eva's Engagement Ring," etc., - - - - - - - - - 1 25

The style of this book is good, the characters well selected, and its temperance and religious truths most excellent. The moral of the story shows those who sneer at a child's pledge, comparing its strength to a glass cable, that it is in many cases strong enough to brave the storms and temptations of a whole lifetime.

Hard Master, The. 18mo, 278 pp. By Mrs. J. E. McConaughy, author of "One Hundred Gold Dollars," and other popular Sunday-school books, - - - - - - - 85

This interesting narrative of the temptations, trials, hardships, and fortunes of a poor orphan boy, illustrates in a most striking manner the value of "right principles," especially of honesty, truthfulness, and Temperance.

Harker Family, The. 12mo, 336 pp. By Emily Thompson, - - - - - - 1 25

A simple, spirited, and interesting narrative, written in a style especially attractive, depicting the evils that arise from intemperance, and the blessings that followed the earnest efforts of those who sought to win others to the paths of total abstinence. Illustrated with three engravings. The book will please all.

History of a Threepenny Bit. 18mo, 216 pp., - - - - - - - - - - 75

This is a thrilling story, beautifully illustrated with five choice wood engravings. The story of little Peggy, the drunkard's daughter, is told in such a simple yet interesting manner that no one can read it without realizing more than ever before the nature and extent of intemperance, and sympathizing more than ever with the patient, suffering victim. It should be in every Sunday-school library.

History of Two Lives, The. By Mrs. Lucy E. Sandford. 18mo, 132 pp. A Tale of actual fact, with an able introduction by Rev. S. I. Prime, D.D., - - - - - - - - 50

The incidents are presented in dramatic and impressive terms which cannot fail to make a deep impression on the reader.

Hopedale Tavern, and What it Wrought. 12mo, 252 pp. By J. Wm. Van Namee, 1 00

It shows the sad results which followed the introduction of a Tavern and Bar in a beautiful and quiet country town, whose inhabitants had hitherto lived in peace and enjoyment. The contrast is too plainly presented to fail to produce an impression on the reader, making all more desirous to abolish the sale of intoxicants.

Hole in the Bag, and Other Stories, The. By Mrs. J. P. Ballard, author of "The Broken Rock," etc., 12mo, - - - - - $1 00

A collection of well-written stories by this most popular author on the subject of Temperance, inculcating many valuable lessons in the minds of its readers.

How Could He Escape? 12mo, 324 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright, author of "Jug-or-Not," etc., illustrated with ten engravings, designed by the author, - - - - - 1 25

This is a true tale, and one of the writer's best productions. It shows the terrible effects of even one glass of intoxicating liquor upon the system of one unable to resist its influences, and the necessity of grace in the heart to resist temptation and overcome the appetite for strong drink.

Humpy Dumpy. 12mo, 316 pp. By Rev. J. J. Dana, - - - - - - - - 1 25

In this book, a corner-grocery, where liquor is freely sold, becoming the resort of all the loungers and drinkers, is the source of much evil, and a mission-school, by its Christian teachings, the means of rescuing many from the downward road.

Jewelled Serpent, The. 12mo, 271 pp. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, author of "Adopted," "The McAllisters," etc., - - - - 1 00

The story is written earnestly. The characters are well delineated, and taken from the wealthy and fashionable portion of a large city. The evils which flow from fashionable drinking are well portrayed, and also the danger arising from the use of intoxicants when used as medicine, forming an appetite which fastens itself with a deadly hold upon its victim.

John Bentley's Mistake. 18mo, 177 pp. By Mrs. M. A. Holt, - - - - - 50

It takes an important place among our temperance books, taking an earnest, bold stand against the use of cider as a beverage, proving that it is often the first step toward stronger drinks, forming an appetite for the more fiery liquids which cannot easily be quenched.

Job Tufton's Rest. 12mo, 332 pp., - 1 25

A story of life's struggles, written by the gifted author, CLARA LUCAS BALFOUR, depicting most skilfully and truthfully many a life-struggle with the demon of intemperance occurring all along life's pathway. It is a finely written story, and full of interest from the beginning to the end.

Jug-or-Not. 12mo 346 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright, author of "Best Fellow in the World," "Nothing Drink," etc., - 1 25

It is one of her best books, and treats of the physical and hereditary effects of drinking in a clear, plain, and familiar style, adapted to popular reading, and which should be read by all classes in the community, and find a place in every Sunday-school library.

Life Cruise of Captain Bess Adams, The. 12mo, 413 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright, 1 50

A sea-story, filled with thrilling adventures on the deep, and intensely interesting scenes on land in the midst of a quaint old sea-coast town, proving effectually that alcoholic drinks are not needed on shipboard or on land, and should be absolutely banished. The brave Christian character of Captain Adams and the heroism of his daughter Bess, together with the pure religious tone pervading every page, make this one of the most interesting books ever written.

Little Girl in Black. 12mo, 212 pp. By Margaret E. Wilmer, - - - - - 90

Her faith in God, who she believes will reclaim an erring father, is a lesson to the reader, old as well as young.

McAllisters, The. 18mo, 211 pp. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, - - - - - - - - 50

It shows the ruin brought on a family by the father's intemperate habits, and the strong faith and trust of the wife in that Friend above, who alone gives strength to bear our earthly trials.

Model Landlord, The. 18mo, 202 pp. By Mrs. M. A. Holt, author of "John Bentley's Mistake," "Work and Reward," etc., $0 60

It shows how a "model landlord" who keeps a gilded saloon for fashionable wine-drinkers, though he may attend church, give money to the poor, and circulate in the "first society," may be the greatest instrument in leading the young down to destruction.

More Excellent Way, A, and Other Stories. By M. E. Winslow. 12mo, 217 pages. 1 00

The stories are full of interest, penetrated throughout by a thoroughly Christian spirit. The author is well known as a pleasing, vivacious writer, whose characters are well drawn and true to life. The incidents given here are real and well known to the author.

Mr. Mackenzie's Answer. 12mo, 352 pp. By Faye Huntington, - - - - - 1 25

This is one of this popular author's best books, and the influence for good or evil which a woman may exert is vividly pictured, and the lesson of temperance it teaches is one that every woman should heed. It should be read by every one, and have a place in every Sabbath-School and family library.

National Temperance Orator, The. 12mo, 288 pp. By Miss L. Penney, - - 1 00

This is issued in response to the many urgent calls for a book similar to the "New Temperance Speaker," used widely throughout the country. It contains articles by the best temperance writers of the day, poems, recitations, readings, dialogues, and choice extracts from speeches of some of the ablest temperance speakers in the country, for the use of all temperance workers, Lodges Divisions Bands of Hope, etc., etc.

Nettie Loring. 12mo, 352 pp. By Mrs. Geo. S. Downs, - - - - - - - 1 25

It graphically describes the doings of several young ladies, who resolved to use their influence on the side of Temperance, and banish wine from their entertaiments, the scorn they excited, and the good results which followed.

Norman Brill's Life Work. By Abby Eldridge. 12mo, 218 pp., - - - 1 00

A book of rare merit and unexceptionable religious tone, showing the power of little things, and the value of a word rightly spoken. The simple words of a text, "Every man to his work," changed the thoughts and life of Norman Brill, who had hitherto lived only for his own pleasure, making him an earnest, sincere Christian and effectual temperance worker, doing much to reform the society in which he moved of its wine-drinking habits, and persuading others to start on the better life.

Nothing to Drink. 12mo, 400 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright, author of "The Best Fellow in the World," "Jug-or-Not," "How Could he Escape?" etc., - - - 1 50

The story is of a light-house keeper and thrilling adventures at sea, being nautical, scientific, and partly statistical; written in a charming, thrilling, and convincing manner. It goes out of the ordinary line entirely, most of the characters being portraits; its scenery all from absolute facts; every scientific and natural-history statement a verity; the sea incidents from actual experiences from marine disasters for the last ten years.

Old Brown Pitcher, The. 12mo, 222 pp. By the author of "Susie's Six Birth-days," "The Flower of the Family," etc., - 1 00

Beautifully illustrated. This admirable volume for boys and girls, containing original stories by some of the most gifted writers for the young, will be eagerly welcomed by the children. It is adapted alike for the family circle and the Sabbath-school library.

Old Times. 12mo, 351 pp. By Miss M. D. Chellis, author of "The Temperance Doctor," "Out of the Fire," "Aunt Dinah's Pledge," "At Lion's Mouth," etc., - - - - - - 1 25

It discusses the whole subject of moderate drinking in the history of a new England village. The incidents, various and amusing, are all facts, and the characters nearly all drawn from real life. The five deacons which figure so conspicuously actually lived and acted as represented.

Out of the Fire. 12mo, 420 pp. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, - - - $1 25

It is one of the most effective and impressive Temperance books ever published. The evils of the drinking customs of society, and the blessings of sobriety and total abstinence, are strikingly developed in the history of various families in the community.

Our Parish. 18mo, 252 pp. By Mrs. Emily Pearson, - - - - - - - - - 75

The manifold evils resulting from the "still" to the owner's family, as well as to the families of his customers, are truthfully presented. The characters introduced, such as are found in almost every good-sized village, are well portrayed. We can unhesitatingly commend it, and bespeak for it a wide circulation.

Packington Parish, and The Diver's Daughter. 12mo, 327 pp. By M. A. Paull, 1 25

In this volume we see the ravages which the liquor traffic caused when introduced in a hitherto quiet village, and how a minister's eyes were at length opened to its evils, though he had always declared wine to be a "good creature of God," meant to be used in moderation.

Paul Brewster & Son. By Helen A. Chapman. 12mo, 238 pp., - - - - - 1 00

A book of intense interest. Paul Brewster and Son were extensive liquor dealers and manufacturers, whose gains were large, and their business productive of evil on the community. A noble example is given in the character of the son, who, his conscience being awakened, diligently studied his mother's Bible, and, becoming convinced that his business was not lawful in the sight of God, voluntarily abandoned it. It is a book which strongly holds up the Bible as the rule of life, and a sure guide in all cases of perplexity and doubt.

Philip Eckert's Struggles and Triumphs. 18mo, 216 pp. By the author of "Margaret Clair," - - - - - - - - - 60

This interesting narrative of a noble, manly boy, in an intemperate home, fighting with the wrong and battling for the right, should be read by every child in the land.

Pitcher of Cool Water, The. 18mo, 180 pp. By T. S. Arthur, - - - - - - 50

This little book consists of a series of Temperance stories, handsomely illustrated, written in Mr. ARTHUR'S best style, and is altogether one of the best books which can be placed in the hands of children. Every Sunday-school library should possess it.

Rachel Noble's Experience. 18mo, 325 pp. By Bruce Edwards, - - - - - 90

This is a story of thrilling interest, ably and eloquently told, and is an excellent book for Sunday-school libraries. It is just the book for the home circle, and cannot be read without benefiting the reader and advancing the cause of Temperance.

Red Bridge, The. 18mo, 321 pp. By Thrace Talman, - - - - - - - - - 90

We have met with few Temperance stories containing so many evidences of decided ability and high literary excellence as this.

Roy's Search; or, Lost in the Cars. 12mo, 364 pp. By Helen C. Pearson, - - 1 25

This book is one of the most interesting ever published—written in a fresh, sparkling style, especially adapted to please the boys, and contains so much that will benefit as well as amuse and interest, that we wish all the boys in the land might read it.

Rev. Dr. Willoughby and his Wine. 12mo, 458 pages. By Mrs. Mary Spring Walker, author of "The Family Doctor," etc., - - - - - - - - - 1 50

This thrillingly interesting book depicts in a vivid manner the terrible influence exerted by those who stand as the servants of God, and who sanction the social custom of wine-drinking. It is fair and faithful to the truth. It is not a bitter tirade against the church or the ministry. On the contrary, it plainly and earnestly acknowledges that the ministry is the friend of morality, and the great bulwark of practical virtue.

Seymours, The. 12mo, 231 pp. By Miss L. Bates, - - - - - - - - - $1 00

A simple story, showing how a refined and cultivated family are brought low through the drinking habits of the father; their joy and sorrow as he reforms only to fall again, and his final happy release in a distant city.

Silver Castle. By Margaret E. Wilmer. 12mo, 340 pages, - - - - - - 1 25

This is a sequel to "The Dumb Traitor," published not long since by this Society, following out the lives of the characters introduced therein, and introducing others equally interesting. It is full of interest from beginning to end, showing the happiness arising from a life consecrated to God's service, and proving conclusively that total abstinence is the only safe rule, and should be adopted early in life.

Temperance Doctor, The. 12mo, 370 pp. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, - - 1 25

This is a true story, replete with interest, and adapted to Sunday-school and family reading. In it we have graphically depicted the sad ravages that are caused by the use of intoxicating beverages; also, the blessings of Temperance, and what may be accomplished by one earnest soul for that reform. It ought to find readers in every household.

Temperance Speaker, The. By J. N. Stearns, - - - - - - - - - 75

This book contains 288 pages of Declamations and Dialogues suitable for Sunday and Day-Schools, Bands of Hope, and Temperance Organizations. It consists of choice selections of prose and poetry, from the Temperance orators and writers of the country.

Temperance Anecdotes. 12mo, 288 pp., 1 00

This new book of Temperance anecdotes, edited by George W. Bungay, contains nearly four hundred anecdotes, witticisms, jokes, conundrums, etc., original and selected, and will meet a want long felt and often expressed by a very large number of the numerous friends of the cause in the land. The book is handsomely illustrated with twelve choice wood engravings.

Tom Blinn's Temperance Society, and other Stories. 12mo, 316 pp., . . 1 25

This is the title of a new book written by T. S. ARTHUR, the well-known author of "Ten Nights in a Bar-room," and whose fame as an author should bespeak for it a wide circulation. It is written in Mr. ARTHUR'S best style, composed of a series of tales adapted to every family and library in the land.

Time Will Tell. 12mo, 307 pp. By Mrs. Wilson, - - - - - - - - - 1 00

A Temperance tale of thrilling interest and unexceptionable moral and religious tone. It is full of incidents and characters of every-day life, while its lessons are plainly and forcibly set before the reader. The pernicious results of the drinking usages in the family and social circle are plainly set forth.

Tim's Troubles. 12mo, 350 pp. By M. A. Paull, - - - - - - - - - 1 50

This is a second Prize Book of the United Kingdom Band of Hope Union, reprinted in this country with all the original illustrations. It is the companion of "Frank Oldfield," written in a high tone, and will be found a valuable addition to our Temperance literature.

Vow at the Bars. 18mo, 108 pp., - 40

It contains four short tales, illustrating four important principles connected with the Temperance movement, and is well adapted for the family circle and Sabbath-school libraries.

Wealth and Wine. 12mo, 320 pp. By Miss Mary Dwinell Chellis, author of "Temperance Doctor," "At Lion's Mouth," - - - 1 25

This book is written in her best style, showing the deception of the winecup and the power of woman's influence, together with the evil influence of social and moderate drinking. The immense power for good of a human soul when inspired to work for the good of others is graphically portrayed. Its moral and Christian tone is excellent, and none can fail to be profited by its teaching.

White Rose, The. By Mary J. Hedges. 12mo, 320 pp., - - - - - - - $1 25

The gift of a simple white rose was the means of leading those who cared for it to the Saviour. How it was done is very pleasantly told, and also the wrongs resulting in the use of strong drink forcibly shown.

Work and Reward. 18mo, 183 pp. By Mrs. M. A. Holt, - - - - - - - 50

It shows that not the smallest effort to do good is lost sight of by the all-knowing Father, and that faith and prayer must accompany all temperance efforts.

Zoa Rodman. 12mo, 262 pp. By Mrs. E. J. Richmond, - - - - - - - $1 00

Adapted more especially to young girls' reading, showing the influence they wield in society, and their responsibility for much of its drinking usages.

MISCELLANEOUS PUBLICATIONS.

Alcohol: Its Place and Power. By James Miller: and The Use and Abuse of Tobacco. By John Lizars, - - - 1 00

Alcohol: Its Nature and Effects. By Charles A. Story, M.D., - - - - - 90

This is a thoroughly scientific work, yet written in a fresh, vigorous, and popular style, in language that the masses can understand. It consists of ten lectures carefully prepared, and is an entirely new work by one amply competent to present the subject.

Bacchus Dethroned. 12mo, 248 pp. By Frederick Powell, - - - - - 1 00

This is an English prize essay, written in response to a prize offered by James Teare, of England, for the best temperance essay. It is one of the ablest and most convincing works ever issued. The question is presented in all its phases, physiological, social, political, moral, and religious. It is very comprehensive, multiplying facts, abounding in arguments, answering objections, and enforcing powerful and pathetic appeals. The author considers: 1. The great national curse. 2. The supposed dietetic value of alcoholic beverages. 3. The physiological relations of intoxicating liquors. 4. The social and political argument. 5. The manufacture of intoxicating liquor an immorality. 6. Teetotalism a scientific truth. 7. Teetotalism in relation to the Bible. 8. God's great remedy for the world's great curse. 9. Legislation and the liquor-traffic.

Band of Hope Manual. Per doz., - 60

This valuable work contains directions how to form Bands of Hope, with Constitution for the same, and a Band of Hope Ritual for the admission of New Members, Opening and Closing Ceremonies, together with Dialogues, Recitations, Hymns, etc., which make it the most complete Manual ever published.

Bases of the Temperance Reform, The. 12mo, 224 pp. By Rev. Dawson Burns, 1 00

A very able and thorough exposition of the foundations on which the temperance cause is founded and upbuilt. The author establishes in a clear and satisfactory manner the proposition that the drinking system is the greatest social evil in the land, and that intoxicating liquors are useless and injurious as articles of diet; that intemperance is a true plague which can only be effectually suppressed by the exclusion of intoxicating drinks; that violence is done to the will of God and the welfare of man by appropriating the fruits of the earth to the production of intoxicating drinks; that the sacred Scriptures do not afford sanction to the use of intoxicating liquors.

Bound Volume of Tracts. No. 1. 500 pp. 1 00

This volume contains all the four, eight, and twelve page tracts published by the National Temperance Society from No. 1 to 100.

Delavan's Consideration of the Temperance Argument and History, - 1 50

This condensed and comprehensive work contains Essays and Selections from different authors, collected and edited by EDWARD C. DELAVAN, Esq., and is one of the most valuable text-books on the subject of temperance ever issued.

Drops of Water. 12mo, 133 pp. By Miss Ella Wheeler, - - - - - - - 75

A new book of fifty-six Temperance Poems by this young and talented authoress, suitable for reading in Temperance Societies, Lodge Rooms, Divisions, etc. The simplicity of manner, beauty of expression, earnestness of thought, and nobleness of sentiment, running through all of them, make this book a real gem, worthy a place by the side of any of the poetry in the country.

Four Pillars of Temperance. By J. W. Kirton, - - - - - - - 75

The Four Pillars are Reason, Science, Scripture, and Experience. The book is argumentative, historical, and statistical and the facts, appeals, and arguments are presented in a most convincing and masterly manner.

Forty Years' Fight with the Drink Demon. 12mo, 400 pp. By Chas. Jewett, M.D. $1 50

This volume comprises the history of Dr. Jewett's public and private labors from 1826 to the present time, with sketches of the most popular and distinguished advocates of the cause in its earlier stages.

On Alcohol. By Benjamin W. Richardson, M.A., M.D., F.R.S., of London, with an introduction by Dr. Willard Parker of New York. 12mo, 190 pages; paper covers, 50 cents; cloth, 1 00

This is a new book, containing the "Cantor Lectures" on Alcohol, recently delivered before the Society of Arts. These justly celebrated lectures, six in number, embrace a historical sketch of alcoholic distillation, and the results of an exhaustive scientific enquiry concerning the nature of alcohol and its effects upon the human body and mind. They have attracted much attention throughout Great Britain, both among physicians and general readers, and are the latest and best scientific expositions of alcohol and its effects extant. A copy should find a place in the library of every physician and clergyman, and in all public libraries throughout the land.

Our Wasted Resources; or, The Missing Link in the Temperance Reform. By Wm. Hargreaves. 12mo, 220 pp., - - 1 25

This book presents in a new and striking light the economic aspect of the temperance question. It includes a series of fourteen elaborate and carefully prepared tables, the result of many months of painstaking labor, which give from official sources an exhibit of our immense agricultural, manufacturing, and mining resources; the yield of our fisheries; the extent, value, and receipts of our railways; the growth of our exports and imports during the last fifty years; the number of persons employed and the wages paid in connection with our varied industries, etc. The book also presents, in a more complete form than they have ever before been given to the public, well-authenticated statistics of the liquor-traffic, showing the quantity and cost of intoxicating drinks; the number of persons employed in the manufacture and sale of liquors; the expenditures for crime and pauperism caused by the drink-traffic; and the material benefit which would accrue, especially to the laboring classes, to the cause of education and religion, and the ease with which our national debt could be paid, if the great drink-waste were stopped. It is a book of profound interest and importance, not only to all friends of temperance, but to the intelligent public generally. It should be in the hands of every voter, of all legislators, journalists, clergymen, and temperance speakers, and find a place in every public library.
